CCS opens the new Evolve store in Bolton

By Bill Rea

Caledon Community Services (CCS) has a long history in town, and another major chapter was opened Friday.

Evolve is now officially open for business at its new location on Industrial Road in Bolton, with about 8,5000 square feet of retail floor area.

Crowds were waiting first thing Friday morning to get in and start seeking bargains at the clothing store. It replaces Chez Thrift, which has served the community and agency since 1982.

“There is a lot of gratitude I want to express on behalf of Caledon Community Services,” Monty Laskin, CEO of the agency declared.

He pointed ed out Chez Thrift was an institution in the community for many years, but it was time to move to something bigger.

Laskin also expressed thanks to the CCS Board, by Carine Strong. He said this group of community volunteers were asked to be visionary. Chez Thrift, he said, had more clothes in bags than they were able to get on the floor.

He said they together take before the board. “You need to be ahead of the wave,” he said, urged them, and they him to see what he could chaired do and come up with a viable business plan.

“Thank you for the faith you showed,” Laskin said to the board.

He was also appreciative to the Town of Caledon for the help in getting the necessary approvals in place. He also had lots of praise for Councillor Johanna Downey, who sits on the CCS board, and “single handedly” did what she could to open doors.

“Joanna has worked tirelessly,” he remarked.

Laskin also paid tribute to Luella Parks, owner of the building (her husband Donald passed away a year ago).

“She was a tough negotiator; a very tough negotiator,” he said, “and I was a very tough negotiator.”

“She’s a fabulous landlord,” he added.

Others who assisted with the development of the project came in for thanks, including contractor Ira Idzkowski of Torcon Ltd. "It's been a year of lots and lots of frustration," Laskin said, adding Idz-kowski kept telling him, "Just leave it with me." "Ira has been exceptional," Laskin added.

The retail operation will be taking up most of the main floor of the building, but Laskin said there are plans for the second floor. He said there will be a training centre there to support people who need help getting employment skills. He said they are looking for a federal grant to assist in that regard.

As well, Laskin paid tribute to the many volunteers on which the agency depends, as he said hundreds of hours have been put in to sorting, cleaning and hanging the merchandise.

"They're absolutely priceless," he declared.

He also praised the agency staff. "They have gone over and above the call of duty," he said. "It has required an extraordinary effort to open this place."

Author Dale O'Hara did a reading of her book The Story of Caledon Then and Now last week to students at Ellwood Memorial Public School.

Book about Caledon's history launched

By Bill Rea

Caledon students have the chance to learn some more about the history of their community, thanks to a book that was recently launched.

Representatives of the Caledon Heritage Foundation were at Ellwood Memorial Public School in Bolton for the official launch of the Story of Caledon Then and Now by Dale O'Hara.

The author was on hand for the occasion, reading from the book for Grade 3 students, and the youngsters also got their own copies of the book. The project was made possible through funding from the Town of Caledon, and the Brampton and Caledon Community Foundation, as well as work done by volunteers on the Heritage Foundation Board. Other dignitaries on hand included Trustee Stan Cameron, Caledon's representative on the Peel District School Board and Superintendent of Schools Michael Logue.

O'Hara told the students this year mark's Canada's 150th anniversary, adding many people in town don't know a lot about Caledon.

Local youths among Duke of Edinburgh Award recipients

By Bill Rea

The Scouting and Guiding movements have a long history of producing achievers, and evidence of that is easy to find.

There were more examples presented Saturday in Toronto as more than 100 young people received their Silver Awards of Achievement in the Duke of Edinburgh's International Award program from Lt.-Gov. Elizabeth Dowdeswell.

They included four representatives of the 1st Bolton Scouts and one member of the 1st Bolton Pathfinders.

In order to qualify for the award, the young people have to complete an adventurous journey, perform community service, be active in some form of physical recreation and demonstrate a skill.

Pathfinder Caelyn Greaves said her journey had her canoeing through Algonquin Park. She also volunteers her time as a Sparks leader, plays the piano and stays active by hiking, cycling and going to the gym.

"It's just fantastic," she declared, describing the program, adding the experience has helped her get two jobs.

Among the Scouts being recognized was Max Gungter, who took part in a canoe trip to Algonquin Park and has volunteered with the FIRST robotics group. He plays the trumpet and is active in track and field, cross-country running and personal fitness.

"I had a great time balancing my life to fit the expectations of the award and finding what I really enjoyed doing in the community," he said. "I found that I like to teach younger kids and help them learn new information."

"I also enjoyed finding a suitable recreational activity, as I found great magnetism and connection to running while doing my Silver Duke of Edinburgh Award," he added.

Johnathan Quintal also canoed through Algonquin Park and has volunteered as a Beaver leader, as well as an instructor at Fort George Camp. He's active in tennis, soccer and skiing, and plays percussion.

"The Duke of Edinburgh's Silver Award has opened my eyes to a new world for personal growth and success through the many skills and experiences I have witnessed due to the completion of this honourable award," he commented.

Tanner Krauter did camping and canoeing as his adventurous journey. His community service has included helping to build a camp in Alaska and being an assistant drama instructor. His physical activities include rock climbing, hiking and running, and he's training to become a small aircraft pilot.

"I am working toward my Gold Award, and have really enjoyed the experience that has helped me to become more active in my community," he observed.

Tottenham resident Barry Austen took part in a canoe trip, volunteers his time coaching baseball, is active in skating and shown his skill in drivers ed.

"The Duke of Edinburgh has gotten me more into the community and has kept me active, and has gotten me to try new things," he said.

His interests include camping and playing baseball. His plans for the future include post-secondary schooling to study chemistry.

The ceremony was held at Toronto Police College, and Superintendent Peter Lennox extended the welcomes, while complimenting the award recipients.

First Bolton Scout Leader Steve Vickers, Contact Guider with the 1st Bolton Rangers and Scout Leader Karen Matson (far right) were on hand Saturday to see Tanner Krauter, Max Gunter, Caelyn Greaves, Brady Austen and Johnathan Quintal receive their Silver Awards of Achievement in the Duke of Edinburgh's International Award program.

"It's a wonderful occasions and it's OK to be a little bit proud," he remarked.

In her remarks, Dowdeswell mentioned the news from earlier in the week that Prince Philip, Duke of Edinburgh, had announced he would be retiring. She pointed to the years of service he has given to the Commonwealth.

She also congratulated the recipients on their achievements, complimenting them on the skills they have demonstrated which will serve the country and province into the future, including teamwork, creativity and the ability to have an open mind. She added they have accomplished many tasks that will enable them to be trail blazers.

"I believe all of you will thrive in this rapidly changing world," she declared, wishing them well, "because we're all counting on you."

Alton Grange AGM May 16

The Alton Grange Association will be holding its annual general meeting this coming Tuesday (May 16)

It will start at 7 p.m at the Paul Morin Gallery (the former town hall) at 19741 Main St. in Alton.

The guest speaker will be Dr. Sherri Cox from the National Wildlife Centre. She will talk about the wildlife rehabilitation and medicine work that is done to heal sick, injured and orphaned wildlife.

This is a free family friendly event and everyone is welcome.

Keep safety rules in mind with fireworks for Victoria Day

With Victoria Day celebrations fast approaching, Caledon Fire and Emergency Services remind retailers and homeowners that there are responsibilities when it comes to selling, purchasing and setting off fireworks. The goal is to ensure holiday celebrations can be enjoyed safely by everyone.

Notice of Road Closure

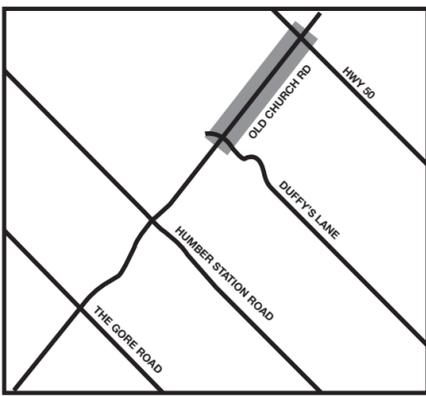

Old Church Road from Duffy's Lane to Hwy 50 will be closed from May 15 to September 15 for the bridge construction.

Access to local businesses/properties will be maintained at all times. No through traffic will be permitted from Duffy's lane to Hwy 50.

Heavy trucks should use the following alternate routes: Airport Road, King Street, Emil Kolb Parkway and Hwy 50.

For more information on this closure, please call:

Working for you

Selling
Retailers can only sell fireworks during the 10 days prior to Victoria Day, starting May 12. All retailers must purchase a permit from Caledon Fire and Emergency Services at a cost of $179. Fire prevention staff will be conducting fire safety inspections to verify compliance with the bylaw and any other federal and provincial regulations.

Discharging
The Town strictly prohibits setting off fireworks on public property, parkland, parks, roads or sidewalks. Fireworks can only be set off Victoria Day (May 22) and only then on private property. Discharging fireworks on any other day is in contravention of the bylaw and is subject to a fine.

Safety Guidelines

- Keep sparklers away from children. Hot sparklers can burn.
- Appoint a responsible person to be in charge.
- Carefully read and follow the directions on fireworks packaging.
- Always keep a hose or pail of water close by when discharging fireworks.

- Discharge fireworks well away from combustible materials such as buildings, trees or dry grass.
- Keep onlookers a safe distance away, upwind from the area where fireworks are discharged.
- Light only one firework at a time and only when they are on the ground.
- Never try to light a firework in your hand or re-light dud fireworks.
- For dud fireworks, wait 30 minutes, soak them in a bucket of water and then dispose of them in a metal container.
- If someone is burned, run cool water over the wound for three to five minutes and seek medical attention, if necessary.
- If using wheel-type fireworks nail them securely to a post or fence and allow spinning clearance.
- Be especially vigilant with children around.

Obtain a Permit
Permits can be obtained at Fire and Emergency Services, 6211 Old Church Rd., Caledon East.

Driver charged with having twice the legal alcohol limit

A 38-year-old man from Mississauga is facing a couple of charges after an early morning incident on Highway 10 April 26.

Caledon OPP reports they received a complaint shortly after 6 a.m. of a red Ford Focus heading south and being driven erratically. Police were able to find the car south of Charleston Sideroad.

By the time they were able to stop the car, they discovered it had been operating with the left front tire half off its rim. That had caused sparks, as well as debris from the tire flying onto the road.

Upon investigation, the officer determined that the driver's ability to operate a vehicle was impaired by alcohol, so the man was arrested.

He was charged with driving while his ability was impaired, driving with more than the legal amount of alcohol in his system and dangerous operation of a motor vehicle. His licence was suspended for 90 days, and car was impounded for seven.

Police are expressing appreciation to the citizen who called 9-1-1 to report this incident. They pointed out they can't be everywhere all the time, so they rely on this kind of help.

Mental health awareness still a concern

From Dec. 1, 2015 to Nov. 1, 2016, officers from Caledon OPP responded to 543 occurrences related to mental health (compared to 306 in the same period of the previous year).

Thanks to a partnership between the Canadian Mental Health Association (CMHA), Peel Branch and Caledon OPP, police have been able to work collaboratively to assist residents of Caledon who find themselves in crisis, struggling with mental health and/or addictions.

The team operates seven days a week between 10 a.m. and 10 p.m. and consists of a plain-clothes officer partnered up with a mental health professional from CMHA Peel. The program is referred to as 24.7 Crisis Support Peel. The team of registered mental health professionals may also visit individuals where they are to provide support.

Police believe the community should know that this team represents a community crisis service, which offers timely response to adults (16 years and older) experiencing problems involving mental health or addictions, as well as those having trouble coping, along with family, caregivers and friends needing support.

For residents in Caledon, professional support is available 24 hours a day seven days a week by calling 1-888-811-2222.

Caledon OPP encourages residents to utilize this support if they ever find themselves or someone near to them struggling and in need of assistance.

Tempers erupt at latest Caledon Townhall Players performance

By Bill Rea

Anyone who's been in the workforce for any length of time knows colleagues can sometimes get on each other's nerves.

Combine that stress with the pressures placed on those who have to perform regularly on TV, and throw in a few extra complications, and there's room for plenty of laughs and a few tears.

That's what the Caledon Townhall Players (CTHP) are currently exploring in their production of Point of Viewing, a comedy by Todd McGinnis.

Directed by Melinda Briell and produced by Kim Blacklock, the play deals with three women, Tabitha, Raquel and Sincerity (played respectively by Monique Bourgeois, Laura McGowan and Blacklock) who co-host a popular daytime TV talkshow. It's time for the 10th anniversary show, but the pre-recorded broadcast has been destroyed because of a technical glitch. That means they are going to have to do it live, and none of them are really up to that task. Tabitha arrives at the studio after a party, and is dealing with a hangover, and the other two have a few choice barbs to send each other's way.

"You're on those diet pills again, aren't you?" Sincerity snaps at Raquel at one point.

The hapless floor director Brad (Mahaffey Khan) is slowly being driven out of his mind by the bickering and the ill-equipped studio.

Add to that concerns about memos, the future of the show, who might be on their way out, and concerns about possible backstabbing, and the first act is filled with wild antics, complete with pithy dialogue and some pretty unusual costumes.

The second act is a little more serious, as they go live with the show, welcoming a frequent guest Dr. D (Brian Molleur), who slowly gets confused as the three women take shots at each other, while Brad desperately waves the cue cards, trying to get everyone back on the script. Although the chaos continues, there's some exploration of the fears and apprehensions, not to mention 10 years of baggage the women have been carrying.

Stage managed by Kay Lyons and Chuck Blacklock, the result is a sometimes hilarious, at other times poignant romp through human relationships.

