BIKES DOMINATE THE STREETS AROUND TERRA COTTA

Monday was a time for cyclists and cycling enthusiasts to take up the local roads as the 12th annual Tour de Terra Cotta went ahead as planned. There were numerous events for riders of just about any age. The main event was the Elite Road Race, consisting of 104 kilometres. The competitors are seen here completing the second of 12 laps. Turn to page A13 for more on the races.

Five small road projects explained at open house

By Bill Rea

Class environmental assessments are taking place for five small road projects on deck in the Town of Caledon.

The Town hosted a public open house in Caledon village to explain them last week.

Most of these sites will see work involving slope stabilization and repairing cracked pavement. There are also plans to install guard rails at some of these locations, and replace or extend culverts.

Project Manager Jeff Dunlop, of Candevcon Limited, said the plan, at this time, is to have the projects go out to tender in April or May 2017, with work commencing around May or June.

Information provided at the open house stated the Town has identified five stretches where “road condition and slope stability has progressively worsened over the years to the point where regular maintenance is no longer a viable option.

One of the stretches is on Mississauga Road, roughly between Cataraugus Road and Forks of the Credit Road. The problems identified there include edge cracking in the pavement, slope instability at the sides of the road and guard rails that are either substandard or missing. Dunlop said this stretch of road is about 350 metres. There are no guard rails, except at the south end, and they will be installed where warranted, according to design criteria.

The second location is on The Grange Sideroad, west of Mountinview Road. This consists of about 150 metres, and the concerns here include progressive edge cracking, slope instability and deterioration of a headwall or retaining wall. This stretch of road crosses a tributary of the Humber River. Dunlop said the work will include culvert replacement and lowering, reconstruction of the road, slope stabilization and replacement of the headwall.

The third stretch is along Kennedy Road, south of High Point Sideroad, which Dunlop said consists of about 100 metres. The issues at this site include edge cracking, slope instability and a perched culvert, meaning it's too high for the stream and creates a barrier for fish. The planned work will involve replacing the culvert, road reconstruction, slope stabilization and the installation of guard rails to ensure roadside safety.

The fourth side is about 100 metres on Innis Lake Road, south of Finnerty Sideroad. The concerns at this location include an old timber retaining wall which is failing, an unstable embankment and a channel that's migrating into the road embankment. The plans call for reconstruction of the roadway, slope stabil-

PCs angry the government wasted $70 million on ORPP

By Bill Rea

Ontario’s Liberal government is taking a lot of credit for strengthening retirement security for workers, but the Progressive Conservative opposition is of the opinion that a lot of money has been wasted.

The government’s effort was focused on the Ontario Retirement Pension plan (ORPP).

The government is boasting that they, along with the Ontario Retirement Pension Plan Administration Corporation (ORPP AC) spent up to $70 million between 2013 and 2016 to develop and start implementing the plan.

But Dufferin-Caledon MPP Sylvia Jones called it “70 million dollars for nothing.”

Finance Minister Charles Sousa and Associate Finance Minister Indira Naidoo-Harris issued a joint statement last Thursday acknowledging the agreement reached with the federal government in June to enhance the Canada Pension Plan (CPP).

The statement pointed out that the Liberals had promised to improve retirement security during the 2014 provincial election campaign through ORPP, and they ended up forming a majority government after that election.

They also pointed out that many Ontarians are unable to save enough to maintain their standard of living after retirement.

“This can lead to a substantial savings gap for too many Ontario workers in retirement,” the statement said.

“Since 2013, Ontario has advocated for an enhancement to the Canada Pension Plan,” the statement read. “When the previous federal government refused to act, we moved forward in 2014 with the ORPP. Ontario’s determination to provide enhanced retirement security for workers by establishing the ORPP was a catalyst in reaching a national consensus on CPP enhancement.”

The government continued with its efforts while waiting to see what enhancement were coming.

“The Provincial Liberals kept spending money to ramp up a program that was not necessary,” Jones charged.

She was also annoyed that the government created a position for Naidoo-Harris, complete with a driver and staff, and it seems she’s got nothing to do.

“We get frustrated and, hopefully, we remember,” she added, pointing to the Provincial debt of some $300 billion.

“Sadly, this is yet another example of Liberal waste and mismanagement at the expense of Ontarians’ hard-earned tax dollars, just like the $2 billion gas plant scandal we are still paying for,” commented York Simcoe MPP Julia Munro, Progressive Conservative (PC) critic for ORPP. “In typical Liberal fashion, this government needlessly and recklessly pushed their agenda forward, putting politics ahead of Ontario’s best interest.”

“Getting the CPP enhancement could have cost a plane ticket to Vancouver,” Munro added in a statement issued by the PC Caucus. “Instead the government wasted $70 million.”

Private properties will not be impacted zation, extension of culverts and removal of that retaining wall. Dunlop said the culvert will be replaced and extended slightly.

The fifth stretch of road involves about 100 metres on Finnerty, west of The Gore Road. The concerns at this location include a deteriorating head wall, and unstable embankment and a channel which is flowing against the embankment. The plan is for road reconstruction, slope stabilization, extension of a culvert and removal of the retaining wall.

The Town anticipates there will be no impact on private property from this work, although it might be necessary to have access to some private land. Also, regarding the planned work on Kennedy Road, there have been called for pavement improvement further south, and those issues have been passed onto the Town. There have also been calls for work on Olde Base Line Road, near the Cheltenham Badlands, and those matters have been referred to Peel Region.

Another WNV-positive pool found

This is shaping up to be a rather quiet year on the West Nile Virus (WNV) front. Peel Public Health reports the last week in July saw another WNV-positive mosquito pool in the region. This was the second of the year and it was found in Brampton. The first one was found earlier in the month in Mississauga.

There have been a total of four positive pools in Ontario so far this year; the two in Peel, another in Halton Region and the fourth in Perth district. Those are the only ones that have been reported in Canada.

There have been no human cases of WNV illness reported.

To date, there have been 51 human cases of WNV in the United States, including 18 in Arizona and 7 in Texas.

Peel Public Health is continuing with its surveillance program. It began June 19. Adult mosquitoes are collected weekly from mosquito traps at 31 fixed locations throughout the region until late September.

To date, 170 mosquito batches have been tested for WNV.

The mosquito reduction includes larviciding, which involves applying environmentally-friendly products to reduce mosquito larvae in stagnant water.

Peel's larviciding program started June 1 and will continue until Sept. 30. It takes three weeks to complete a round of larviciding. There will be three rounds of roadside catch basin larviciding this year. The first round of roadside catch basin larviciding was completed July 15. Larviciding crews are currently starting the second round of catch basin treatments in Mississauga. The second round is indicated by a purple dot affixed to the catch basin grate.

Larviciding of catch basins in the green spaces of parks in Peel has been completed. The treatment of surface water sites on public lands is ongoing.

The Region is reminding residents they can reduce the risk of WNV by removing stagnant water on their property. Empty or dispose of containers that can hold water, such as old tires, wheelbarrows, barrels, pails, toys and recycling bins; turn over wading pools, remove water that collects on pool covers; and make sure swimming pool pumps are circulating.