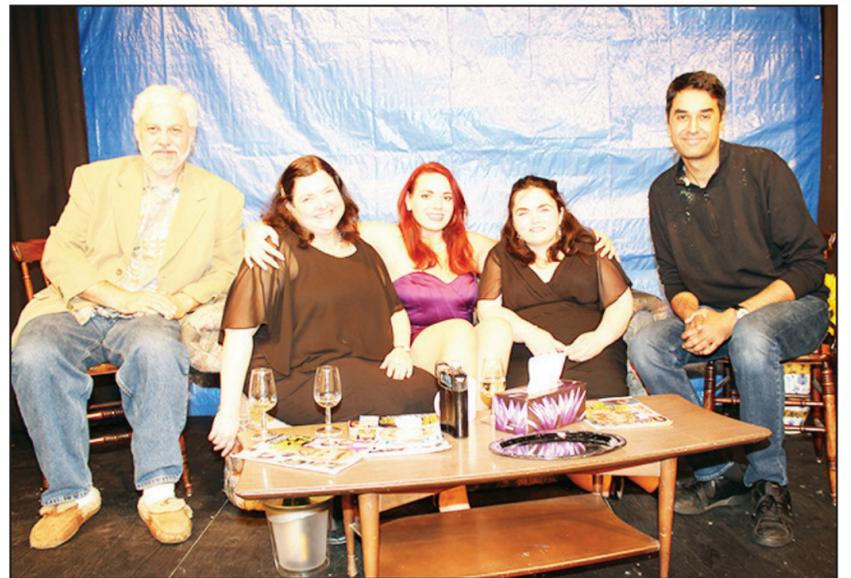

With five parts, the cast in this play is smaller than what audiences at CTHP might be used to, but that too allows for more exploration into the various relationships.

The only set, built and decorated by the Blacklocks, is the TV studio, laid out with the appropriate furnishings, and complete with the customary blue wall.

Performances of Point of Viewing are scheduled for tomorrow (Friday) night and Saturday, with both matinee and dinner theatre performance planned for Saturday.

For more information, go to www.caledontownhallplayers.com

The cast of the Caledon Townhall Players' production of Point of Viewing consists of Brian Molleur, Kim Blacklock, Laura McGowan, Monique Bourgeois and Mahaffey Khan.

Concert Band planning Canada 150 event

The next performance by the Caledon Concert Band will also be a celebration of Canada's 150th anniversary.

The concert will be May 28, starting at 2 p.m. at Caledon Community Complex in Caledon East.

This will be an all-ages event with cafe-style seating and a dance floor suitable for affordable, casual family fun.

The program will include a wide variety of music styles, including jazz, swing, disco, patriotic marches, classical and even klesmer. Fred Stride's rousing arrangement of O Canada will get hearts glowing for the true north strong and free.

Admission will be free for children aged 12 and younger. Tickets will be $15 for adults and $10 for seniors and students. Proceeds will help fund the projects and scholarships of the Caledon Concert Band Association, a registered charitable not-for-profit community organization.

Local Expo connects teen comic enthusiasts

Calling all superhero fans, anime addicts, sci-fi lovers and comic book enthusiasts!

Caledon Public Library is hosting the second annual Comic Expo for Teens May 13 at the Albion-Bolton Branch from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m.

This year's expo will feature a variety of fun-filled, comic-themed events, including an escape room challenge, trivia, art and design activities and more. Local collectibles store Nobletoyz Bolton will be on site throughout the day, as well as a special effects makeup artist.

"There will be lots of chances to win prizes throughout the day," said Laurie Groe, manager of youth services. "Attendees who dress up as their favourite fandom character have the chance to win a gift card to Nobletoyz and those who post photos using #CPLComicExpo also have the chance to win prizes during the event."

For more details, visit the library website or pick-up the Comic Expo for Teens brochure at any library branch.

CALEDON LEASH-FREE PARK

That's right, the Town has a leash-free park located beside the Caledon Animal Shelter at 12889 Coleraine Drive in Bolton! The park is open daily, dawn to dusk. A list of common courtesy rules for the use of the park are posted on-site.

ANNUAL VET VISIT

Spring is a great time to book your pet(s) in for a visit with your veterinarian to discuss heartworm, flea and tick preventative options. Exposure is at peak during the spring, summer and fall months.

PET IDENTIFICATION MEASURES

The Town no longer licenses dogs. However, we strongly encourage pet owners to microchip your pet(s), and ensure their collar contains an identification tag with their name and your contact information. This assists with the safe return of lost pets. Identification tags can be purchased from local pet stores. Microchip services are available from a licensed veterinarian.

POOP AND SCOOP

A friendly reminder to please scoop if your pet poops! Unfortunately the poo fairy doesn't service the Caledon area and you are responsible to pick up after your pets!

PET ADOPTION PROGRAM

Are you looking for a furry edition to your family? The Caledon Animal Services Adoption Program seeks to find homes for healthy cats and dogs in their care! For more information, please contact us at 905.857.5208, send us an email at animal.services@caledon.ca or drop in and visit us at 12889 Coleraine Drive. National Access Awareness Week

May 29 – June 4, 2017

National Access Awareness Week began in 1988 to honour Rick Hanson. In 1985, he began a two-year 40,000 km journey through 34 countries in his wheelchair to raise awareness about the need for accessibility for people with disabilities. Since then, communities across Canada have continued Hansen's mission during the last week of May.

DID YOU KNOW?

- 15% of Ontarians live with some form of a disability;
- Approximately 10% of the Caledon population has some form of a disability;
- Individuals with disabilities are impacted daily by barriers to accessible information, independent access to facilities, to employment, transportation and accessible communication supports;
- The Town of Caledon's Accessibility Advisory Committee is a citizen volunteer committee dedicated to the identification, removal and prevention of barriers for persons with disabilities;

National Access Awareness Week is an opportunity to celebrate accessibility and increase our efforts to achieve our goal of becoming a fully-accessible community and province.

Drive carefully as work crews clear vegetation from roads and ditches

Trees, brush, and even overgrown grass and weeds can be a hazard along the 1,601 lane km of roads the Town of Caledon maintains.

MAINTAINING A ROADSIDE CLEAR ZONE

- Improves sightlines and space for drivers, which makes roads safer;
- Provides space for snow removal and storage during the winter months;
- Allows warming sunshine to reduce ice buildup in the winter; and
- Restores proper drainage in ditches.

The recommended clear zone for paved roads is at least 3 meters and at least 2 meters for gravel roads.

Throughout the year roads crews use a variety of methods to keep the roads clear. The most common, and efficient approach is with large, powerful brushes mounted on trucks, although in some situations staff will also clear by hand. Grass and weeds are trimmed with large mowers.

WHAT ABOUT THE MESS?

Even though mechanical brushing is not the most aesthetically pleasing, the foliage does tend to grow back quickly. Our goal is to trim enough to last five years. And our crews do go out to clean the roadside after the brushing.

Caledon Public Library receives Angus Mowat Award Of Excellence

Caledon Public Library has received the 2016 Angus Mowat Award of Excellence.

The award was presented to the Library's CEO and Chief Librarian Colleen Lipp by Tourism, Culture and Sport Minister Eleanor McMahon, in front of an audience of librarians from all over Ontario. This took place in February at Ontario Library Association's annual conference in Toronto.

The award was given in recognition of Caledon Public Library's Click•Create•Celebrate initiative, an annual contest encouraging submissions of short stories, poetry, short films and photography from all age groups. It culminates in an event celebrating the talent and creativity of all participants and the unveiling of a published compilation of all winning entries.

"CPL recognizes the inherent value of building a culture of creativity and our Click•Create•Celebrate initiative offers the tools to create and cultivate, rather than simply consume the works of others," Lipp commented. "Click•Create•Celebrate provides a forum to recognize and highlight the talent of local authors, writers, photographers and filmmakers in our own community."

Caledon Public Library would also like to acknowledge the financial support of Friends of Caledon Public Library who make this initiative possible. Click•Create•Celebrate 2017 is already underway. For all the details along with submission deadlines visit the library website at www.caledon.library.on.ca

Test drive a Ford to help local school

Fines Ford Lincoln has partnered with Allan Drive Middle School to put on a Drive4WE event.

It will be this Saturday (May 13) from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. at Fines Ford, 10 Simona Dr. in Bolton.

For every valid test-drive completed, Ford Motor Company will donate $20 to the school; to a maximum of $6,000.

There will also be lots of prizes that day. They will be giving away tickets to see Toronto FC, Blue Jays, Leafs, movies and the Shawn Mendes concert.

From coast to coast, between May 7 and 13, Ford of Canada is partnering with schools across the country and WE charities to help make a difference to communities on both a local and global scale.

Since 2010, Ford has raised $8 million for worthy causes and school partners.

NEW Hearing Aid Technology

Finally a hearing aid that allows you to hear in all directions!

This latest digital technology solves the biggest challenge for hearing aid wearers – hearing well in noisy environments.

Traditional hearing aids only allow the wearer to hear in one direction, which can make it difficult to hear in a public setting like a restaurant. Now with this new breakthrough technology, the wearer can enjoy a dynamic soundscape and differentiate between speech and noise.

Nobody will notice it because of its minute size, fitting snugly and comfortably just behind the ear. Everything works automatically, so you can get back to enjoying your relationships, rather than thinking about your hearing.

Jones denies Liberal charges of delaying safety measures

By Bill Rea

The Liberal Caucus at Queen's Park has issued a statement blaming Sylvia Jones for standing in the way of community safety, but Dufferin-Caledon's MPP is not fazed.

In fact, she said she's in good company, as similar statements have been issued naming other Progressive Conservative colleagues of hers.

"Frankly, I'm very disappointed that this is the tack that they've taken," she remarked.

The statement from the Liberals concerns Bill 65, the Safer School Zones Act, which they said is in response to calls from municipalities, parents and students for action to stop speeding and target dangerous drivers.

"Last week, Dufferin-Caledon MPP Sylvia Jones and the Progressive Conservatives made a calculated political decision to prevent the passage of this critical student safety legislation — legislation that parents say cannot come soon enough," the Liberals charged, adding that Lisa Parker, president of the parents' association at Allenby Junior Public School in North Toronto, directly told Tory MPPs that schools are "doing all that we can to raise awareness (but) what we need is enforcement."

"Anything we can do to increase safety in our school zones should be a non-partisan issue," Toronto District School Board Trustee Jennifer Arp added. "We shouldn't have one party trying to obstruct and hold-up the passing of this legislation."

But Jones countered the Tories put forth proposed amendments to the bill in committee. One was based on a private members bill that had been supported by all parties, but which the Grits defeated at committee with their majority. It dealt with equipping school buses with cameras to help catch "blowbys," or motorists who pass buses when children are getting on or off.

"Sounds like student safety to me," she remarked.

Jones also observed that proposing amendments at committee is nothing new, and it's part of the normal process. She said she's had one of her private members bills used in the final make-up of a bill.

"That's the way it's supposed to work," she said.

Jones pointed out the bill is slated to go before the legislature this week, now that it's out of committee.

"Where's the delay?" she asked.

"The Liberals have the majority," she added, pointing out the bill is almost sure to pass, and without that "reasonable" amendment to help protect kids.

"I think you're probably going to see more of this as we get close to an election," she added. "It's a pretty hard argument to make when you're holding a majority of the seats."

Caledon launches its one-stop permitting/licensing portal for business

In partnership with ServiceOntario, Caledon has joined a growing number of municipalities to launch BizPaL, a free, online portal for permits and licences.

"A key goal of this council has been cutting red tape to help our entrepreneurs succeed," said Mayor Allan Thompson. "With the launch of BizPaL, our Economic Development Team has made it easier to launch or expand a business in Caledon."

BizPaL is a one-stop shop for licence and permit information from all levels of government (municipal, provincial and federal). BizPaL generates a customized list of permits and licences required, depending on the business's location, category and type of operations.

To access BizPaL, go to www.caledon.ca/bizpal

BizPaL was created to help identify quickly and easily what businesses might need from relevant levels of government. The combined efforts of federal, provincial, territorial and participating municipal governments, BizPaL is free to use and available 24/7.

Be careful what you wish

Peel Regional councillors recently debated a motion to call on the provincial government to step up and rule on the composition of council.

The motion failed, mainly because all 12 of the reps from Mississauga voted against it.

What precisely the councillors from Mississauga have against the Province dealing with the matter is far from clear.

The point was made couple of times in the discussions that those officials seated around the council table have been unable to come up with solutions to this issue. The issue has been debated at length.

Councillors came up with a position last year, and Mississauga reps made it clear they were prepared to use their overwhelming numbers (in terms of population) to veto the proposal. It called for another four representatives for Mississauga in the next term of council and another four for Brampton too. The people from Mississauga balked at such a substantial increase in the size of council, and we can understand how they might have feared trying to sell that to their electorate.

The problem is there are many people who look at elected political representation and think only of the expense involved. There needs to be message sent out there that representative democracy in our society was meant to be many things, and cheap is not one of them.

On the other hand, there has been lot of parochialism being shown of late around the council table. That's not necessarily a bad thing. Councillors from Caledon are elected and paid to look out for the interests of their community, as are the councillors from Brampton and Mississauga. But there's also an obligation to think of the greater collective good

But it's also becoming clear, according to recent published reports, that Mississauga has dreams of going it alone as a stand-alone municipality.

Now that might come into effect one of these days, but people might also want to reflect on what could come next.

A huge city like Toronto would be right next to a much smaller one called Mississauga. Could some future government at Queen's Park decide to merge the two into one? It happened before 20 years ago, thanks to the government of Mike Harris.

"It could never happen," we hear officials in Mississauga mutter. The thing is officials in the former Cities of Etobicoke, York and Scarborough were probably saying the same thing 20 years ago.

Hands off others' animals

At first, I found the whole thing rather silly.

An animal rights activist apparently saw fit to give water to pigs headed for a slaughter facility. And then she was charged. I thought the act was silly and I thought the act of going through a costly judicial procedure to address the matter was silly too, not to mention wasteful.

The woman was found not guilty last week of doing anything that was in violation of the law. The judge also stated he was satisfied the woman had been giving the pigs water, although how could anyone have known at the time what she was giving them? And since this involved food that people would eventually be consuming, I think the concerns were legitimate.

And according to a press release I received the day after the ruling, various farm organizations in Ontario were disappointed with the decision, fearing this might encourage other animal rights activists to become bolder.

I frankly think a lot of these activists are pretty bold already, and have been for some time.

But the other fact is some of these animals are part of the food chain in our society. The health and livelihood of many depend on these animals. Alas, it means they have to be killed, but that has been the case since human beings got themselves organized, and I believe the job is done as humanely as possible.