People can also protect themselves from being bitten by mosquitoes by avoiding areas with large numbers of mosquitoes; wearing light-coloured clothing, including long sleeves, long pants, socks and a hat whenever outdoors (even in the backyard), especially at dusk and at dawn; and using an insect repellent and applying it according to the manufacturer's directions

Old School Road to be closed for work

Starting Aug. 3, Old School Road will be closed between Highway 10 and Kennedy Road.

The closure is expected to last two to three weeks. It's being closed to allow for the rehabilitation of a culvert.

The last accessible emergency access number from Highway 10 will be 3441. There are no emergency access numbers from Kennedy Road.

“Biker’s Having Fun and Giving Back-HOGs ‘Bike Night’ raises funds for kids in need” by Nicole Dumanski & Shona Lauzon

The Hurtin' Old Guys or HOGs, a Caledon-based motorcycle group has made helping kids their mission.

There’s a well-known saying ‘It takes a village to raise a child. Locally you could say, “It takes a group of bikers to raise a child.’

Wednesday’s throughout the summer is “Bike Night.” You can find the HOGs at the newly renovated St. Louis Bar & Grill, 301 Queen St. S., Bolton at 7 p.m.

Fern and Steve are generous in their praise of the community and the sponsors. “We couldn’t do what we do without the outstanding support,” says Fern. St. Louis Bar & Grill matches the funds raised over the course of the summer, doubling the impact of the group’s efforts for children in need. A sponsor recognition banner is on display every Wednesday.

Over the years more than $20,000 has been raised for children right here at home.

When asked why he wanted to give back, Fern’s answer is simple, “Why not?” Selfless giving back to the community is something that everyone can do – ask yourself the question – then answer ‘Why not?’

To support children in Caledon affected by poverty, please give generously to Kidz in Caledon at www.ccs4u.org or by phone 905-584-2300 x 236.

Federal and Provincial governments announce funding to support broadband access to Caledon and beyond

The Federal and Provincial governments are investing $90 million dollars each in the Southwestern Integrated Fibre Technology (SWIFT) project

SWIFT supports the expansion of access to broadband by delivering fibre optic coverage to more than 350 communities across southwestern Ontario, including Caledon. The total project cost is estimated at $281 million.

“It’s a great day for Caledon,” said Mayor Allan Thompson. “To address this key priority, Caledon council approved the five-year tax levy in this year’s budget to leverage our investment. When you add that together with this funding, it goes a long way to connecting our communities. This is a perfect example of three levels of government working together to tackle an issue. We will get further and faster together.”

SWIFT represents 15 communities in southwestern Ontario, with more than three million residents currently underserved or with limited access to high-speed internet. The initiative is based on the principle that everyone in southwestern Ontario deserves access to high-speed internet, regardless of the size of their community, their age, education, or where they work. Internet service providers (ISP) in the private sector have determined that it is too expensive for them to buildout internet infrastructure in areas, such as Caledon, where the distance between customers is too great. SWIFT’s goal is to enable the expansion of fibre by lessening the financial burden of the initial capital investment.

“By providing better access to a wider variety of online tools and resources, we are increasing the potential for economic growth and diversification in these areas, not to mention enhancing residents’ quality of life,” said federal Innovation, Science and Economic Development Minister Naveep Singh Bains.

SWIFT aims to create an extensive fibre network that connects the entire region with service ranging from one up to 100 gigabits per second (Gbps), using a combination of public and private funding to address gaps in broadband infrastructure. It will build on existing fibre to create a far-reaching regional fibre network, bringing fibre closer to customers and making it easier for ISPs to connect homes and businesses to high-speed internet. The new funding will trigger private investment from ISPs, who will continue to own and operate their networks and deliver services directly to customers. All ISPs will have equal access to the fibre network.

“This project will bring critical broadband infrastructure to southwestern Ontario. High-speed internet will connect people and businesses to the resources they need to compete in the global marketplace and strengthen our economy,” said Infrastructure Minister Bob Chiarelli.

Caledon’s Broadband Levy

In January, Caledon council unanimously passed the Town’s 2016 budget, which included a special broadband levy in support of the development of a Town-wide high-speed internet (Fibre Optic) network. The southwestern Ontario fibre optic broadband network will be built through SWIFT, and will be owned and operated by private internet service provider(s). The levy will generate $300,000 per year and $1.2 to $1.5 million over four and five years, respectively. The plan is that this investment will translate into an approximate $22,500,000 fibre infrastructure buildout in Caledon once federal, provincial and private contributions are factored in. A broadband tax rate of 0.002067 per cent for residential properties was established for 2016. For example, is the broadband levy for properties assessed at $500,000, is $10.34 ($500,000 x .002067). The levy began with the 2016 final property tax bills and will continue until the buildout is complete.

NOTICE OF STUDY COMMENCEMENT

Environmental assessment studies for Dominion Street

THE STUDY:

The Town of Caledon has initiated a Schedule 'C' Class Environmental Assessment Study and preliminary design, including an assessment of alternatives and long-term solutions for providing safe access to Dominion Street.

Within the study area, Dominion Street consists of a rural two-lane roadway and a single lane bridge providing sole access to residential dwellings located on Dominion Street. Features of the study area include the Dominion Street bridge and a section of the Credit River. The study area also encompasses a segment of the Forks of the Credit Provincial Park.

The Study is being undertaken to investigate feasible bank stabilization and bridge rehabilitation activities in order to improve safety and access based on the current and future utilization of Dominion Street and the Dominion Street bridge. Alternative roadway re-alignments will be considered as part of this Class EA Study, but are limited given the site's significant deviation in topography. Techniques to protect the road from further movement and improve the overall embankment stability will also be investigated.

THE PROCESS:

The Study will be conducted in accordance with the planning and design process for Schedule 'C' projects as outlined in the Municipal Engineers Association "Municipal Class Environmental Assessment", (October 2000, as amended in 2015) and the MNRF Class EA for Provincial Parks and Conservation Reserves (September 2004, as amended in 2015), approved under the Ontario Environmental Assessment Act. The Class EA process includes public/external agency consultation, an evaluation of alternative solutions and alternative design concepts, an assessment of potential impacts associated with the proposed improvements, and the development of mitigation measures to identified potential impacts.

COMMENTS:

Public participation will form an integral part of the Schedule 'C' Class EA Study to ensure that the ongoing concerns of the public and affected groups within the study area are identified, documented and assessed. A minimum of two public information centres (PIC) will be held and advertised in advance to enable the public to meet the project team, and to provide feedback to better address the needs and opportunities of the study corridor. The first of two PICs is anticipated to be held in late fall/early winter 2016. Further Notice will be provided closer to the date of the PIC however, if you wish to have your name added to our email contact database, please contact one of the project managers listed below.

Belfountain Music Festival returning this month

In terms of music, the variety will be from Bach to pop.

That is what the Belfountain Music Festival will be offering this year.

The festival, presented by the Belfountain Heritage Society, will run from Aug. 13 to 21. All the concerts will be at Melville White Church, on Mississauga Road, south of Belfountain.

The festival will open Aug. 13 with a performance by The Gemsmen, starting at 8 p.m.