There was a time about 30 years ago when there was talk that an abattoir would be going in Bolton's Industrial Park. I thought it was a great idea, and so did a lot of other people, but a vocal few raised a loud stink and the idea was dropped when Town council announced it wouldn't allow it. This was just before a delegation of proponents was about to make presentation of its case. Not one of the shining moments in the history of Caledon council. But as the issue heated up, I decided to learn more about it, and made arrangements to take a tour of an abattoir, including the kill floor. Although it was interesting, it was certainly not the most enjoyable morning I've ever spent. But I got to talk to some of the people who worked there, and found they were ordinary guys who had a job to do, and they did it. The experience in no way turned me off of consuming meat.

My late mother, for a couple of years, worked in the accounting department of a meat-packing operation around the stock yards in Toronto. She said she never went on the kill floor, but she knew where it was and she certainly knew what was going on there. And being an employee, she would get a rate on her meat.

The fact that animals are taken to such operations is just part of reality.

I also think most people, myself included, are very fond of animals and care about their welfare. I know there are some who don't, but for the most part, I think these people are very sick individuals.

Many of us keep animals in our homes, either for protection, companionship or just because we love animals. But it is certain types of animals we have as pets.

I married a cat lover, meaning there has been a cat under our roof for just about the entire time since our wedding. Our current cat is named Ella, and she lives for free, tolerating our presence at her convenience. She also has a bad habit of waking me up in the morning by biting me in the arm. She's also been known to swat me in the face with her claws, usually drawing blood when she does.

Despite that, there is an obligation on Beth and myself to make sure she's cared for, no matter how out of line she gets.

It's true we could get her declawed, but that would essentially mean amputating her fingertips. I wouldn't go along having someone do that to me, and my conscience won't allow me to do it to Ella. I don't think Beth would go along with it, even if she does get upset when Ella scratches the furniture.

As well, Ella is an indoor cat, who seldom tries to get outside. But if she ever did, without her claws, she'd be defenceless.

But I have complained lots of times about the blood I have lost because of Ella and her habits. Some have expressed sympathy, and some of those I actually believe were sympathetic. There have been a few who have mentioned declawing, and since I knew their hearts were in the right place, I responded as politely as I could, explaining my concerns with the procedure.

Now had someone taken upon themselves to have the operation performed, that would have been out of line. It might be okay to suggest (although it's really the business of the cat owner alone), but that's the limit.

That's what I think the real problem was with the woman, the pigs and the water. She might have thought she was doing the right thing, but she interfered with another person's property without authorization. She may not have been guilty of a crime, but she was out of line.

I can understand where animal rights activists are coming from, although I don't always go along with the extent of their commitment or the methods they sometimes employ. There are limits to what they have the right to do.

I don't fish any more, but I know there are many who do and that's fine with me. It's their choice. And there are those who hunt. Go for it. Just don't expect me to join you.

Like so many others, I chose to eat meat. I know a lot of people object to that. Object away. Just don't get out of line.

Rotary Club of Palgrave's Weekly Rotary Minute

By Ian Kittle

The Annual Camp Enterprise commenced at the Cedar Mills YMCA near Schomberg May 4.

This is a three-and-a-half day camp for Grade 11 and 12 students from local and more distant high schools, which focuses on the entrepreneurial spirit. This year, 45 students attended.

The Rotary Clubs in District 7070 and 7080 completely fund the camp for the students who also heard presentations from Anitra Basant Sisavang on Career Paths; Wylie Hudspeth on Bee Keeping; Joe Esposito, the Orangeville Youth Entrepreneurship Coordinator, on his job; the Kleinburg Rotary Club on Creating a Small Business; Lou Schizas from AM 640 Radio; and speakers Blake Fleischacker and Élan Margo.

Students, in work groups create a small business plan for a product of their choice, then present it to a board comprised of Rotary business persons for their feedback and advice.

They are also involved in a labour-management negotiation game which pits union representatives against business management, both being acted out by the students. This broadens their awareness of labour issues in business.

Students also enjoyed a dance, movies and pizza night, plus outdoor activities led by YMCA staff. The camp closed with a Leadership Award Vote by the students May 7.

The Palgrave Rotary Club held their normal meeting at the camp and members spent the evening in the company of the students. It was a wonderful experience to see Rotary working in our communities with our youth.

Parents should be aware of this camp opportunity for their teens each year. All local schools are approached by Rotary clubs with the intent of encouraging students to experience Camp Enterprise.

If you are interested in learning more about Rotary and how you can help create and foster moments of impact here in Caledon and around the world, please visit www.rotaryclubofpalgrave.com for more information on our club and all the wonderful ways you could get involved.

Much happening in Caledon in May and June

Spring is here and so is the rain that comes with it.

Just five days in and we've had more rain than in the entire month of May last year. Our rural roads are taking a beating.

To report a washed-out road, call our 24-hour emergency line at 1-800-563-7881.

Another challenge this time of year is road construction, and there are several major routes that will be undergoing improvements this year.

Old Church Road will be closed from Duffy's Lane to Highway 50 from May 15 to Sept. 1 for bridge rehabilitation. Mayfield Road from Bramalea Road to Airport Road will be expanded from two to six lanes.

Celebrating National Youth Week

Last Thursday was our first ever Caledon Youth Summit. I was impressed and inspired by the questions and the engagement of the young people who attended from four of our area high schools. It may have been our first Youth Summit, it won't be our last.

Last Tuesday, we honoured the outstanding achievement of Tia John, who received the Lincoln M. Alexander Award for her work and dedication to end racial discrimination and promote social change.

In partnership with ecoCaledon we featured the amazing designs by talented students for the rain barrels that will be auctioned off on Caledon Day. The monies raised will go to an environmental bursary program.

And last, but certainly not least, a big shout out to the Humberview Alpha Dogs for an outstanding showing at the Robotics World Championship.

Mark your calendars for some exciting June events.

- June 7 will be Seniors Day at Albi-on-Bolton Community Centre from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. It will feature valuable workshops, a light lunch and a keynote on seniors housing and continuum of care.

- June 16 will be Cheers Caledon at the Caledon Town Hall Campus. We will be celebrating our finest craft beer and ciders.

- June 17 is Caledon Day at the Town Hall Campus. It will be a full day of family fun, food and entertainment.

There is so much to see and do around town. For a full listing of community events and happenings, check out our tourism website at visitcaledon.ca

Phoenix Pay System fiasco remains unresolved

For more than a year now, the current Liberal government has shown little action on resolving the issues of the Phoenix Pay System.

Hundreds of thousands of public servants have been impacted by the fiasco; however, this most serious issue has not been a priority for the current government. It was only recently that the Prime Minister announced a ministerial working group to finally address the ongoing issues of the system. This is yet another example of the current Liberal government failing to take action for Canadians.

The Phoenix Pay System was launched in February 2016, despite the recommendations of senior officials at the Treasury Board Secretariat. The current Liberal government forced the implementation of a system that was not fully operational, putting the financial stability of public servants in jeopardy even though the department was made aware of the risks of doing so. Since its launch, the system has had issues and public servants have encountered problems. However, Canadians have experienced everything from the government withholding information and refusing to come clean on the real scope of the backlog, to indifference, empty promises, and ultimately, next to no real action to resolve the issues.

OTTAWA JOURNAL

The men and women of the public service work hard for Canadians and they deserve to be paid in a timely fashion. It is completely unacceptable that the current Liberal government's pay system fiasco is still unresolved and that public service employees are still not receiving the pay they are owed. The Prime Minister and the Minister of Public Services and Procurement promised to take responsibility and fix the problems, but have repeatedly failed to take action. It is ridiculous that it has taken more than one year for the Prime Minister and his government to form a simple working group. Employees who are on the verge of losing their homes, being forced to postpone their educations, or going into debt because they aren't being paid properly cannot wait two more years. Furthermore, this fiasco is going to cost taxpayers hundreds of millions of dollars to fix the current government's mistakes.

The current Liberal government needs to outline a clear plan to fix the Phoenix Pay System and help the hundreds of thousands of public servants who have been impacted that doesn't further burden taxpayers. Canadians are tired of lip service, indifference, and inaction. It's time for real action.

More waste and mismanagement: $54,000 on Canada Goose jackets

It was revealed Friday that the Liberal government spent nearly $54,000 on Canada Goose parkas for government officials in 2015-2016.

Through a Freedom of Information request, I discovered parkas were purchased by the Ministry of Child and Youth Services for their employees.

Incredibly, the government has decided to defend the indefensible, as Premier Wynne said, "workers at a youth detention facility need the coats to keep warm in subzero temperatures while outside with the children."

This quote makes it clear how out of touch this government is. Of course work-

FROM QUEEN'S PARK

Sylvia Jones MPP Dufferin-Caledon

ers need coats, however the problem is that the government purchased luxury items. Further, the children at those facilities were not provided Canada Goose jackets.

This is just another example of government waste that provides no value for taxpayers. It is inconceivable that the Liberal government is so out of touch with the needs of Ontarians that they spent $53,948 on luxury Canada Goose parkas while families and children are not getting the services they need. The government approved this purchase the same year they were telling parents that their children would be kicked off the IBI waitlist. The government made this purchase while wait times and hospitalizations for youth mental health services rose. According to Children's Mental Health Ontario's November 2016 report, children in Ottawa are waiting for a year and a half for mental health treatment and there are 12,000 kids waiting for long-term psychotherapy. Yet this government decided to prioritize the purchase of luxury parkas.

The Ministry of Child and Youth Services is mandated to give children the best start in life, prepare youth to become productive adults and make it easier for families to get key service at all stages of a child's development. The fact there would be high-priced apparel being purchased when you have a ministry that desperately needs funds for youth is offensive and appalling.

Buying these luxury jackets is indefensible. The government needs to apologize to all the families who have had to wait for service, while they have grossly mismanaged their tax dollars. The government also needs to release all the documents related to the purchase of these goods. Ontarians have seen too many examples of the Liberals wasting their money. From the $1 billion gas plant scandal, to upside down bridge trusses, Ontarians are losing faith in the ability of this government to respect their tax dollars. It is time for the government to release all of this information, so that Ontarian families can decide for themselves whether the government is spending their money appropriately.

Sajjan should resign

NATIONAL AFFAIRS

Claire Hoy

The latest photo-shopped picture making the rounds these days shows our beleaguered Defence Minister Harjit Sajjan sitting in a chair next to Winston Churchill and Franklin Roosevelt at their May 1943 meeting to plan the fabled D-Day invasion.

It's yet another example of the adage that there's nothing worse for a politician than to have people laughing at you rather than with you, which is exactly what has happened to Sajjan since he was caught out repeating some massive whoppers about his role in the 2006 Operation Medusa in Afghanistan.

More's the pity.

Because unlike many political appointments, Sajjan's appointment by Prime Minister Justin Trudeau was widely applauded, not just by Liberals, but by the opposition parties and the general public as well.

Here, finally, was a man who had earned his chops in battle — and there is still no doubt he was exceptionally brave and helpful — and could be expected at long last to bring some clout into cabinet when it came to beefing up our long-neglected (by all parties) military.

But, as often happens even to the best of them, his capital "E" ego got in the way of his common sense, and instead of resting on his well-deserved laurels during that battle and others, Sajjan decided to up the ante and declare himself the "architect" of the entire operation.

Turns out he also fibbed to the public when he said in the Commons that our allies were not upset at all when the Liberals withdrew our CF-18 fighters from Iraq. They were upset, actually. But he lied to protect his boss.

Even that untruth, however, is more easily explainable — since partisans do this sort of thing routinely to make their party look good — than Sajjan's recent speech in India where, as first reported by the National Post's Matthew Fisher, he said flatly, "On my first deployment to Kandahar in 2006, I was the architect of Operation Medusa, where we removed 1,500 Taliban fighters off the battlefield . . . and I was proudly on the main assault."

He wasn't.

To be sure, he played a significant role, for which he deserved — and received — considerable credit from his fellow warriors. So why not leave it at that and carry on?

Well, he's never explained why he let his own vanity overrule his good sense, but he has been forced to apologize publicly numerous times and Trudeau has steadfastly stood behind his minister, arguing that Sajjan has apologized for his "mistake" and it's time to move on.

Not exactly. For one thing, it wasn't a "mistake." Turns out he had made the same bloated claim earlier and, according to Sajjan's spokeswoman Jordan Owens, the minister had personally inserted "the line about Medusa" into his text. This was no slip of the tongue, folks. This was a deliberate aggrandizement of his role and himself.

In a recent letter to the Toronto Star on the matter, CPO1(Ret'd) Jacques Lemieux of Windsor, N.S. wrote he was "totally shocked and disgusted . . . (Sajjan) has let down all serving members of our Canadian Forces and . . . the prime minister backs him up. Mr. Trudeau calls these lies 'mistakes.' Lying is not a mistake. It's a willful act."

Worse. When it comes to military matters — as opposed to normal politics — there is a great deal of honor involved. And taking credit for the work of others is what is contemptuously known as "stolen valor," a terrible condemnation of any soldier, let alone the serving minister of defence.

The normal military honor code demands that Sajjan should immediately give up his car and driver and ministerial privileges and do the right thing, i.e. resign.

But he's not doing that. And that's just fine with Trudeau.

How can the Liberals possibly expect the military to have any respect for or faith in a minister who has deliberately lied about his role in the field for no other purpose than to make himself look better?

Sure, the Liberals are now talking about spending a lot more on the military — and, by the way, Donald Trump is right to point out that we haven't been carrying our weight in NATO military expenses for decades, under both Tory and Liberal prime ministers.

Sometimes, after-the-fact apologies just don't cut it. This is one of those times. And it's very sad that the lure of political prestige has blackened an otherwise sterling military reputation.

ANNUAL TEA HOSTED BY RISING ANGELS

Inglewood Community Centre was the scene recently of the annual Cup of Hope fundraiser, put on by Rising Angels. Rising Angels founder Katarina MacLeod and Sheila Howlett were on hand to help welcome people to the tea, held to help raise awareness of matters involving human trafficking and prostitution, as well as the supports available to help women getting out of such situations.

Volunteer MBC hands out V-Oscars

By Bill Rea

Volunteers make major contributions to life in Peel Region, and it was time to recognize that recently.

Volunteer MBC hosted the V-Oscars in Mississauga to recognize the contributions of various groups and individuals, and Caledon was well represented at the ceremonies.

There were various categories of awards, and in some cases, there were three winners, representing each of the three municipalities in Peel.

In the Corporate Engagement Awards, sponsored by Mayor Allan Thompson and Councillor Jennifer Innis, the Caledon winner was the Bolton branch of Scotiabank.

The Caledon winner of the Helping Hands Award, sponsored by the Rotary Club of Palgrave, as well as clubs in Brampton and Mississauga, went to Madeline Adams of Caledon Community Services (CCS).

Kelly Towsley of CCS was the winner of the Leader in Volunteer Engagement Award, sponsored by Volunteer MBC Board member Arno Ilic.

Christina Radice of CCS was nominated for the Lifetime Volunteer Achievement Award, sponsored by Brampton Brick. It went to Antoinette Allen of Supportive Housing Peel.

Debbie Davis of Bethell Hospice and Michael Ortolan of the Bolton Braves Baseball Association were up for the Bonnie Yagar Award for Community Engagement Leadership, but it was won by Shelley White of Community Door.

Bonnie McTaggart of CCS was nominated for the John Huether Award for Volunteering excellence, but it went to Donna Madill of Big Brothers Big Sisters of Peel.

Former Mississauga mayor Hazel McCallion was on hand to present the Power of Giving Award named after her to Brampton resident Lois Rice.

The recipient was surprised at the selection.

"I'm in shock, and very honoured," she said in accepting it.

MC Jake Dheer of Rogers Media Inc., president of the Volunteer MBC Board, pointed out a lot of work has to go into what the agency does.

"This is such a dedicated staff," he declared. "I'm so blessed to work with this wonderful group."

"All of us are sent here for a reason," Volunteer MBC Executive Director Carine Strong said as she described her motivation for volunteering. "We're all blessed with very unique gifts."

She added volunteers exemplify what community spirit is all about, observing that helping others is empowering and has an impact. She also pointed out that without volunteers, a lot of essential services that seniors, young people and families depend on might not be available.

"It takes just one person to make a difference," Strong said. "You all get it."

"You have all touched people in a very special way," she added.

On Saturday May 27th, Jack.org will be hosting Jack Ride, Canada's ride for youth mental health with four routes passing through the town of Caledon

Riders will depart from Caledon Ski Club between 8-9:30am, and responsibly share the roads with drivers until event completion between 1-2pm. Main roads include: Mississauga Rd (between King and Queen Sts), Main St, (from Queen St to Orangeville-Caledon Town Line), Winston Churchill Blvd (between Orangeville-Caledon Town Line and Mayfield Rd), Heritage Rd (from Mayfield Rd to King St), and Old Baseline Rd (from Winston Churchill Blvd to Mississauga Rd).

Jack.org wishes to thank the people of Caledon for the privilege of hosting Jack Ride in your beautiful community.

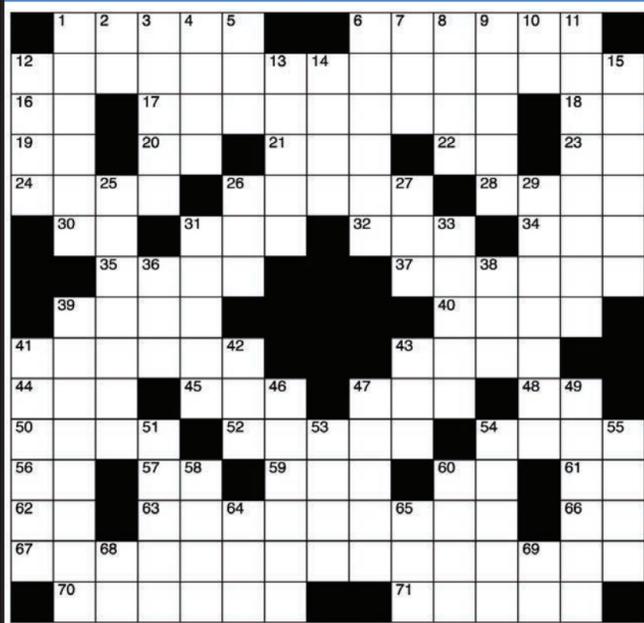

You're Invited to volunteer or cheer!

Volunteer MBC Executive Director Carine Strong commented on the many benefits of volunteering.

Work starts on Kennedy Road

Construction work on Kennedy Road is slated to continue to early September.

The Town of Caledon reports the construction work will take place from King Street to Olde Base Line Road, and will include replacement of all cross culverts and road reconstruction with asphalt and paved shoulders. Temporary lane closures are expected. Access to private property, however, will be maintained.

The work should be completed Sept. 1.

to those who contribute in the community

"Volunteering has so many benefits," Strong remarked, commenting that research indicates volunteering leads to better health. "The bottom line is if you do good, you feel good."

"What a gathering!" McCallion declared as she addressed the room and marvelled at the great experiences that were represented.

McCallion pointed out the country was founded by volunteers, and reflected on the organizations that have operated through the years because of volunteers.

She observed there are professional sports today because coaches volunteered to work with young athletes and help them excel.

McCallion added Mississauga has the Living Arts Centre because a group of volunteers got together to create it. The arena in Streetsville is still run by volunteers, and she said it has never needed tax dollars to operate.

She also said volunteers help museums operate economically.

"I have to tell you when government takes it over, it becomes more costly to run," she observed.

McCallion also said a volunteer is a happier person, as opposed to those who sit watching the news on TV and get depressed by what they see.

"If you're out volunteering, you're not listening to that horrible news report," she commented.

As well, she too made the point that volunteering is good for people's health.

"If you're out volunteering, you forget you've got something wrong with you," she remarked.

She added one thing she enjoyed doing during her time as mayor was presenting certificates of appreciation to volunteers. But she observed there's really no way to thank these people enough.

"There are no words that can express the thanks they should receive," she commented.

Citizenship and Immigration Minister Laura Albanese pointed out that volunteers help out in all sorts of areas.

"They don't get paid," she added. "They don't ask to get paid."

"There's no way to thank them enough," she added "The world would not be the same without them."

"It makes our job easier when you've got community volunteers," Thompson commented.

Former Mississauga mayor Hazel McCallion stated the country was founded by volunteers.

The Bolton branch of Scotiabank won a Corporate Engagement Award. On hand for the presentation was Volunteer MBC Board member Arno Ilic, branch Manager Frank Macellaio, Mayor Allan Thompson, Councillor Jennifer Innis and Rosa Evangelista and Sharon Sarini of Scotiabank.

Palgrave Rotarians Janet and Derek Clark were talking with Caledon resident Jane Scognamiglio, a member of Volunteer MBC's Events Committee.

Elmer Iseler Singers album nominated for a Juno award

By Constance Scrafield

The 20-voice Elmer Iseler Singers (EIS) professional choir has been nominated for a Juno Award this year.

Together with Tapestry Opera and the Gryphon Trio, conducted by Wayne Strongman, they performed The Black Star Requiem, by Canadian Composer Andrew Staniland. They are among five contenders for the Classical Album of the Year: Vocal or Choral Performance.

"We are thrilled with the nomination," EIS Artistic Director and Conductor Lydia Adams declared. "It's the first time for their own nomination."

In the course of their many concerts over the last 38 years, the EIS have never backed off dealing with tough issues. Indeed, over the weekend, at St. Anne's Anglican Church in Toronto, they sang an all-Armenian concert of sacred and secular music, with soprano Isabel Bayrakdarian.

Bayrakdarian came to Canada from Armenia when she was young. She graduated from the University of Toronto with a degree in biomedical, but her fabulous soprano voice has carried her from one success to the next. She has won four consecutive Junos for Best Classical Album.

"We wanted to bring attention to the potential for good of these refugees," Caledon resident Adams said. "Here is a wonderful singer who came here from Armenia early in her life and look at the richness she has brought to Canada."

The trick of this concert was to get it right.

"The music is easy, but the text is difficult — we found it tricky," Adams said. "There is one vowel which we can't say as we normally do — we are trying to get the words — so they sound correct."

This is one of the regular five concerts the EIS offers its subscribers but, in addition, they do much more. Last year, they went to the East Coast in July; this year it is the west for their touring concerts. They also sing in venues all over Ontario.

There is much more to the EIS tours than just singing on a stage, for everywhere they go to sing, they also share the joy of music with the communities with workshops for community choirs and schools.

"We are making music together with community music," Adams commented. "There is real elevation of joining all those people into one focus."

Adams was invited by Elmer Iseler, who lived in the hills of Albion, to play for his choir in 1981. By the mid '90s, Iseler, the most decorated musician in Canada, was ill. The choir's Board of Directors asked Adams to step in as Interim Conductor and when Dr. Iseler died in 1997, she was asked again to take over the job of Artistic Director and Conductor.

"The 20th anniversary of his passing is coming and we are going to acknowledge it, to truly celebrate his contribution to Canadian music," she remarked. "Certainly, all the mid to older conductors are influenced by Elmer in a positive way and many younger ones know of him and respect him, even at a distance."

Philosophically, she added, "Whatever you do, you're making ripples in the water and you hope those ripples are positive."

Her work with the EIS, the Amadeus Choir, as well as her other obligations, keep Adams busy, but she is proud of the support she gets from others.

"It's wonderful to have Jesse (Iseler, Elmer's widow) as manager of the choir," Adams commented.

Mrs. Iseler still lives in the area. Dr. Iseler is buried in the cemetery in Caledon East.

Although the EIS has travelled extensively across North America, they have not toured abroad. Funding is the main barrier, for this is a professional choir whose members must be paid per diem, their fares and needs supplied. In fact, the Board of Directors, who are dedicated to making a European tour happen, have established a fund to support the endeavour.

April saw the EIS travelling out west for a six-town tour of concerts and workshops with, once again, community choirs and schools through their Outreach program. As was the East Coast tour, the tour to Western Canada is funded in part by the Canada Council for the Arts and the Ontario Arts Council.

Part of the mantra of the artistic direction of the EIS is to engage and encourage Canadian talent in composing and singing in a "workshop situation."

The EIS commission and perform many new works by Canadian composers.

In spite of a busy schedule with the concerts and tours, the members of the EIS have outside lives which they sometimes need balancing to accommodate the demands of the choir. One lady is a aerospace engineer, specializing in micro satellites and has been involved in the mechanics behind more than one space adventure.

Another is a physician. Others have lives full-time in music as teachers, musical leaders — and one in a rock band.

"We are a professional company," Adams said. "We work closely together to make sure they do things outside the choir for the sake of the richness they provide."

Later in the day, there was a call with Mrs. Iseler. She wanted to talk about the proposal for an Arts Centre for Caledon. There is currently a survey on the Town's website, inviting people to comment on the benefits of such a structure.

"There is a community centre, hockey facilities and other sports centres, everything — with the arts coming last, and they are still not sure," she said, noting the survey. "Certainly, there should be an arts centre — a performing arts centre with an art gallery and teaching space for the arts. It would be a remarkable addition to the town."

There was a brief discussion about the enthusiastic community of arts across the Headwaters area, with so much to offer not only the residents but to attract visitors to the region.

Said Mrs. Iseler, "We have sung in so many churches in the area. Caledon needs its own performing arts centre."

These young Peel 4-H members were holding up some of the patches they embroidered, which will come together in a quilt created in honour of Canada's 150th anniversary.

4-Her's celebrate Canada's 150th

Kayla Emmerton

In honour of Canada's 150th birthday, members of Peel 4-H had an amazing time taking part of a craft club that has been around longer than Canada — Embroidery.

Members were able to "learn to do by doing" by learning a variety of different stitches, like the lazy daisy and the blanket stitch — a common stitch found on the edges of many fleece blankets.

For their final project, members decided to embroider the provincial flowers of Canada and quilt them together to create a wall hanging. The squares turned out very beautiful, and the quilt will be auctioned off at 4-H awards night in the fall.

Through this fun and stimulating club, 4-Her's were able to enjoy socializing and working together just like they did 100 years ago.

CVC helps protect property and the environment

Credit Valley Conservation (CVC) will host a Caring for your Land and Water workshop to help landowners care for natural areas on their properties and protect the environment.

The workshop takes place May 24 from 6:30 to 9 p.m. at Terra Cotta Conservation Area, 14452 Winston Churchill Blvd.

The workshop is designed for landowners across the watershed who are interested in learning more about their rural properties and taking action to make environmental improvements. Registration for the workshop is almost full.

"Landowners are taking advantage of this workshop to make the most of their rural properties," CVC's Deputy CAO and Director of Watershed Transformation Mike Puddister said. "It's great to see how property owners want to restore natural areas, provide habitat for wildlife and protect water sources by caring for their septic and wells."

By attending a Caring for your Land and Water workshop, participants become eligible to apply for funding through CVC's Landowner Action Fund. Since the funding program was launched in 2014, more than $100,000 has been awarded to landowners for environmental projects on their properties.

Space is limited for the workshop, so register at www.creditvalleyca.ca/events

For more information, call 1-800-668-5557, ext. 436. Preference will be given to landowners owning one acre or more of rural property in the Credit River watershed.

The next Caring for your Land and Water workshop will take place Oct. 21 in Mono.

Workshops are free thanks to funding from CVC's regional and municipal partners.

Hike for Bethell Hospice raises record $150,000

Nearly 600 participants gathered in Inglewood Sunday at the annual Hike for Bethell Hospice.

This year's event raised an unprecedented $150,000 for the Bethell Hospice Foundation, shattering the event's goal by $20,000.

The event featured an accessible, five kilometre hike along the Caledon Trailway, a memory board full of remembrances, a barbecue lunch prepared by the Caledon Lions Club, a silent auction supported by countless local businesses, and a tremendous feeling of positive good will.

Bethell Hospice Foundation co-chair, Tim Powell, thanked the large crowd for their generous support.