The Gemsmen are North America's only gemshorn quartet, performing a wide range of instrumental and vocal musical styles, specializing in mediaeval, Renaissance and The Unlikely.

Tenor Gemsman Hall Train will perform with Dean Burry, Ken Hall and Trevor Rines. Performing on traditional renaissance gemshorns, they will conduct an exciting musical journey through the ages, including selections by Susato, Ravenscroft, the Beatles and music from Star Wars and Game of Thrones.

The Accolade Trio will appear Aug. 14 at 8 p.m.

The trio includes Susan Black, who is both a pianist and a mezzo-soprano who has performed numerous recitals with soloists, as well as touring with a variety of choirs from across Canada; Mark Chambers, a conductor, cellist and early music specialist; and Patricia Wait, an associate professor and clarinet instructor in the Music Department at York University.

The schedule for Aug. 15 will include a workshop with Amber Ghent, entitled Body Mapping for Musicians, starting at 3:30 p.m.

This introductory workshop is designed for music educators and students in order to create more ease, freedom and expression in playing. Learn clear, concise information about the body and discover your own body map, and how it shapes movement. Come and meet Fred the skeleton and dress comfortably for movement explorations. Bring your own instrument.

Ghent is a certified Andover Educator who offers body mapping workshops and private lessons for performers, teachers and students of all ages.

Later in the afternoon of Aug. 15, there will be a Young Artist Concert, featuring students of Arco Violini, starting at 5 p.m.

Arco Violini is a chamber orchestra made up of highly advanced students under the direction of Dr. Zachary Ebin.

Aug. 15 will also feature an evening performance by the Madawaska Quartet, starting at 8 p.m.

The program will include works by Brahms and Schoenfield.

The Quartet has worked as chamber music faculty at the Royal Conservatory of Music in Toronto, also performing as part of its Great Artist Series, and has given workshops for students and emerging composers at the University of Toronto, York University, the Array New Music Centre, the Composers' Guild of Canada, and the Canadian Contemporary Music Workshop. It is also the quartet-in-residence at the University of Toronto (Scarborough Campus) Music Faculty for the 2015-2017 seasons.

An Evening of Solo Bach will take place Aug. 16, starting at 8 p.m.

It will feature Pierre Gagnon on viola, Ebin on violin, Chambers on cello and Pierre Yves Gagnon, a member of the Niagara Symphony as well as the Canadian Music Festival Adjudicators' Association. He teaches extensively in the area of Oakville and has been invited as a guest teacher at the Montreal Suzuki Institute, the Oakville Arts Day Camp and for workshops at several Suzuki programs in the Greater Toronto area. Ebin has performed extensively in the United States, Canada, and Israel. Active as a music educator, he is on the faculty of Etobicoke Suzuki Music and the Hammer Band, and serves as music director of Arco Violini.

The Caledon Concert Band will be performing Aug. 17 at 8 p.m.

There will be a Young Artists Concert: The Awesome Foursome Aug. 18 at 5:30 p.m.

There will be more local flavour Aug. 18 when The Golden Country Classics take to the stage Aug. 18 at 8 p.m. They have been playing old-time country dances, barbecues and parties together for eight years. All local farmers, the band is led by Rod Salisbury on the piano, with Brian Stevenson on drums, Sam Leitch on the fiddle, Wib Tupling on the guitar, and Lionel Gibney on the bass. They perform all over the GTA, and their performance at BMF is in memory of Tom Neelands, a former band member and good friend.

Aug. 19 will feature a Young Artists Concert: Suzuki Violin Play Down, starting at 5:30 p.m.

The Glenellen String Quartet will perform Aug. 19 at 8 p.m.

Consisting of Amanda Lee and Julia McFarlane on violins, Pamela Bettger on viola and Monica Fedrigo on cello, they started in 2003 as a string trio for a chamber music concert. They expanded in 2005 to become the Zonnenbloem Quartet, playing their first chamber concert in September 2006. In 2007 with the addition of McFarlane, the ensemble evolved to become the present day Glenellen String Quartet.

Also performing will be cellist Tova Rosenberg, who has recently returned to Canada after almost a decade of teaching and performing in New York City.

The Aug. 21 agenda will feature a Young Artist Concert: Arco Violini, starting at 5:30 p.m. The program will include works by Mozart, Vivaldi, Saint-Saens and more.

The festival will conclude Aug. 21 with a performance by local soprano Emily Vondrejs and Connor O'Kane on piano Vondrejs is currently working on a vocal performance music degree at Wilfrid Laurier University. She is studying with the Canadian soprano Leslie Fagan and pianist Lorin Shalanko, and performs regularly with the Maureen Forrester Singers.

Her hometown is Erin.

Connor O'Kane has a bachelor of music in piano performance from Wilfrid Laurier University. He spent part of his degree on exchange at the Conservatoire de Lyon, France. He looks forward to continuing his musical education next year as a Masters candidate at the University of Ottawa.

Glen Eagle organizes third annual Charity Golf Tournament for Bethell Hospice

Glen Eagle Golf Club will be hosting its third annual Charity Golf Tournament in support of Bethell Hospice Foundation. It will be Aug. 12. Presenting sponsor again this year is Cavalier Transportation Services along with Matching Gift Partner Scotiabank. Revolving around a fantastic experience on Glen Eagle's scenic championship course, the event features 18 holes of golf with a shared power cart, barbecue lunch prior to tee off, cocktail reception and silent auction after the round is completed, a four-course gourmet dinner, and great golf prizes. The shotgun start will be at 12:30 p.m., with registration opening at 10:30 a.m. Cocktails begin at 5 p.m., followed by dinner at 5:30. Registration is $175 per person, and there are still a few spaces available. Dinner only tickets are also available at $50 each. All proceeds raised will go toward maintaining Bethell Hospice programs and services. Bethell Hospice is the only residential hospice serving the Caledon, Brampton, Dufferin County and west Woodbridge areas, providing essential services such as bereavement, grief counselling, palliative and hospice care, at no cost to anyone in need. The facility relies on donors and events such as the Glen Eagle tournament for about 40 per cent of its annual operating costs.

Neville-Lake Family Memorial moves to Wellesley Park

Due to the overwhelming response from the community, organizers have moved the Neville-Lake Family Memorial to a new location. Hundreds of people are expected Aug. 14 at Wellesley Park in King City, to commemorate the three Neville-Lake children and their grandfather who were killed in a tragic drinking and driving crash in September in Vaughan. Organizers created this memorial for parents Ed and Jennifer so they would have a permanent place to honour their children and father. Jennifer Neville-Lake grew up in King City. Through donations from the community, organizers have planted four trees with plaques dedicated to the deceased children Daniel, Harry, Milly and their grandfather, Gary Neville at Kettle Lake Park. To accommodate the change in venue, the Township will be providing pictures of the memorial trees and the children at the new location to represent the original tribute. The event runs from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. The morning celebration starts at 11:30 a.m. with a dove release, with bubbles provided to children in attendance to blow during the release. Activities for the family include food trucks, Reptilia, jumping castles, face painting, mascots, music, etc. Donation boxes will be available on-site with all funds going directly to Jennifer and Ed Neville-Lake. Wellesley Park is on the northwest corner of King Road and Keele Street.