"Each of you here today is aware how vital the services of Bethell Hospice are to our community," he said. "As the words on the back of our hike t-shirts remind us, Bethell Hospice is a place of caring, compassion, love, empathy, respect, comfort, serenity and peace. Many of you have experienced those feelings first hand, and each of you have cared enough to come forward today, to ensure that Bethell Hospice services will be here for the next families in need. Thank you all so much for your belief in the importance of Bethell Hospice in our community."

Government funding covers only 60 per cent of the cost to operate Bethell Hospice. Each year, the Foundation must raise $1,000,000 to keep the doors open, and provide services at no cost to residents, program participants or their families. Bethell Hospice is the only residential hospice serving Caledon, Brampton, Dufferin County and West Woodbridge, and also offers Community Programs throughout Caledon and Brampton.

Hike for Bethell Hospice was presented by Meadowvale Cemetery, Cremation and Funeral Centres and The Simple Alternative Funeral Centres — Mississauga. The hike was also supported by Platinum Level Community Partners Brampton Brick, Cart-All Express Inc., Cavalier Transportation Services and Scotiabank, as well as a host of gold, silver, bronze and route sponsors.

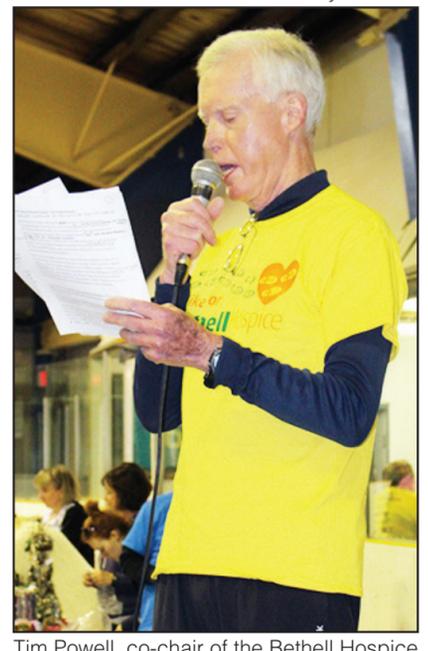

Walk participants were making their way along the Caledon Trailway Sunday.

Judy Held, a personal support worker at Bethell Hospice, read a poem to the assembled walkers before they headed out.

Tim Powell, co-chair of the Bethell Hospice Foundation, stressed the importance of fundraising events to help the agency provide the programs and services it does.

Town reviewing Palgrave Estates

The Town of Caledon is conducting a review of the Palgrave Estate Policy Area, and will be hosting an open house on the matter June 1.

It will run from 7 to 9 pm. at Caledon Equestrian Park, 200 Pine Ave. in Palgrave.

The Town is conducting the review to determine where and how to accommodate the residential and population-related growth anticipated for the area to 2031.

A key intent of this review is to ensure that the policies are reflective of Provincial policy changes since the Secondary Plan was put in place approximately 30 years ago. The outcome of the study will be a new framework for future growth in the Palgrave Estate residential community that is grounded in an understanding of Provincial policy, environmental constraints, servicing policies and broader community planning principles.

The open house will include a brief presentation providing an overview of the project and identifying other public engagement opportunities; a poster display with project information and an open session where participants can continue the discussion in their groups, and talk to staff about the project.

Junior C Bandits are still searching for first win of the season

By Jake Courtepatte

Another rough showing in both the penalty box and on the scoreboard landed the Junior C Caledon Bandits back-to-back losses over the weekend, and a four-game losing streak to start the season.

Meeting a pair of difficult teams in the Oakville Buzz and Six Nations Warriors, Caledon's goals-against continued to struggle as they allowed 28 markers over the two games.

Saturday night's match against the Buzz actually proved to be tame, with Caledon picking up just four minutes in penalties. Austin Heughan traded goals with Oakville's Kevin Power for a 1-1 tie after 20 minutes, before Oakville rattled off seven goals in the second period to take a commanding lead.

Heughan found the back of the net again, as did Jonathan Ferguson and Josh MacIsaac, though the Bandits eventually fell 9-4.

As is often the case, Sunday's rumble at Iroquois Lacrosse Arena with the Warriors was a much more physical battle, with a constant cycle to the box for both sides. Six Nations managed seven goals in each of the first and second periods, with the game getting out of hand in the third once the winning side was all but settled.

Six Caledon players found the back of the net in an eventual 19-8 loss, namely Heughan, Jordan Oshowy, Scott Edwards, Trevor Blumbergs, and a pair each from Spencer Wood and Dimitri Meszaros.

An 0-4 start to the season has the Bandits in the basement of the Ontario Junior C Lacrosse League's West division. Both Oakville and Six Nations sit atop the ladder, in a three-way tie with the Fergus Thistles.

The Clarington Shamrox and Whitby Warriors lead the East division with undefeated starts to the season.

Caledon continues play Friday when they visit the Mimico Mountaineers, a game which should result in one team earning their first win of the season.

They return home next Tuesday to host the Wilmot Wild (1-1-0) at Caledon East. The opening faceoff is set for 8p.m.

For stats and schedules, visit www.banditslacrosse.com/jrc

Caledon's Trevor Blumbergs looks to get around a Six Nations defender in the Bandits' loss to the Warriors at Iroquois Lacrosse Arena Sunday.

C3 Kids of Steel race is May 28

Benson Steel and Royal Containers will present the 2017 C3 Kinetic Kids of Steel Triathlon May 28.

The traditional community event started as a way to celebrate Olympic Gold Medalist Simon Whitfield's Sydney victory in 2000. Whitfield had been a Kids of Steel Triathlete and the program's founder was Caledon's Barrie Shepley.

Shepley and Whitfield started up a friendship three decades ago and after the Sydney Games in 2000, many local Caledon residents came together to create and host the yearly Kids of Steel Triathlon.

"Big cities like Mississauga don't have a Kids of Steel Triathlon, but due to the generosity of Kinetic, Benson Steel, Royal Containers and Caledon Hills Bike Shop, we have one of the biggest triathlons in the country," Shepley declared.

The event is open to virtually every age group.

The youngest category is for boys and girls aged three to six. The youngest distance allows life-jackets, tricycles and a very short jog to the finishing line. Every youngster in that category gets a toy, in addition to their lunch, a t-shirt and a finishers' medal.

Age categories run all the way from seven up to 18 and then adult waves from 20 to 70-plus.

The event takes place at the Mayfield Recreation Complex. The bike race for all athletes older than six years of age will be on Bramalea Road, which will be closed to traffic. The run will be on the Mayfield Secondary School track and trails.

The day will start with the adult waves (400-metre swim, 15-kilometre bike race and five-kilometre run) and move to the younger age categories throughout the day. Every participant gets a high-tech race shirt, a Lions Club post-race meal, a finishers' medal and a chance for some awards.

"Our priority is fun and fitness and we have many families that are doing the race again this year," said race director Stewart Barclay.

Caledon's Olympian Andrew Yorke got started in the local race when he was just 12. Canada's top ranked international athlete, Taylor Reid is a Mayfield graduate who go this start in the local Kids of Steel Triathlon a dozen years ago. His mother Peggy and father Jim are both yearly participants in the local race.

C3 is looking for people to help volunteer (email saara.naudts@icloud.com) and to register check out the C3 website at www.c3online.ca

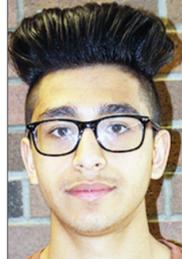

C3's Sean Bechtel and his son Ross will both be participating in the 2017 Kids of Steel race.

ATHLETES OF THE WEEK

	Marc-Anthony Colancia Mayfield Secondary School		Mitchell Price Robert F. Hall Catholic Secondary School
	Robert Grzesiuk St. Michael Catholic Secondary School		Kathleen McGhee Humberview Secondary School

The Grade 9 student is playing mid-field on the junior boys' soccer team, which has opened the season with a 2-1 record. Earlier in the school year, he played on the junior volleyball team, and was a guard on the junior basketball squad. Away from school, he's a rep player in the Brampton Youth Soccer Club organization. The 15-year-old lives in ValleyWood.

This 14-year-old has been making his mark in track and field; particularly in the shot put. He's competed in two meets so far this season, and has won gold at both. His best throw is 12.23 metres. In the fall, he played defensive tackle on the varsity football team, and was a centre on the junior basketball team. In the community, he plays rep football for the Guelph Junior Gryphons. This Grade 9 student lives in Alton.

The Grade 12 student is currently taking part in track and field, with a focus on the discus. He's been in three meets so far, and brought home gold from all three. His best toss is 39.51 metres. He also played middle on the senior volleyball team. Away from school, he used to take part in the Brampton Track Club. The 17-year-old lives in Bolton.

This 16-year-old plays defence for the varsity soccer team at school, which split their first two games of the season. She was also a running back on the flag football team in the fall, and played on the junior volleyball team, which made it to the semifinals. In the community, she plays rep soccer with the Bolton Wanderers. The Grade 10 student lives in Bolton.

CARD OF THANKS CARD OF THANKS OBITUARIES OBITUARIES

James Wilson French

We would like to offer our heartfelt thanks to family, friends and the community during this difficult time of loss. It was comforting to be surrounded with the outpouring of support in the memory of Wilson. Thank you for the many condolences, donations, flowers and acts of kindness.

Lily and family.

DEVOGEL, Ena

Peacefully at Shelburne Residence on Sunday, May 7, 2017 at the age of 87. Beloved wife of the late Aalt (1994). Dear mother of Margie Morey (Drew), Jeannie DeVoegel, Fred (Karen), Susan Troch (Bob) and Cindy McQueen (Paul). Cherished Oma of Jason, Chris, Erin, Becky, Andrew, Tara, Sarah, James, Ryan, Shawn, Jamie, Matthew, Stephen and Jacob. Great-Oma of Emma, Janessa, Mieke, Nevin, Liam, Everett and Charlotte. Ena will be remembered by her sisters Jeanne Brandes and Cora Glebbeek and her brothers Piet (Wil), Rien (Ans), Jan (Elly). Ena will be greatly missed by other relatives and many friends. Visitation will be held at the Dods & McNair Funeral Home, Chapel & Reception Centre, 21 First Street, Orangeville on Thursday, May 11, 2017 from 2:00-4:00 and 7:00-9:00 p.m. Funeral Service will be held at the Christian Reformed Church, 50 Blind Line, Orangeville on Friday, May 12, 2017 at 11:00 a.m. Memorial donations to the Alzheimer Society would be appreciated by the family. A tree will be planted in memory of Ena in the Dods & McNair Memorial Forest at the Island Lake Conservation Area, Orangeville. A dedication service will be held on Sunday, September 10, 2017 at 2:30 p.m. Condolences may be offered to the family at www.dodsandmcnair.com

IN MEMORIAM IN MEMORIAM

George Elwood Simpson

In loving memory of our Father/Poppa

February 27, 1923 - May 10, 1997

What we would give if we could say Hello, Dad, in the same old way; To hear your voice, see your smile, To sit with you and chat awhile. So you who have a father, Cherish him with care, For you'll never know the heartache Till you see his vacant chair.

You are so dearly loved and missed! Melody, Rick, Paula, Sarah and family

DONOHUE, Paul

Passed away peacefully on Saturday, May 6, 2017, at the Headwaters Health Care Centre, Orangeville, where he had been a volunteer. For many years, Paul won an award as Ontario volunteer of the year. Predeceased by his parents, Helen and Frank. Paul leaves three brothers, Donald, James and William. Donohues were long time residents of Orangeville, where his father had a shoe store on Broadway. Paul was a very active fund raiser for multiple charities, playing his mouth organ at markets and at other events. The family will receive their friends at the Egan Funeral Home, 203 Queen Street S. (Hwy. 50), Bolton (905-857-2213) on Thursday morning, May 11 from 10:30 until time of funeral service in the chapel at 11:30 a.m. Interment will be at Forest Lawn Cemetery in Orangeville. In lieu of flowers, a donation to the hospital would be appreciated. Condolences for the family may be offered at www.EganFuneralHome.com

Mayor Allan Thompson unhooked the belt to officially open Evolve Friday, assisted by Caledon Community Services CEO Monty Laskin, Dufferin-Caledon MPP Sylvia Jones, contractor Ira Idzkowski of Torcon Ltd. Councillor Johanna Downey, CCS Board Chair Carine Strong and Catherine Adair, manager of retail operations for CCS.

CCS volunteers and staff praised for efforts in getting Evolve off the ground

contractor Ira Idzkowski of Torcon Ltd. "It's been a year of lots and lots of frustration," Laskin said, adding Idz-kowski kept telling him, "Just leave it with me." "Ira has been exceptional," Laskin added.

The retail operation will be taking up most of the main floor of the building, but Laskin said there are plans for the second floor. He said there will be a training centre there to support people who need help getting employment skills. He said they are looking for a federal grant to assist in that regard.

As well, Laskin paid tribute to the many volunteers on which the agency depends, as he said hundreds of hours have been put in to sorting, cleaning and hanging the merchandise.

"They're absolutely priceless," he declared.

He also praised the agency staff. "They have gone over and above the call of duty," he said. "It has required an extraordinary effort to open this place."

Author Dale O'Hara did a reading of her book The Story of Caledon Then and Now last week to students at Ellwood Memorial Public School.

Book about Caledon's history launched

By Bill Rea

Caledon students have the chance to learn some more about the history of their community, thanks to a book that was recently launched.

Representatives of the Caledon Heritage Foundation were at Ellwood Memorial Public School in Bolton for the official launch of the Story of Caledon Then and Now by Dale O'Hara.

The author was on hand for the occasion, reading from the book for Grade 3 students, and the youngsters also got their own copies of the book. The project was made possible through funding from the Town of Caledon, and the Brampton and Caledon Community Foundation, as well as work done by volunteers on the Heritage Foundation Board. Other dignitaries on hand included Trustee Stan Cameron, Caledon's representative on the Peel District School Board and Superintendent of Schools Michael Logue.

O'Hara told the students this year mark's Canada's 150th anniversary, adding many people in town don't know a lot about Caledon.