CERC hosting wine-pairing evening

The Caledon East Revitalization Committee (CERC) is holding its first Wine Pairing and Jazz tomorrow (Friday) at Glen Eagle Golf Club. The committee is hosting the event at 7 p.m. on the patio at Glen Eagle, accompanied by a jazz quartet featuring local musician Tyler Viaene on saxophone and keys, Juno award winning guitarist Andrew Scott and guest players on drums and bass. Come out for a night of wine pairings with gourmet food from Canada, U.S.A., Japan, Argentina, Italy, France and South Africa. Set up in a Marche style station format, be prepared to mingle and dance for only $75 per person. All proceeds from the event will be used to help beautify downtown Caledon East. In the short time that CERC has been together, it has been able to buy and set up banners and large planters along Airport Road, conduct business and resident surveys, sponsored local sports teams and helped local businesses grow and prosper through marketing initiatives. Tickets are still available and can be reserved by contacting Glen Eagle Golf club at events@gleneaglegolf.com or by phone to 905-880-0131, ext. 236, or call Jacqui Viaene at 416-919-5400.

CPCC launches 30x30 Nature Challenge

Caledon Parent-Child Centre (CPCC) are challenging young families throughout Caledon to spend more time in nature and develop new healthy habits. Inspired by the Ontario government and Ontario Parks as well as the David Suzuki Foundation's 30x30 Challenge, CPCC has decided to launch a CPCC 30x30 Nature Challenge. The CPCC challenge encourages young families with children aged six and younger to spend at least 30 minutes per day in nature for 30 days. The challenge began Aug. 1 and CPCC is helping make the challenge easy by sharing daily activities appropriate for very young children on CPCC social media sites each day. A complete list of ideas is available on the CPCC website. Participants in the daily challenges are encouraged to share photos of their adventures by emailing them to the CPCC at ssargent@cp-cc.org. All photos received will be shared in the 30x30 album on the CPCC Facebook page. Those who are interested in enjoying some quality time with family in Caledon's great outdoors can visit www.cp-cc.org to find out more about the CPCC 30x30 Nature Challenge. For adults of all ages or families with children that are older than six, activities and ideas for older children and adults can be obtained by visiting the Ontario Parks website at <http://bit.ly/2a5xNTt> or the David Suzuki 30x30 Challenge at <http://30x30.davidsuzuki.org/>

Rotary needs volunteers

The Bolton Rotary Rotaryfest is coming soon, and the club is looking for volunteers to help out at the event. It will run from Aug. 19 to 21 at Caledon Town Hall Park in Caledon East. This is seen as a great way to help support the community, as well as a way for students to earn community service credits. For more information, go to www.boltonrotaryfest.ca/volunteers/

Our Readers Write Region’s position a ‘disgrace’

Regarding “Region bypasses staff on Bolton expansion plans” (July 28)

Peel Regional council’s vote in favour of Option 6 (Solmar Development lands) as the next location for Bolton’s residential expansion is a disgrace.

What’s even more disgraceful is that Caledon Councillor Annette Groves was the sole Caledon representative to support it. Of course, that should come as no surprise to residents, even those who only follow municipal matters at a very cursory level.

The larger question, however, is why a majority of Mississauga and Brampton voted the way they did. One wonders if there hasn’t been strong lobbying by Solmar. This decision overturns years of work by the Town of Caledon in assessing six possible growth scenarios for the Bolton area.

It ultimately chose Option 3, or the lands on the north side of King Street near Humber Station Road. This was predicated, in part, that these lands have been identified as the site of a GO Train station.

Apparently the Option 3 consortium has proposed front-ending municipal infrastructure services interest free. That proposal undercuts suggestions by some Regional councillors, especially the Mississauga ones, they’re concerned about development servicing charges.

If allowed to move forward, the Option 3 lands would evolve into a community on par with Brampton’s very successful Mount Pleasant district, a pedestrian/transit oriented “mobility hub” community serviced by the GO Train, interconnecting bus services with bus lay-over stations and bike lanes.

Instead, Caledon will be saddled with even more sprawl as a result of the Region’s decision. As has been noted by Mayor Allan Thompson in print and online columns, Option 6 (again Solmar) came last on a sustainability index as part of the extensive assessment of the six growth scenarios.

Although Peel Region has authority over local planning, its decisions can be overturned by the province. Caledon residents who are enraged by what has transpired at the Region might consider writing Dufferin-Caledon MPP Sylvia Jones, asking her to raise this issue before the Legislature when it resumes in the fall.

Don’t be indifferent to regulating

Bill Rea make his point against more regulating as it pertains to people texting, phoning and catching Pokemons on public sidewalks, apparently initiated by some at Toronto’s City council (July 21).

They want the Province to step in to outlaw these activities and he opined that apparently the Province is not going to act on it.

I think the senior government should eagerly pick up on this request.

As he reported, “If some idiot is texting and smashes into a wall, then good for him.”

But we have also been mandated by law to wear seatbelt while riding in a car or wear helmets on motorcycles.

In both those cases, and perhaps others, it might be argued that if people are careless about themselves, let them.

However, this is not about saving citizens from themselves. But when they come to harm, they also become a burden on our very costly public health system, from doctors’ visits to ambulances and hospital stays.

And that is why we should not be indifferent to people smashing into stationary objects, let alone fellow users of public places such as pedestrians.

The alternative, of course, would be to let the miscreants who harm themselves pay their own medical expenses; but then it may become difficult to distinguish between foolhardiness and genuine, unprovoked accidents.

Rotary Club of Palgrave’s Weekly Rotary Minute

By Krysta Cadden

Sometimes as a Rotarian, in the small village of Palgrave, we get to witness something great happen many, many miles away.

This past year, our Club sponsored a school project in Venezuela in partnership with Asopica — a civil association founded in 2003 by a multi-disciplinary group of people committed to providing comprehensive care to families, children and adolescents who live along the axis San Fernando-Cinaruco in Apure State, Venezuela.

They created a Comprehensive School — Coromoto — in the Caño La Pica, the Mission Church Santo Cristo del Capanaparo in La Macanilla and social interventions in San Fernando de Apure, we develop educational, cultural, recreational and religious development-oriented projects sustainable and improving the quality of life in the area. The school enrolls 45 students in Grades 1 through 5.

Our Club, through the direction of our International Programs Director, Ricardo Aldrey, sponsored 45 children with a Padrino Program (aka the Godfather Program). This program provided each child with all of the essentials to go to school for one full year — clothing, toiletries, bedding, school supplies, medical treatments/vaccinations, and food/nourishment. The school is a boarding school where children attend for two weeks at a time.

In addition to this program, we provided funds to rebuild the structure that supports the solar panels (how they obtain power at the school) as the structure was damaged last year in storms.

To know that our Club — through the generosity of donations by community members such as yourselves — was able to provide the necessities to ensure 45 children received education this year is what being a Rotarian is all about.

THIS WEEK’S QUESTION
Who would you like to see as the next President of the United States?

a) Hillary Clinton
b) Donald Trump

So go to the website & cast a vote!

Conventional entertainment

So Donald Trump is going to be carrying the Republican colours in the upcoming presidential election south of the border, and Hillary Clinton is going to be doing the same for the Democrats.

I know I’m referring to the political situation in a foreign country, but it is also a country that has an enormous impact on our own. Many of you might not be interested in what’s going on in the United States, but I maintain you should be. As many of you who know me are aware, I’m something of a political animal. Because of my job, I have to keep up to date with the politics in my municipality, province and country. Because of my curiosity, I choose to keep track of some of the things going on in the States.

Two weeks ago, we saw the Republicans pick Trump as their candidate; something I would have said was next to impossible a couple of months ago. It’s not the first time I’ve been wrong about something, and I can assure you it won’t be the last. And as I’ve written many times before, there’s always plenty of room for surprises in any election cycle.

And last week, we saw Clinton get a similar nod from her party. That came as less of a surprise. The fact is that eight years ago, when she and Barack Obama were battling it out for the Democratic nomination, my money was on Hillary. I based that on the fact she would have better spin doctors at her disposal; the same spin doctors who helped keep her husband Bill from being bounced from office about a decade prior to that.

But enough of the past. This is 2016, and we’ve got our future to worry about. And the stage was set over the last couple of weeks with the conventions.

Conventions are a fun part of the American political system, and the Canadian system too, although they seem to be a dying breed up here. When I was studying politics in university more than 30 years ago, one of my professors told me conventions were not really part of the Canadian tradition, but something we picked up from the folks to the south. They don’t have them much any more, as the party membership at large now has more of a role in picking a leader. The last one I attended was in the mid 1990s, when Dalton McGuinty was elected Liberal leader in Ontario. I suspect that will be the last convention I ever get to, at least in this country.

But if my prof was right about it being a tradition we borrowed from the Yanks, I firmly believe it’s a tradition that they’re going to keep for some time to come.

Good for them!
The result has been two weeks of entertainment, as two political parties of the nearest convenient superpower try to hammer out who’s going to be in charge for next four years.

Alas, the demands of my job prevented me from seeing much the two conventions, but I was able to catch a good part of both of them, including the acceptance speeches, and the introductions, along with a lot of the other doings.

Whatever one might think of Donald Trump, there is no denying he raised some pretty impressive kids. And Clinton raised a pretty impressive daughter, although I got the feeling she is not too used to the limelight. No matter.

Both conventions had their moments, both positive and negative.

For example, Trump’s wife Melania has been criticized for having apparently plagiarized her remarks to the convention, borrowing from Michelle Obama’s address from eight years ago. I’m prepared to give Mrs. Trump a pass on that. True, had I borrowed someone else’s words in my writings and tried to pass them off as my own, there’d be hell to pay. On the other hand, I make my living writing in the only language with which I am intimately familiar (profanity notwithstanding). Mrs. Trump was addressing millions of people in a language other than her mother tongue, trying to promote her husband. A bit of a difference.

On the other hand what really caught my attention was the way my wife got into the conventions, especially the Republican. She started discussions with me about what she had seen on there tube. It is usually the case that when we discuss politics, I do the initiating. The problem was work-related demands caused me to miss a lot of the Republican production.

But it also seems that Beth was not alone. From what I have read and heard, the TV ratings for the Republican convention were a lot higher than those for the show put on by the Democrats.

I guess it boils down to the fact that a guy who I dismissed as a clown a couple of months ago might be the next President of the United States.

“Nobody knows the system better than me, which is why I alone am the only one who can fix it,” Trump said in his acceptance speech.

I think I’m in good company when I ask exactly how is the current system busted, but that’s Trump’s matter to address. The economy could be done better, but it’s not doing that bad. America has not recently endured a military or diplomatic embarrassment on the order of Vietnam or the Iranian hostage crisis. I just don’t see the problem that Trump seems to think needs solving.

And how highly regarded is Trump with the Republican hierarchy? There are two former Republican presidents who are still alive, both with the last name of Bush. Did we hear anything from either?

The Republicans did have their convention first, meaning the Democrats knew what kind of act they had to beat. That’s not always a big advantage.

Back in 1992, the Democrats had their convention first, with Bill Clinton coming out of it looking like a big boss in the making. I well remember then councillor Richard Whitehead, who was the highest ranking local liberal I was still on speaking terms with at the time, assuring me the election was already in the bag. And I reminded him that the Republicans had yet to have their turn, and incumbent George H.W. Bush was going to close the gap in short order.

If your memories need refreshing, Hillary’s husband won that election handily, and the late Mr. Whitehead had another reason (as if he needed any more) to admonish me to keep my yap shut when it came to making election predictions.

But there were parts of the Democrats convention that gave me the idea that they really have their act together. There were several tributes to fallen police officers, which one would have thought would be the domain of the Republicans.

The issue still has a couple of months in which to play out. Election day is early in November, with the new president taking office in January. At the present time, I’m predicting Americans are about to swear in their first woman president.

But we do know what my predictions are worth.

Progress being made on getting high-speed internet in Caledon

Caledon is well known for its green-spaces, trails, farm land, small urban and rural communities.

However, we are also fast becoming a cycling destination. The pinnacle cycling event in our town, Le Tour de Terra Cotta, kicks off the month of August on the Holiday Monday. This international event attracts more than 700 cyclists with over 1,200 cheering fans lining the challenging 8.68-kilometre scenic route. For more information on this world class event visit their website.

When was the last time you were in downtown Bolton? We have great local shops, restaurants and speciality stores that carry unique things you just won't find in a big box store. Don't let the construction stop you from visiting and shopping there, they are open and ready to serve you.

Later this month, Caledon will have a strong council delegation heading to Windsor for the AMO (Association of Municipalities in Ontario) conference. This is a time for us to meet with and share information and ideas with Provincial ministers and municipal leaders from across Ontario.

TALK OF THE TOWN

Mayor Allan Thompson

I have a white board in my office and in the top left corner is the number 671, that is how many comments and inquiries I have had about the lack of affordable, reliable high speed internet across our town. To address this, council dedicated a portion of our tax levy to invest in fibre infrastructure and we became a SWIFT (South Western Integrated Fibre Technology) partner municipality. This would allow us to leverage our investment. Last week, the federal and provincial governments announced funding ries I have had about the lack of affordable, reliable high speed internet across our town. To address this, council dedicated a portion of our tax levy to invest in fibre infrastructure and we became a SWIFT (South Western Integrated Fibre Technology) partner municipality. This would allow us to leverage our investment. Last week, the federal and provincial governments announced funding in the amount of $180 million dollars to help SWIFT build the fibre spine that will connect all of our communities. What does this mean to our future? It means we will be able to attract intelligent manufacturing, residents will have the bandwidth to support home based businesses and our children can upload their homework from the comfort of their homes. I was so proud to stand with my colleagues from SWIFT and our provincial and federal representatives to celebrate this key funding announcement. This is an aggressive project, stay tuned for more news and updates as we move forward.

Looking ahead, watch for information on public consultations for the 2017 budget, fall Coffee with Council sessions and a busy council calendar. In the meantime, make the most of the last half of the summer season.