Local youths among Duke of Edinburgh Award recipients

By Bill Rea

The Scouting and Guiding movements have a long history of producing achievers, and evidence of that is easy to find.

There were more examples presented Saturday in Toronto as more than 100 young people received their Silver Awards of Achievement in the Duke of Edinburgh's International Award program from Lt.-Gov. Elizabeth Dowdeswell.

They included four representatives of the 1st Bolton Scouts and one member of the 1st Bolton Pathfinders.

In order to qualify for the award, the young people have to complete an adventurous journey, perform community service, be active in some form of physical recreation and demonstrate a skill.

Pathfinder Caelyn Greaves said her journey had her canoeing through Algonquin Park. She also volunteers her time as a Sparks leader, plays the piano and stays active by hiking, cycling and going to the gym.

"It's just fantastic," she declared, describing the program, adding the experience has helped her get two jobs.

Among the Scouts being recognized was Max Gungter, who took part in a canoe trip to Algonquin Park and has volunteered with the FIRST robotics group. He plays the trumpet and is active in track and field, cross-country running and personal fitness.

"I had a great time balancing my life to fit the expectations of the award and finding what I really enjoyed doing in the community," he said. "I found that I like to teach younger kids and help them learn new information."

"I also enjoyed finding a suitable recreational activity, as I found great magnetism and connection to running while doing my Silver Duke of Edinburgh Award," he added.

Johnathan Quintal also canoed through Algonquin Park and has volunteered as a Beaver leader, as well as an instructor at Fort George Camp. He's active in tennis, soccer and skiing, and plays percussion.

"The Duke of Edinburgh's Silver Award has opened my eyes to a new world for personal growth and success through the many skills and experiences I have witnessed due to the completion of this honourable award," he commented.

Tanner Krauter did camping and canoeing as his adventurous journey. His community service has included helping to build a camp in Alaska and being an assistant drama instructor. His physical activities include rock climbing, hiking and running, and he's training to become a small aircraft pilot.

"I am working toward my Gold Award, and have really enjoyed the experience that has helped me to become more active in my community," he observed.

Tottenham resident Barry Austen took part in a canoe trip, volunteers his time coaching baseball, is active in skating and shown his skill in drivers ed.

"The Duke of Edinburgh has gotten me more into the community and has kept me active, and has gotten me to try new things," he said.

His interests include camping and playing baseball. His plans for the future include post-secondary schooling to study chemistry.

The ceremony was held at Toronto Police College, and Superintendent Peter Lennox extended the welcomes, while complimenting the award recipients.

First Bolton Scout Leader Steve Vickers, Contact Guider with the 1st Bolton Rangers and Scout Leader Karen Matson (far right) were on hand Saturday to see Tanner Krauter, Max Gunter, Caelyn Greaves, Brady Austen and Johnathan Quintal receive their Silver Awards of Achievement in the Duke of Edinburgh's International Award program.

"It's a wonderful occasions and it's OK to be a little bit proud," he remarked.

In her remarks, Dowdeswell mentioned the news from earlier in the week that Prince Philip, Duke of Edinburgh, had announced he would be retiring. She pointed to the years of service he has given to the Commonwealth.

She also congratulated the recipients on their achievements, complimenting them on the skills they have demonstrated which will serve the country and province into the future, including teamwork, creativity and the ability to have an open mind. She added they have accomplished many tasks that will enable them to be trail blazers.

"I believe all of you will thrive in this rapidly changing world," she declared, wishing them well, "because we're all counting on you."

Alton Grange AGM May 16

The Alton Grange Association will be holding its annual general meeting this coming Tuesday (May 16)

It will start at 7 p.m. at the Paul Morin Gallery (the former town hall) at 19741 Main St. in Alton.

The guest speaker will be Dr. Sherri Cox from the National Wildlife Centre. She will talk about the wildlife rehabilitation and medicine work that is done to heal sick, injured and orphaned wildlife.

This is a free family friendly event and everyone is welcome.

Keep safety rules in mind with fireworks for Victoria Day

With Victoria Day celebrations fast approaching, Caledon Fire and Emergency Services remind retailers and homeowners that there are responsibilities when it comes to selling, purchasing and setting off fireworks. The goal is to ensure holiday celebrations can be enjoyed safely by everyone.

Selling
Retailers can only sell fireworks during the 10 days prior to Victoria Day, starting May 12. All retailers must purchase a permit from Caledon Fire and Emergency Services at a cost of $179. Fire prevention staff will be conducting fire safety inspections to verify compliance with the bylaw and any other federal and provincial regulations.

Discharging
The Town strictly prohibits setting off fireworks on public property, parkland, parks, roads or sidewalks. Fireworks can only be set off Victoria Day (May 22) and only then on private property. Discharging fireworks on any other day is in contravention of the bylaw and is subject to a fine.

Safety Guidelines

- Keep sparklers away from children. Hot sparklers can burn.
- Appoint a responsible person to be in charge.
- Carefully read and follow the directions on fireworks packaging.
- Always keep a hose or pail of water close by when discharging fireworks.

- Discharge fireworks well away from combustible materials such as buildings, trees or dry grass.
- Keep onlookers a safe distance away, upwind from the area where fireworks are discharged.
- Light only one firework at a time and only when they are on the ground.
- Never try to light a firework in your hand or re-light dud fireworks.
- For dud fireworks, wait 30 minutes, soak them in a bucket of water and then dispose of them in a metal container.
- If someone is burned, run cool water over the wound for three to five minutes and seek medical attention, if necessary.
- If using wheel-type fireworks nail them securely to a post or fence and allow spinning clearance.
- Be especially vigilant with children around.

Obtain a Permit
Permits can be obtained at Fire and Emergency Services, 6211 Old Church Rd., Caledon East.
For more information about the Town of Caledon Fireworks Bylaw, visit caledon.ca/by-laws.

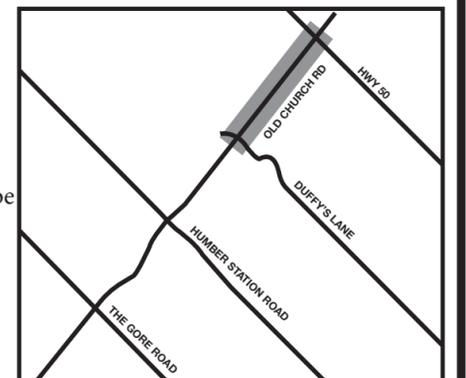

Notice of Road Closure

Old Church Road from Duffy's Lane to Hwy 50 will be closed from May 15 to September 15 for the bridge construction.

Access to local businesses/properties will be maintained at all times. No through traffic will be permitted from Duffy's lane to Hwy 50.

Driver charged with having twice the legal alcohol limit

A 38-year-old man from Mississauga is facing a couple of charges after an early morning incident on Highway 10 April 26.

Caledon OPP reports they received a complaint shortly after 6 a.m. of a red Ford Focus heading south and being driven erratically. Police were able to find the car south of Charleston Sideroad.

By the time they were able to stop the car, they discovered it had been operating with the left front tire half off its rim. That had caused sparks, as well as debris from the tire flying onto the road.

Upon investigation, the officer determined that the driver's ability to operate a vehicle was impaired by alcohol, so the man was arrested.

He was charged with driving while his ability was impaired, driving with more than the legal amount of alcohol in his system and dangerous operation of a motor vehicle. His licence was suspended for 90 days, and car was impounded for seven.

Police are expressing appreciation to the citizen who called 9-1-1 to report this incident. They pointed out they can't be everywhere all the time, so they rely on this kind of help.

Mental health awareness still a concern

From Dec. 1, 2015 to Nov. 1, 2016, officers from Caledon OPP responded to 543 occurrences related to mental health (compared to 306 in the same period of the previous year).

Thanks to a partnership between the Canadian Mental Health Association (CMHA), Peel Branch and Caledon OPP, police have been able to work collaboratively to assist residents of Caledon who find themselves in crisis, struggling with mental health and/or addictions.

The team operates seven days a week between 10 a.m. and 10 p.m. and consists of a plain-clothes officer partnered up with a mental health professional from CMHA Peel. The program is referred to as 24.7 Crisis Support Peel. The team of registered mental health professionals may also visit individuals where they are to provide support.

Police believe the community should know that this team represents a community crisis service, which offers timely response to adults (16 years and older) experiencing problems involving mental health or addictions, as well as those having trouble coping, along with family, caregivers and friends needing support.

For residents in Caledon, professional support is available 24 hours a day seven days a week by calling 1-888-811-2222.

Caledon OPP encourages residents to utilize this support if they ever find themselves or someone near to them struggling and in need of assistance.

Tempers erupt at latest Caledon Townhall Players performance

By Bill Rea

Anyone who's been in the workforce for any length of time knows colleagues can sometimes get on each other's nerves.

Combine that stress with the pressures placed on those who have to perform regularly on TV, and throw in a few extra complications, and there's room for plenty of laughs and a few tears.

That's what the Caledon Townhall Players (CTHP) are currently exploring in their production of Point of Viewing, a comedy by Todd McGinnis.

Directed by Melinda Briell and produced by Kim Blacklock, the play deals with three women, Tabitha, Raquel and Sincerity (played respectively by Monique Bourgeois, Laura McGowan and Blacklock) who co-host a popular daytime TV talkshow. It's time for the 10th anniversary show, but the pre-recorded broadcast has been destroyed because of a technical glitch. That means they are going to have to do it live, and none of them are really up to that task. Tabitha arrives at the studio after a party, and is dealing with a hangover, and the other two have a few choice barbs to send each other's way.

"You're on those diet pills again, aren't you?" Sincerity snaps at Raquel at one point.

The hapless floor director Brad (Mahaffey Khan) is slowly being driven out of his mind by the bickering and the ill-equipped studio.

Add to that concerns about memos, the future of the show, who might be on their way out, and concerns about possible backstabbing, and the first act is filled with wild antics, complete with pithy dialogue and some pretty unusual costumes.

The second act is a little more serious, as they go live with the show, welcoming a frequent guest Dr. D (Brian Molleur), who slowly gets confused as the three women take shots at each other, while Brad desperately waves the cue cards, trying to get everyone back on the script. Although the chaos continues, there's some exploration of the fears and apprehensions, not to mention 10 years of baggage the women have been carrying.

Stage managed by Kay Lyons and Chuck Blacklock, the result is a sometimes hilarious, at other times poignant romp through human relationships.

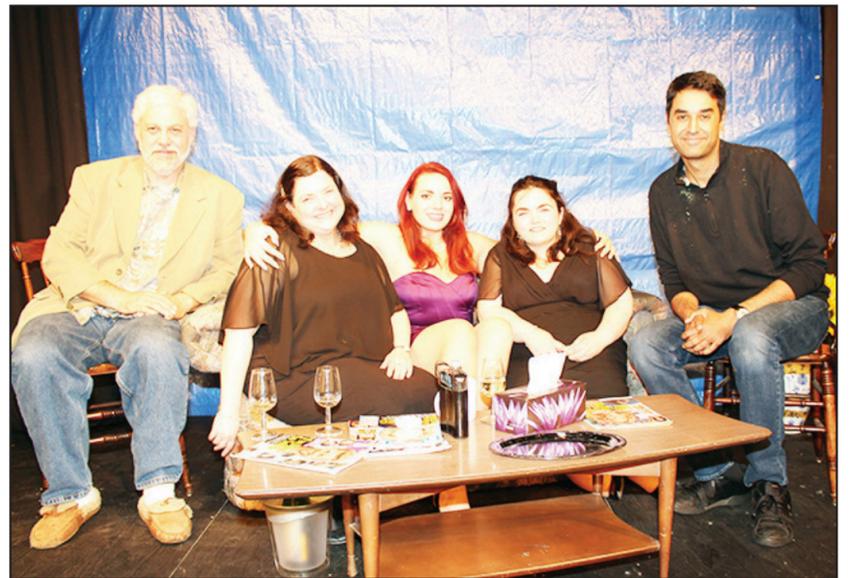

With five parts, the cast in this play is smaller than what audiences at CTHP might be used to, but that too allows for more exploration into the various relationships.

The only set, built and decorated by the Blacklocks, is the TV studio, laid out with the appropriate furnishings, and complete with the customary blue wall.

Performances of Point of Viewing are scheduled for tomorrow (Friday) night and Saturday, with both matinee and dinner theatre performance planned for Saturday.

For more information, go to www.caledon-townhallplayers.com

The cast of the Caledon Townhall Players' production of Point of Viewing consists of Brian Molleur, Kim Blacklock, Laura McGowan, Monique Bourgeois and Mahaffey Khan.

Concert Band planning Canada 150 event

The next performance by the Caledon Concert Band will also be a celebration of Canada's 150th anniversary.

The concert will be May 28, starting at 2 p.m. at Caledon Community Complex in Caledon East.

This will be an all-ages event with cafe-style seating and a dance floor suitable for affordable, casual family fun.

The program will include a wide variety of music styles, including jazz, swing, disco, patriotic marches, classical and even klesmer. Fred Stride's rousing arrangement of O Canada will get hearts glowing for the true north strong and free.

Admission will be free for children aged 12 and younger. Tickets will be $15 for adults and $10 for seniors and students. Proceeds will help fund the projects and scholarships of the Caledon Concert Band Association, a registered charitable not-for-profit community organization.

For more information or to purchase online advance tickets and reserve group rate tables, go to www.caledonconcertband.ca

Local Expo connects teen comic enthusiasts

Calling all superhero fans, anime addicts, sci-fi lovers and comic book enthusiasts!

Caledon Public Library is hosting the second annual Comic Expo for Teens May 13 at the Albion-Bolton Branch from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m.

This year's expo will feature a variety of fun-filled, comic-themed events, including an escape room challenge, trivia, art and design activities and more. Local collectibles store Nobletoyz Bolton will be on site throughout the day, as well as a special effects makeup artist.

"There will be lots of chances to win prizes throughout the day," said Laurie Groe, manager of youth services. "Attendees who dress up as their favourite fandom character have the chance to win a gift card to Nobletoyz and those who post photos using #CPLComicExpo also have the chance to win prizes during the event."