Local perspective is essential for Trillium Foundation

Dufferin-Caledon is home to many active not-for-profit organizations that provide unique cultural and social services in our community.

Many of these organizations have accessed Ontario Trillium Foundation (OTF) funds to offer unique programs and infrastructure. For example, Theatre Orangeville recently received a $100,000 grant from Trillium to modernize their lighting system at the Orangeville Opera House. Other local organizations like Caledon Meals on Wheels, the Orangeville Blues and Jazz Fest, the Caledon Cycling Club, Caledon Community Services and the Island Lake Community Trails Project, have received funding from the OTF. Needless to say the funding from the OTF has provided great benefit to people in Dufferin-Caledon and across Ontario.

OTF relies on Grant Review Teams that

FROM QUEEN'S PARK

Sylvia Jones
MPP Dufferin-Caledon

are comprised of local volunteers who provide local knowledge and insight in order to ensure that grants meet a community's needs. Unfortunately, the government has allowed increasing number of vacancies to accumulate in Dufferin and Caledon's Grant Review Teams. Only 13 of 19 review team positions are filled in Waterloo-Wellington-Dufferin, while 17 of 20 positions are filled in Halton-Peel. Despite these vacancies, there is only one member in the regional review teams for the Town of Caledon. To make matters worse, I am aware of numerous well qualified individuals who are willing to volunteer and fill these vacancies, but have been waiting for more than a year to hear back about their application.

This lack of action to fill the vacancies is even more concerning given that representation will be further minimized if the proposed changes to the number of Grant Review Teams occur. Currently there are 16 review teams across the province. Under the proposed changes, that number would be reduced to five. By reducing the number of regions, there will be fewer local voices and less local knowledge provided when approving a grant for a local community initiative. This is precisely the opposite of what communities like Dufferin and Caledon need.

I have written to the CEO of the Ontario Trillium Foundation calling on her "to stop pursuing the 'regionally based model' and improve the process for filling vacancies to ensure local representation is maintained." If you agree I encourage you to email or write to the Ontario Trillium Foundation. If you have any questions or want help contacting the OTF do not hesitate to contact my office at sylvia.jonesco@pc.ola.org or 1-800-265-1603.

Woman charged with impaired

A 22-year-old woman from Caledon was charged June 19 after a Caledon OPP officer observed erratic driving.

Police report a black Mitsubishi was seen driving in the oncoming lane.

The woman was charged with impaired driving, driving with more than the legal limit of alcohol in her system and possession of a schedule II substance (marijuana).

Her licence was suspended on the spot for 90 days, and the vehicle was impounded for seven days.

Anyone's guess who will win it

NATIONAL AFFAIRS

Claire Hoy

Barely a day passes, alas, without news of yet another horrific murderous rampage by either ISIS or some other look-alike radical Islamic terrorist organization.

You would think that as the death toll continues to mount around the world, the subject of what to do about the terrorists would be the top-of-mind topic for any politician running for the top office in the land.

Well, think again. At least when it comes to Hillary Clinton and the Democratic Party.

Since neither Clinton nor current President Barack Obama refuse to even use the term "radical Islamists," it should not be the greatest surprise that, as syndicated columnist Charles Krauthammer pointed out recently, during the first night of the Democratic convention in Philadelphia, "there were 61 speeches. Not one mentioned the Islamic State of Iraq and the Levant, or even terrorism."

Not one. Think of that.

We are told that, as a former secretary of state, Clinton's strong suit over Republican Donald Trump is precisely her experience — and his complete lack of it — in foreign policy. But, adds Krauthammer, the fact is that Clinton "left a trail of policy failures from Libya to Syria, from the Russian reset to the Iraqi withdrawal to the rise of ISIL."

No wonder they don't want to talk about it.

Instead, Clinton and her fellow Democrats — along with most of the mainstream media — chose to spend their time attacking Trump's demonstrable lack of truthfulness and outrageous ego.

Fair enough. But the only problem with that is that as much as people perceive Trump to be given to tall tales, more think that Clinton has an even more distant relationship with truth.

According to two major public opinion polls released on the eve of the Democratic convention — which showed Trump got a popularity bump after the Republican shingdig in Cleveland — Clinton's public image continues the downward slide it has been in for several months.

A major CNN poll — from a network decidedly unfriendly toward Republicans — 68 per cent of people asked said Clinton is not honest and trustworthy. That is her worst number on record, up from 59 per cent early in May — and far beyond the 43 per cent who say Trump is dishonest.

A CBS poll found that 67 per cent of the respondents say Clinton is dishonest. It also found that 56 per cent have an "unfavorable" view of her, compared to 31 per cent "favorable," while Gallup showed just 38 per cent "favorable" compared to 57 per cent "unfavorable," giving her — for the first time — a public image worse than Trump.

And all this, despite the best efforts of most of the mainstream media to gloss over Clinton's serial failings and highlight every stupid thing Trump does or says — of which there is, as in Clinton's case, no shortage.

The best the Democrats could devise to attempt to rehabilitate Clinton's horrible public image was to tout the fact that some 100 Hollywood celebrities have decided they are going full Monty to support her bid for the presidency and attack Trump at every possible opportunity.

It apparently has not occurred to the pointy heads who are running the Democratic campaign that that's exactly the sort of tactic they should NOT be encouraging. Trump's strength — and it's still hard to believe what has happened — is his appeal, not to the elite, but to the millions of Americans who believe they have been ignored and left behind by the current political elite on both sides of the aisle, as well as those in the media, academia and elsewhere.

The more often a spoiled Hollywood star or starlet pumps up their candidate, the more average Americans can be assured that their basic, every day concerns — which surely includes a genuine fear of radical Islamists — are not likely to be met by Clinton and her elitist supporters.

As your humble correspondent has written many times, I would be sorely conflicted if I had to choose between Clinton and Trump, since neither is really the type of person who gives one confidence for the future.

While much is made about the number of Republican leaders who are unhappy that Trump is now their man, it is often conveniently overlooked that millions of registered Democrats were so unhappy with Clinton as their flag waver that they continue to yearn, for an aging socialist who, until the latest round of electioneering, wasn't even a registered Democrat.

Clearly, nobody can say with precision who will win this remarkable showdown.

But in normal times, that is if the Democrats had anybody but Clinton, Trump surely wouldn't stand a chance. Then again, if the Republicans had somebody other than Trump, the Democrats wouldn't stand a chance.

We really do live, as the old proverb goes, in interesting times.

The Liberals' hazy marijuana approach

OTTAWA JOURNAL

David Tilson MP Dufferin-Caledon

As most Canadians know, the Liberals have promised to legalize marijuana in Canada.

It was a central part of their electoral platform. What is less clear, however, is how they plan on getting to that outcome. Their approach to date has been scatter-shot, first by appointing Toronto's former Police Chief to lead the file and most recently by appointing yet another committee to study the matter ad infinitum.

Last month, the Liberal government announced a task force, chaired by former Liberal Cabinet Minister Anne McLellan to study the legalization of marijuana. They will report their findings in November. Justin Trudeau and the Liberals have made a complete mess of the marijuana issue by their failure to provide any policy coherence whatsoever.

I have serious concerns about a number of issues regarding the Liberals' promise to legalize marijuana. How are the Liberals going to address the current proliferation of illegal, unregulated marijuana dispensaries? In Vancouver, for example, there are currently more illegal marijuana dispensaries than Starbucks locations. How are the Liberals going to address the public safety issue of people driving and operating heavy equipment while high? How are the Liberals going to ensure that marijuana is going to be kept out of the hands of children?

We also must be concerned about the reaction of our friends and allies to this change in policy. How are the Liberals going to address our international obligations regarding the legality of marijuana? How will they deal with the U.S. reaction, most obviously at the border?

Conservatives realize that this is an issue that is on the minds of many Canadians. That's why at our recent Policy Convention, Conservatives passed the following resolution:

"In order to expand the means which law enforcement authorities have at their disposal to combat drugs and their negative impacts, particularly among young people, and to reduce the volume of judicial proceedings, we recommend that peace officers be enabled to issue tickets for simple possession of small quantities of marijuana."

Our policy resolution is in line with the Canadian Association of Chiefs of Police, who are also in favour of giving police the ability to ticket individuals found with 30 grams of marijuana or less. This is also in line with the Chiefs who do not believe marijuana should be legalized.

I do not have confidence in the Liberals to put forward a plan to legalize marijuana that will adequately address our serious concerns.

Bolton Braves get $150,000 from the Jays Care Foundation

Caledon's Bolton Braves Baseball Association was named the 2016 recipient of the Jays Care Foundation funding to launch their Field of Dreams Challenger Baseball program.

The Braves will receive $150,000, which is the full amount of the grant, a big success for the club and an amazing opportunity for Caledon.

"The Bolton Braves Baseball Association is an outstanding community organization," said Mayor Allan Thompson. "This funding will help them deliver on their commitment to building inclusive programs for children and youth."

The funds will be used to support the construction of a fully accessible baseball diamond at Bolton Camp on the Caledon Townline. This initiative will partner the Town and the Toronto Region Conservation Authority (TRCA) on the Bolton Camp revitalization project.

"TRCA is proud to partner with the Bolton Braves, Jays Care Foundation and the Town of Caledon to build an accessible baseball diamond at Bolton Camp that will provide children with disabilities with a place to play," commented Lucia Piccinni, program manager of the Bolton Camp Redevelopment.

The Braves will launch the Challenger Baseball program with an event this Sunday (Aug. 7) from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. at North Hill Park in Bolton. Everyone is welcome to join them for a family fun barbecue.

Local athletic therapist to attend Rio 2016 Summer Olympics

Caledon East athletic therapist Andrea Prieur was nominated to the Core Health team for the upcoming Olympic Games in Rio.

The owner of Core Solutions Physiotherapy and Wellness in Caledon East is excited to volunteer her skills as athletic therapist to take care of Canadian Olympians.

"It is an honor amongst ourselves as health care providers to be nominated to attend and work with our Canadian Olympians," she said. "It is a greater surprise to be able to do it once again at back-to-back Summer Olympics."

This will be Prieur's second Olympics for which she has been nominated, and she has volunteered in many other major Games, including the 2015 Pan American Games Health Care Team; the 2014 Commonwealth Games in Glasgow, Scotland; 2012 London Olympic Games Health Care Team; 2011 World University Games in Erzurum, Turkey; 2009 World University Games in Belgrade, Serbia; 2007 World University Games in Turino, Italy; and the 2003 Pan American Games Health Care Team in Santo Domingo, Dominican Republic. Between 2010 and 2015, she made multiple trips to London, Florida, Italy, Spain and Germany working with Diving Canada.

Typically, to be able to volunteer at a Games at this level, the nominated therapist has to commit to more than three weeks. Prieur has done this time and time again. She will be heading to the Olympic village early July 25 and will leave right before closing ceremonies, therefore being in Brazil for almost a month. Her role is as one of six therapists attending will be to work alongside physicians to ensure the Canadian team is in top shape for performance. She will be attending practices and games, providing on-field coverage and support to Canadian Olympians and will otherwise be available in clinic to treat any sort of aches, pains or ongoing issues. At this time, Prieur will be focusing on providing consistent therapy support to diving, shooting, archery and beach volleyball athletes.

Prieur is a member of the Canadian Athletic Therapists Association and was nominated to the Canadian Core Health team due to her skills as an athletic therapist, equipment, and play their games at the local baseball parks.

continued education and past experiences with high performance sport. She has been practising athletic therapy for 18 years.

Andrea lives in Caledon East with her husband and three young sons and is very active with the community co-chairing the Caledon East Revitalization Committee.

The Games will run from Aug. 5 to 21 and will have 10,500 athletes from 206 countries attending.

Fraud charges laid

A 53-year-old Caledon resident has been charged after a police investigation that started in March.

Caledon OPP reports they received a complaint regarding a possible fraud. The victim reported noticing multiple outstanding balances with customer accounts. Over an extended period, the employee was responsible for depositing company cheques into her personal account. The victim sustained a loss of approximately $160,000.

The woman was charged with fraud over $5,000.

THE CALEDON CHAMBER OF COMMERCE CALLS ON THE PROVINCIAL GOVERNMENT TO PUSH BROADBAND STRATEGY INTO HIGH SPEED

On JULY 21st, 2016: the Ontario Chamber of Commerce (OCC) called on Premier Kathleen Wynne to commit dedicated provincial infrastructure funds to developing and expanding broadband internet access in remote and rural areas of the province. With record investments being made by government in transit and transportation infrastructure, the business advocacy organization is calling upon the provincial government to recognize, through infrastructure dollars, that access to high speed internet is also essential for Ontario businesses to compete in the 21st century global economy.

Local businesses in Caledon and other rural communities are becoming increasingly dependent on internet access for their everyday business practice. High-speed internet access has become a necessity for doing business in today's economy and it is critical that all regions across Ontario have access to this essential infrastructure.

While the Caledon Chamber of Commerce and the OCC acknowledge broadband investments made by the Government of Canada in the recent federal budget, internet access continues to be an issue in parts of Ontario. The letter to the Premier identifies three key recommendations that the Ontario government should address in the coming term to ensure all communities in the province are able to compete in the global economy:

1. Develop a robust broadband investment strategy that acknowledges that broadband is an essential infrastructure investment, and creates space for continued private-sector investment.

2. Build partnerships across all levels of government in order to leverage funding and respond to local need. Recognizing that the private sector has driven investment in broadband infrastructure, the OCC recommends an intergovernmental funds matching formula that will continue to incentivize large private sector investments.

3. Benchmark Ontario's internet speeds and access. In order to ensure Ontario is able to compete in a technology-driven global economy, we need to create broadband infrastructure that is equal with those of other globally-competitive jurisdictions.

"Just as businesses depend on roads and electricity, high-speed Internet is fundamental to advancing the province's economic interests," said Allan O'Dette, CEO & President of the OCC. "Committing funds to broadband infrastructure in rural and remote regions of the province will ensure that economic fragmentation is reduced in Ontario."

With government services increasingly shifting to online platforms, universal access to high speed internet is becoming more important than ever. By working with the local government and the Ontario business community, government can develop broadband policy that is responsive to existing needs while not dissuading private sector investment.