For more details, visit the library website or pick-up the Comic Expo for Teens brochure at any library branch.

Pet-friendly reminders brought to you by the Town's Animal Services Team!

CALEDON LEASH-FREE PARK

That's right, the Town has a leash-free park located beside the Caledon Animal Shelter at 12889 Coleraine Drive in Bolton! The park is open daily, dawn to dusk. A list of common courtesy rules for the use of the park are posted on-site.

ANNUAL VET VISIT

Spring is a great time to book your pet(s) in for a visit with your veterinarian to discuss heartworm, flea and tick preventative options. Exposure is at peak during the spring, summer and fall months.

PET IDENTIFICATION MEASURES

The Town no longer licenses dogs. However, we strongly encourage pet owners to microchip your pet(s), and ensure their collar contains an identification tag with their name and your contact information. This assists with the safe return of lost pets. Identification tags can be purchased from local pet stores. Microchip services are available from a licensed veterinarian.

POOP AND SCOOP

A friendly reminder to please scoop if your pet poops! Unfortunately the poo fairy doesn't service the Caledon area and you are responsible to pick up after your pets!

PET ADOPTION PROGRAM

Are you looking for a furry edition to your family? The Caledon Animal Services Adoption Program seeks to find homes for healthy cats and dogs in their care! For more information, please contact us at 905.857.5208, send us an email at animal.services@caledon.ca or drop in and visit us at 12889 Coleraine Drive. National Access Awareness Week May 29 – June 4, 2017

National Access Awareness Week began in 1988 to honour Rick Hanson. In 1985, he began a two-year 40,000 km journey through 34 countries in his wheelchair to raise awareness about the need for accessibility for people with disabilities. Since then, communities across Canada have continued Hansen's mission during the last week of May.

DID YOU KNOW?

- 15% of Ontarians live with some form of a disability;
- Approximately 10% of the Caledon population has some form of a disability;
- Individuals with disabilities are impacted daily by barriers to accessible information, independent access to facilities, to employment, transportation and accessible communication supports;
- The Town of Caledon's Accessibility Advisory Committee is a citizen volunteer committee dedicated to the identification, removal and prevention of barriers for persons with disabilities;

National Access Awareness Week is an opportunity to celebrate accessibility and increase our efforts to achieve our goal of becoming a fully-accessible community and province.

Drive carefully as work crews clear vegetation from roads and ditches

Trees, brush, and even overgrown grass and weeds can be a hazard along the 1,601 lane km of roads the Town of Caledon maintains.

MAINTAINING A ROADSIDE CLEAR ZONE

- Improves sightlines and space for drivers, which makes roads safer;
- Provides space for snow removal and storage during the winter months;
- Allows warming sunshine to reduce ice buildup in the winter; and
- Restores proper drainage in ditches.

The recommended clear zone for paved roads is at least 3 meters and at least 2 meters for gravel roads.

Throughout the year roads crews use a variety of methods to keep the roads clear. The most common, and efficient approach is with large, powerful brushes mounted on trucks, although in some situations staff will also clear by hand. Grass and weeds are trimmed with large mowers.

WHAT ABOUT THE MESS?

Even though mechanical brushing is not the most aesthetically pleasing, the foliage does tend to grow back quickly. Our goal is to trim enough to last five years. And our crews do go out to clean the roadside after the brushing.

Caledon Public Library receives Angus Mowat Award Of Excellence

Caledon Public Library has received the 2016 Angus Mowat Award of Excellence.

The award was presented to the Library's CEO and Chief Librarian Colleen Lipp by Tourism, Culture and Sport Minister Eleanor McMahon, in front of an audience of librarians from all over Ontario. This took place in February at Ontario Library Association's annual conference in Toronto.

The award was given in recognition of Caledon Public Library's Click•Create•Celebrate initiative, an annual contest encouraging submissions of short stories, poetry, short films and photography from all age groups. It culminates in an event celebrating the talent and creativity of all participants and the unveiling of a published compilation of all winning entries.

"CPL recognizes the inherent value of building a culture of creativity and our Click•Create•Celebrate initiative offers the tools to create and cultivate, rather than simply consume the works of others," Lipp commented. "Click•Create•Celebrate provides a forum to recognize and highlight the talent of local authors, writers, photographers and filmmakers in our own community."

Caledon Public Library would also like to acknowledge the financial support of Friends of Caledon Public Library who make this initiative possible. Click•Create•Celebrate 2017 is already underway. For all the details along with submission deadlines visit the library website at www.caledon.library.on.ca

Fines Ford Lincoln has partnered with Allan Drive Middle School to put on a Drive4WE event.

It will be this Saturday (May 13) from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. at Fines Ford, 10 Simona Dr. in Bolton.

For every valid test-drive completed, Ford Motor Company will donate $20 to the school; to a maximum of $6,000.

There will also be lots of prizes that day. They will be giving away tickets to see Toronto FC, Blue Jays, Leafs, movies and the Shawn Mendes concert.

From coast to coast, between May 7 and 13, Ford of Canada is partnering with schools across the country and WE charities to help make a difference to communities on both a local and global scale.

Since 2010, Ford has raised $8 million for worthy causes and school partners.

NEW Hearing Aid Technology

Finally a hearing aid that allows you to hear in all directions!

This latest digital technology solves the biggest challenge for hearing aid wearers – hearing well in noisy environments.

Traditional hearing aids only allow the wearer to hear in one direction, which can make it difficult to hear in a public setting like a restaurant. Now with this new breakthrough technology, the wearer can enjoy a dynamic soundscape and differentiate between speech and noise.

Nobody will notice it because of its minute size, fitting snugly and comfortably just behind the ear. Everything works automatically, so you can get back to enjoying your relationships, rather than thinking about your hearing.

Jones denies Liberal charges of delaying safety measures

By Bill Rea

The Liberal Caucus at Queen's Park has issued a statement blaming Sylvia Jones for standing in the way of community safety, but Dufferin-Caledon's MPP is not fazed.

In fact, she said she's in good company, as similar statements have been issued naming other Progressive Conservative colleagues of hers.

"Frankly, I'm very disappointed that this is the tack that they've taken," she remarked.

The statement from the Liberals concerns Bill 65, the Safer School Zones Act, which they said is in response to calls from municipalities, parents and students for action to stop speeding and target dangerous drivers.

"Last week, Dufferin-Caledon MPP Sylvia Jones and the Progressive Conservatives made a calculated political decision to prevent the passage of this critical student safety legislation — legislation that parents say cannot come soon enough," the Liberals charged, adding that Lisa Parker, president of the parents' association at Allenby Junior Public School in North Toronto, directly told Tory MPPs that schools are "doing all that we can to raise awareness (but) what we need is enforcement."

"Anything we can do to increase safety in our school zones should be a non-partisan issue," Toronto District School Board Trustee Jennifer Arp added. "We shouldn't have one party trying to obstruct and hold-up the passing of this legislation."

But Jones countered the Tories put forth proposed amendments to the bill in committee. One was based on a private members bill that had been supported by all parties, but which the Grits defeated at committee with their majority. It dealt with equipping school buses with cameras to help catch "blowbys," or motorists who pass buses when children are getting on or off.

"Sounds like student safety to me," she remarked.

Jones also observed that proposing amendments at committee is nothing new, and it's part of the normal process. She said she's had one of her private members bills used in the final make-up of a bill.

"That's the way it's supposed to work," she said.

Jones pointed out the bill is slated to go before the legislature this week, now that it's out of committee.

"Where's the delay?" she asked.

"The Liberals have the majority," she added, pointing out the bill is almost sure to pass, and without that "reasonable" amendment to help protect kids.

"I think you're probably going to see more of this as we get close to an election," she added. "It's a pretty hard argument to make when you're holding a majority of the seats."

Caledon launches its one-stop permitting/licensing portal for business

In partnership with ServiceOntario, Caledon has joined a growing number of municipalities to launch BizPaL, a free, online portal for permits and licences.

"A key goal of this council has been cutting red tape to help our entrepreneurs succeed," said Mayor Allan Thompson. "With the launch of BizPaL, our Economic Development Team has made it easier to launch or expand a business in Caledon."

BizPaL is a one-stop shop for licence and permit information from all levels of government (municipal, provincial and federal). BizPaL generates a customized list of permits and licences required, depending on the business's location, category and type of operations.

To access BizPaL, go to www.caledon.ca/bizpal

BizPaL was created to help identify quickly and easily what businesses might need from relevant levels of government. The combined efforts of federal, provincial, territorial and participating municipal governments, BizPaL is free to use and available 24/7.

Be careful what you wish

Peel Regional councillors recently debated a motion to call on the provincial government to step up and rule on the composition of council.

The motion failed, mainly because all 12 of the reps from Mississauga voted against it.

What precisely the councillors from Mississauga have against the Province dealing with the matter is far from clear.

The point was made couple of times in the discussions that those officials seated around the council table have been unable to come up with solutions to this issue. The issue has been debated at length.

Councillors came up with a position last year, and Mississauga reps made it clear they were prepared to use their overwhelming numbers (in terms of population) to veto the proposal. It called for another four representatives for Mississauga in the next term of council and another four for Brampton too. The people from Mississauga balked at such a substantial increase in the size of council, and we can understand how they might have feared trying to sell that to their electorate.

The problem is there are many people who look at elected political representation and think only of the expense involved. There needs to be message sent out there that representative democracy in our society was meant to be many things, and cheap is not one of them.

On the other hand, there has been lot of parochialism being shown of late around the council table. That's not necessarily a bad thing. Councillors from Caledon are elected and paid to look out for the interests of their community, as are the councillors from Brampton and Mississauga. But there's also an obligation to think of the greater collective good

But it's also becoming clear, according to recent published reports, that Mississauga has dreams of going it alone as a stand-alone municipality.

Now that might come into effect one of these days, but people might also want to reflect on what could come next.

A huge city like Toronto would be right next to a much smaller one called Mississauga. Could some future government at Queen's Park decide to merge the two into one? It happened before 20 years ago, thanks to the government of Mike Harris.

"It could never happen," we hear officials in Mississauga mutter. The thing is officials in the former Cities of Etobicoke, York and Scarborough were probably saying the same thing 20 years ago.

Hands off others' animals

At first, I found the whole thing rather silly.

An animal rights activist apparently saw fit to give water to pigs headed for a slaughter facility. And then she was charged. I thought the act was silly and I thought the act of going through a costly judicial procedure to address the matter was silly too, not to mention wasteful.

The woman was found not guilty last week of doing anything that was in violation of the law. The judge also stated he was satisfied the woman had been giving the pigs water, although how could anyone have known at the time what she was giving them? And since this involved food that people would eventually be consuming, I think the concerns were legitimate.

And according to a press release I received the day after the ruling, various farm organizations in Ontario were disappointed with the decision, fearing this might encourage other animal rights activists to become bolder.

I frankly think a lot of these activists are pretty bold already, and have been for some time.

But the other fact is some of these animals are part of the food chain in our society. The health and livelihood of many depend on these animals. Alas, it means they have to be killed, but that has been the case since human beings got themselves organized, and I believe the job is done as humanely as possible.

There was a time about 30 years ago when there was talk that an abattoir would be going in Bolton's Industrial Park. I thought it was a great idea, and so did a lot of other people, but a vocal few raised a loud stink and the idea was dropped when Town council announced it wouldn't allow it. This was just before a delegation of proponents was about to make presentation of its case. Not one of the shining moments in the history of Caledon council. But as the issue heated up, I decided to learn more about it, and made arrangements to take a tour of an abattoir, including the kill floor. Although it was interesting, it was certainly not the most enjoyable morning I've ever spent. But I got to talk to some of the people who worked there, and found they were ordinary guys who had a job to do, and they did it. The experience in no way turned me off of consuming meat.

My late mother, for a couple of years, worked in the accounting department of a meat-packing operation around the stock yards in Toronto. She said she never went on the kill floor, but she knew where it was and she certainly knew what was going on there. And being an employee, she would get a rate on her meat.

The fact that animals are taken to such operations is just part of reality.

I also think most people, myself included, are very fond of animals and care about their welfare. I know there are some who don't, but for the most part, I think these people are very sick individuals.

Many of us keep animals in our homes, either for protection, companionship or just because we love animals. But it is certain types of animals we have as pets.

I married a cat lover, meaning there has been a cat under our roof for just about the entire time since our wedding. Our current cat is named Ella, and she lives for free, tolerating our presence at her convenience. She also has a bad habit of waking me up in the morning by biting me in the arm. She's also been known to swat me in the face with her claws, usually drawing blood when she does.

Despite that, there is an obligation on Beth and myself to make sure she's cared for, no matter how out of line she gets.

It's true we could get her declawed, but that would essentially mean amputating her fingertips. I wouldn't go along having someone do that to me, and my conscience won't allow me to do it to Ella. I don't think Beth would go along with it, even if she does get upset when Ella scratches the furniture.

As well, Ella is an indoor cat, who seldom tries to get outside. But if she ever did, without her claws, she'd be defenceless.

But I have complained lots of times about the blood I have lost because of Ella and her habits. Some have expressed sympathy, and some of those I actually believe were sympathetic. There have been a few who have mentioned declawing, and since I knew their hearts were in the right place, I responded as politely as I could, explaining my concerns with the procedure.

Now had someone taken upon themselves to have the operation performed, that would have been out of line. It might be okay to suggest (although it's really the business of the cat owner alone), but that's the limit.

That's what I think the real problem was with the woman, the pigs and the water. She might have thought she was doing the right thing, but she interfered with another person's property without authorization. She may not have been guilty of a crime, but she was out of line.

I can understand where animal rights activists are coming from, although I don't always go along with the extent of their commitment or the methods they sometimes employ. There are limits to what they have the right to do.

I don't fish any more, but I know there are many who do and that's fine with me. It's their choice. And there are those who hunt. Go for it. Just don't expect me to join you.

Like so many others, I chose to eat meat. I know a lot of people object to that. Object away. Just don't get out of line.