Much excitement and prizes at Tour de Terra Cotta

There was plenty of excitement around Terra Cotta Monday for the 12th edition of the Tour de Terra Cotta. Jeff Scott of St. Thomas was the champion in the Elite Road Race at this year's Tour de Terra Cotta. Second place went to Trevor o'Donnell of Barrie, followed by Simon Fothergill of Hamilton, Anton Varabei of Toronto and Jonathan Lewis of Western Australia.

Photos by Bill Rea

There were plenty of cheers when race founder Ted Webb, 83, completed the six-lap Intermediate Road Race.

The peewees, aged 11 and 12, were heading off on their two-lap event.

The eight to 10-year-old squirts took off from the starting line on their one-lap event.

These women were the top performers in the 104-kilometre Elite Road Race. Winning for the women was Miriam Brouwer of Burlington, followed by Emily Marcolini of Sudbury and Kristen Marchant of Hamilton.

New Lowell defeats Bolton in home tournament final

By Jake Courtepatte

The North Dufferin Baseball League got a taste of what to expect in the first playoff round from the league's top team. The New Lowell Knights were the champions of their own tournament over the Civic Holiday weekend, trouncing the Bolton Dodgers in the final 11-0.

New Lowell got on the board early by knocking in three runs in the first inning, and adding another in the second. Seven runs in the fifth inning put the Dodgers away for good, putting the mercy rule into effect.

Bolton was able to record only two hits through the five innings.

New Lowell, who emerged this season as a powerhouse team in the AA league, last won the tournament in 2011.

Bolton reached the final on a 2-0 round-robin record, with a hard-fought 6-4 win over the Creemore Barons followed by a 4-4 tie with Niagara Falls Sunday. The Dodgers earned the win thanks to the tiebreaker, having left the most runners on base.

Creemore defeated the Mansfield Cubs 9-3 in the consolation game. New Lowell's Todd Gowan, one of the top hurlers in the NDBL year after year, took home best pitcher honours.

The most valuable player award went to Creemore's Eric Orser.

Interestingly enough, the Knights and Dodgers are opponents in the first round of the NDBL playoffs, the Knights finishing the regular season as the top seed and the Dodgers squeaking in at eighth.

The Dodgers will be a heavy underdog in the best-of-five series, with the Knights having lost just four games all season.

The series opened Tuesday evening in Creemore, shifting to North Hill Park in Bolton for Game 2 Wednesday. Game 3 will be played Sunday in New Lowell, with a 1 p.m. start time.

If needed, the contest returns to Bolton Wednesday for Game 4. The start time is set for 8:45 p.m.

Dr. Melinda Solomon joined Matthew Maramieri, 3 and his mother Gillian Maramieri at the recent Mulligans For Matthew.

Annual Mulligans Fore Matthew was a success

The fourth annual Mulligans Fore Matthew Charity Golf Tournament was held June 3 the Caledon Country Club. The golf course was sold out with an additional 40 guests joining for the dinner and silent auction portion.

The Maramieri family is excited to announce this year's donation total was $28,500, which will be given to Cystic Fibrosis Canada to fund much needed research to find a cure for this deadly genetic disease. This year's event has put Mulligans Fore Matthew's four-year grand total at more than $108,000, and that is thanks to all of the events supporters.

They would like to thank Dr. Melinda Solomon, Matthew's doctor from SickKids Hospital, for joining them and being the guest speaker. Another focus of this event is to raise awareness and increase knowledge about Cystic Fibrosis. Soloman gave great insight into this invisible disease and the battle people with CF fight on a daily basis.

The fifth annual Mulligans Fore Matthew Charity Golf Tournament for Cystic Fibrosis Canada will be June 2, 2017.

OBITUARIES

DALEY, June Anna (nee Kotyk)
Peacefully at her home on Tuesday, July 26, 2016 at the age of 76. Beloved wife of Bliss Daley. Dear mother of Andrew, David and Thomas. Loving sister of Judith Thompson (Ed Hodge), John Kotyk (Pat Taylor), Joseph Kotyk, Bill Driedzic (Cathy). Sister-in-law of Doreen Adams (late John) and Douglas Daley (Marsha). Remembered by her aunt Trudy Stacey (John), nieces, nephews, cousins and many friends. Visitation will be held at the Dods & McNair Funeral Home, Chapel & Reception Centre, 21 First Street, Orangeville on Tuesday, August 9, 2016 from 5:00- 7:00 pm. Funeral Service will follow at 7:00 pm. Memorial donations to Westminster Church Capital Campaign or the Orangeville Food Bank would be appreciated by the family.
A tree will be planted in memory of June in the Dods & McNair Memorial Forest at the Island Lake Conservation Area, Orangeville. A dedication service will be held on Sunday, September 11, 2016 at 2:30 p.m.
Condolences may be offered to the family at www.dodsandmcnair.com

MCGARVEY, John George
December 10, 1963-June 18, 2016.

With sadness in our hearts, John passed away suddenly on June 18, 2016. He was a loving father to Matthew, (deceased) Christopher & Sean. Step father to Jeff (Jade), Kevin, Laura (Travis) & Lindsey. Grandpa to little Matthew and Poppa to Sarah and Crew. Cherished husband to Nancy and former husband to Maura, Son of Bev and Ruby McGarvey and brother of Ron McGarvey. John was a beloved friend to many and a well respected legion member for many years. He will be truly missed. A Celebration of John's life will be held August 13 2016 at the Orangeville Legion - Branch 233 from 2pm-6pm with words of remembrance at 4pm. As expressions of sympathy, donations in John's memory can be made to the Canadian Diabetes Association. Online Condolences and donations may be made at www.imfunerals.com. Arrangements entrusted to In Memoriam Funeral Services Inc.

08-08-15

In loving memory of my beautiful niece, and cousin Natasha

*We thought of you today,
But that is nothing new.
We thought of you yesterday,
And will tomorrow too.*

*We think of you in silence,
And make no outward show,
For what it meant to lose you,
Only those who love you know,*

*Remembering is easy,
We do it every day,
It's the heartache of losing you,
That will never go away.*

Love you forever
Aunt Suzie and Family

In loving memory of a dear Dad.

*Dad your life was a blessing,
Your memory a treasure.
You are loved beyond words,
And missed beyond measure.*

From the Book of Hockley

The one time playing hooky paid off!

Andrew threw away a successful career in Logistics to pursue his dream of reconnecting with the brewing roots of his family. This carried him to the UK’s prestigious Brewlab in Sunderland, England, where he procured the alchemy that would drive his signature brewing style.

Moment of clarity: I was sitting in a movie theatre catching a matinee – the first and only time I ever played hooky from work. I was in Operations Management at the time and could not, for the life of me, see myself in the same environment for the next 30 years I submitted my resignation the next day and applied to the Brew School in England. I’ve been following the path ever since.

He took what he could from there and ventured to Scotland, Cornwall, and ultimately to Krefeld, Germany to pick up near where his mother’s family brewery had been, working in the same brewery that had belonged to his ancestors. He came home to Canada for Hockley.

You could call it dumb, but we call it destiny.