Rotary Club of Palgrave's Weekly Rotary Minute

By Ian Kittle

The Annual Camp Enterprise commenced at the Cedar Mills YMCA near Schomberg May 4.

This is a three-and-a-half day camp for Grade 11 and 12 students from local and more distant high schools, which focuses on the entrepreneurial spirit. This year, 45 students attended.

The Rotary Clubs in District 7070 and 7080 completely fund the camp for the students who also heard presentations from Anitra Basant Sisavang on Career Paths; Wylie Hudspeth on Bee Keeping; Joe Esposito, the Orangeville Youth Entrepreneurship Coordinator, on his job; the Kleinburg Rotary Club on Creating a Small Business; Lou Schizas from AM 640 Radio; and speakers Blake Fleischacker and Élan Margo.

Students, in work groups create a small business plan for a product of their choice, then present it to a board comprised of Rotary business persons for their feedback and advice.

They are also involved in a labour-management negotiation game which pits union representatives against business management, both being acted out by the students. This broadens their awareness of labour issues in business.

Students also enjoyed a dance, movies and pizza night, plus outdoor activities led by YMCA staff. The camp closed with a Leadership Award Vote by the students May 7.

The Palgrave Rotary Club held their normal meeting at the camp and members spent the evening in the company of the students. It was a wonderful experience to see Rotary working in our communities with our youth.

Parents should be aware of this camp opportunity for their teens each year. All local schools are approached by Rotary clubs with the intent of encouraging students to experience Camp Enterprise.

If you are interested in learning more about Rotary and how you can help create and foster moments of impact here in Caledon and around the world, please visit www.rotaryclubofpalgrave.com for more information on our club and all the wonderful ways you could get involved.

Much happening in Caledon in May and June

Spring is here and so is the rain that comes with it.

Just five days in and we've had more rain than in the entire month of May last year. Our rural roads are taking a beating.

To report a washed-out road, call our 24-hour emergency line at 1-800-563-7881.

Another challenge this time of year is road construction, and there are several major routes that will be undergoing improvements this year.

Old Church Road will be closed from Duffy's Lane to Highway 50 from May 15 to Sept. 1 for bridge rehabilitation. Mayfield Road from Bramalea Road to Airport Road will be expanded from two to six lanes.

Celebrating National Youth Week

Last Thursday was our first ever Caledon Youth Summit. I was impressed and inspired by the questions and the engagement of the young people who attended from four of our area high schools. It may have been our first Youth Summit, it won't be our last.

TALK OF THE TOWN

Mayor Allan Thompson

Last Tuesday, we honoured the outstanding achievement of Tia John, who received the Lincoln M. Alexander Award for her work and dedication to end racial discrimination and promote social change.

In partnership with ecoCaledon we featured the amazing designs by talented students for the rain barrels that will be auctioned off on Caledon Day. The monies raised will go to an environmental bursary program.

And last, but certainly not least, a big shout out to the Humberview Alpha Dogs for an outstanding showing at the Robotics World Championship.

Mark your calendars for some exciting June events.

- June 7 will be Seniors Day at Albi-on-Bolton Community Centre from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. It will feature valuable workshops, a light lunch and a keynote on seniors housing and continuum of care.

- June 16 will be Cheers Caledon at the Caledon Town Hall Campus. We will be celebrating our finest craft beer and ciders.

- June 17 is Caledon Day at the Town Hall Campus. It will be a full day of family fun, food and entertainment.

There is so much to see and do around town. For a full listing of community events and happenings, check out our tourism website at visitcaledon.ca

Phoenix Pay System fiasco remains unresolved

For more than a year now, the current Liberal government has shown little action on resolving the issues of the Phoenix Pay System.

Hundreds of thousands of public servants have been impacted by the fiasco; however, this most serious issue has not been a priority for the current government. It was only recently that the Prime Minister announced a ministerial working group to finally address the ongoing issues of the system. This is yet another example of the current Liberal government failing to take action for Canadians.

The Phoenix Pay System was launched in February 2016, despite the recommendations of senior officials at the Treasury Board Secretariat. The current Liberal government forced the implementation of a system that was not fully operational, putting the financial stability of public servants in jeopardy even though the department was made aware of the risks of doing so. Since its launch, the system has had issues and public servants have encountered problems. However, Canadians have experienced everything from the government withholding information and refusing to come clean on the real scope of the backlog, to indifference, empty promises, and ultimately, next to no real action to resolve the issues.

OTTAWA JOURNAL

The men and women of the public service work hard for Canadians and they deserve to be paid in a timely fashion. It is completely unacceptable that the current Liberal government's pay system fiasco is still unresolved and that public service employees are still not receiving the pay they are owed. The Prime Minister and the Minister of Public Services and Procurement promised to take responsibility and fix the problems, but have repeatedly failed to take action. It is ridiculous that it has taken more than one year for the Prime Minister and his government to form a simple working group. Employees who are on the verge of losing their homes, being forced to postpone their educations, or going into debt because they aren't being paid properly cannot wait two more years. Furthermore, this fiasco is going to cost taxpayers hundreds of millions of dollars to fix the current government's mistakes.

The current Liberal government needs to outline a clear plan to fix the Phoenix Pay System and help the hundreds of thousands of public servants who have been impacted that doesn't further burden taxpayers. Canadians are tired of lip service, indifference, and inaction. It's time for real action.

More waste and mismanagement: $54,000 on Canada Goose jackets

It was revealed Friday that the Liberal government spent nearly $54,000 on Canada Goose parkas for government officials in 2015-2016.

Through a Freedom of Information request, I discovered parkas were purchased by the Ministry of Child and Youth Services for their employees.

Incredibly, the government has decided to defend the indefensible, as Premier Wynne said, "workers at a youth detention facility need the coats to keep warm in subzero temperatures while outside with the children."

This quote makes it clear how out of touch this government is. Of course work-

FROM QUEEN'S PARK

ers need coats, however the problem is that the government purchased luxury items. Further, the children at those facilities were not provided Canada Goose jackets.

This is just another example of government waste that provides no value for taxpayers. It is inconceivable that the Liberal government is so out of touch with the needs of Ontarians that they spent $53,948 on luxury Canada Goose parkas while families and children are not getting the services they need. The government approved this purchase the same year they were telling parents that their children would be kicked off the IBI waitlist. The government made this purchase while wait times and hospitalizations for youth mental health services rose. According to Children's Mental Health Ontario's November 2016 report, children in Ottawa are waiting for a year and a half for mental health treatment and there are 12,000 kids waiting for long-term psychotherapy. Yet this government decided to prioritize the purchase of luxury parkas.

The Ministry of Child and Youth Services is mandated to give children the best start in life, prepare youth to become productive adults and make it easier for families to get key service at all stages of a child's development. The fact there would be high-priced apparel being purchased when you have a ministry that desperately needs funds for youth is offensive and appalling.

Buying these luxury jackets is indefensible. The government needs to apologize to all the families who have had to wait for service, while they have grossly mismanaged their tax dollars. The government also needs to release all the documents related to the purchase of these goods. Ontarians have seen too many examples of the Liberals wasting their money. From the $1 billion gas plant scandal, to upside down bridge trusses, Ontarians are losing faith in the ability of this government to respect their tax dollars. It is time for the government to release all of this information, so that Ontarian families can decide for themselves whether the government is spending their money appropriately.

Sajjan should resign

Claire Hoy

The latest photo-shopped picture making the rounds these days shows our beleaguered Defence Minister Harjit Sajjan sitting in a chair next to Winston Churchill and Franklin Roosevelt at their May 1943 meeting to plan the fabled D-Day invasion.

It's yet another example of the adage that there's nothing worse for a politician than to have people laughing at you rather than with you, which is exactly what has happened to Sajjan since he was caught out repeating some massive whoppers about his role in the 2006 Operation Medusa in Afghanistan.

More's the pity.

Because unlike many political appointments, Sajjan's appointment by Prime Minister Justin Trudeau was widely applauded, not just by Liberals, but by the opposition parties and the general public as well.

Here, finally, was a man who had earned his chops in battle — and there is still no doubt he was exceptionally brave and helpful — and could be expected at long last to bring some clout into cabinet when it came to beefing up our long-neglected (by all parties) military.

But, as often happens even to the best of them, his capital "E" ego got in the way of his common sense, and instead of resting on his well-deserved laurels during that battle and others, Sajjan decided to up the ante and declare himself the "architect" of the entire operation.

Turns out he also fibbed to the public when he said in the Commons that our allies were not upset at all when the Liberals withdrew our CF-18 fighters from Iraq. They were upset, actually. But he lied to protect his boss.

Even that untruth, however, is more easily explainable — since partisans do this sort of thing routinely to make their party look good — than Sajjan's recent speech in India where, as first reported by the National Post's Matthew Fisher, he said flatly, "On my first deployment to Kandahar in 2006, I was the architect of Operation Medusa, where we removed 1,500 Taliban fighters off the battlefield . . . and I was proudly on the main assault."

He wasn't.

To be sure, he played a significant role,

for which he deserved — and received — considerable credit from his fellow warriors. So why not leave it at that and carry on?

Well, he's never explained why he let his own vanity overrule his good sense, but he has been forced to apologize publicly numerous times and Trudeau has steadfastly stood behind his minister, arguing that Sajjan has apologized for his "mistake" and it's time to move on.

Not exactly. For one thing, it wasn't a "mistake." Turns out he had made the same bloated claim earlier and, according to Sajjan's spokeswoman Jordan Owens, the minister had personally inserted "the line about Medusa" into his text. This was no slip of the tongue, folks. This was a deliberate aggrandizement of his role and himself.

In a recent letter to the Toronto Star on the matter, CPO1(Ret'd) Jacques Lemieux of Windsor, N.S. wrote he was "totally shocked and disgusted . . . (Sajjan) has let down all serving members of our Canadian Forces and . . . the prime minister backs him up. Mr. Trudeau calls these lies 'mistakes.' Lying is not a mistake. It's a wilful act."

Worse. When it comes to military matters — as opposed to normal politics — there is a great deal of honor involved. And taking credit for the work of others is what is contemptuously known as "stolen valor," a terrible condemnation of any soldier, let alone the serving minister of defence.

The normal military honor code demands that Sajjan should immediately give up his car and driver and ministerial privileges and do the right thing, i.e. resign.

But he's not doing that. And that's just fine with Trudeau.

How can the Liberals possibly expect the military to have any respect for or faith in a minister who has deliberately lied about his role in the field for no other purpose than to make himself look better?

Sure, the Liberals are now talking about spending a lot more on the military — and, by the way, Donald Trump is right to point out that we haven't been carrying our weight in NATO military expenses for decades, under both Tory and Liberal prime ministers.

Sometimes, after-the-fact apologies just don't cut it. This is one of those times. And it's very sad that the lure of political prestige has blackened an otherwise sterling military reputation.

ANNUAL TEA HOSTED BY RISING ANGELS

Inglewood Community Centre was the scene recently of the annual Cup of Hope fundraiser, put on by Rising Angels. Rising Angels founder Katarina MacLeod and Sheila Howlett were on hand to help welcome people to the tea, held to help raise awareness of matters involving human trafficking and prostitution, as well as the supports available to help women getting out of such situations.

Volunteer MBC hands out V-Oscars

By Bill Rea

Volunteers make major contributions to life in Peel Region, and it was time to recognize that recently.

Volunteer MBC hosted the V-Oscars in Mississauga to recognize the contributions of various groups and individuals, and Caledon was well represented at the ceremonies.

There were various categories of awards, and in some cases, there were three winners, representing each of the three municipalities in Peel.

In the Corporate Engagement Awards, sponsored by Mayor Allan Thompson and Councillor Jennifer Innis, the Caledon winner was the Bolton branch of Scotiabank.

The Caledon winner of the Helping Hands Award, sponsored by the Rotary Club of Palgrave, as well as clubs in Brampton and Mississauga, went to Madeline Adams of Caledon Community Services (CCS).

Kelly Towsley of CCS was the winner of the Leader in Volunteer Engagement Award, sponsored by Volunteer MBC Board member Arno Ilic.

Christina Radice of CCS was nominated for the Lifetime Volunteer Achievement Award, sponsored by Brampton Brick. It went to Antoinette Allen of Supportive Housing Peel.

Debbie Davis of Bethell Hospice and Michael Ortolan of the Bolton Braves Baseball Association were up for the Bonnie Yagar Award for Community Engagement Leadership, but it was won by Shelley White of Community Door.

Bonnie McTaggart of CCS was nominated for the John Huether Award for Volunteering excellence, but it went to Donna Madill of Big Brothers Big Sisters of Peel.

Former Mississauga mayor Hazel McCallion was on hand to present the Power of Giving Award named after her to Brampton resident Lois Rice.

The recipient was surprised at the selection.

"I'm in shock, and very honoured," she said in accepting it.

MC Jake Dheer of Rogers Media Inc., president of the Volunteer MBC Board, pointed out a lot of work has to go into what the agency does.

"This is such a dedicated staff," he declared. "I'm so blessed to work with this wonderful group."

"All of us are sent here for a reason," Volunteer MBC Executive Director Carine Strong said as she described her motivation for volunteering. "We're all blessed with very unique gifts."

She added volunteers exemplify what community spirit is all about, observing that helping others is empowering and has an impact. She also pointed out that without volunteers, a lot of essential services that seniors, young people and families depend on might not be available.

"It takes just one person to make a difference," Strong said. "You all get it."

"You have all touched people in a very special way," she added.

On Saturday May 27th, Jack.org will be hosting Jack Ride, Canada's ride for youth mental health with four routes passing through the town of Caledon

Riders will depart from Caledon Ski Club between 8-9:30am, and responsibly share the roads with drivers until event completion between 1-2pm. Main roads include: Mississauga Rd (between King and Queen Sts), Main St, (from Queen St to Orangeville-Caledon Town Line), Winston Churchill Blvd (between Orangeville-Caledon Town Line and Mayfield Rd), Heritage Rd (from Mayfield Rd to King St), and Old Baseline Rd (from Winston Churchill Blvd to Mississauga Rd).

Jack.org wishes to thank the people of Caledon for the privilege of hosting Jack Ride in your beautiful community.

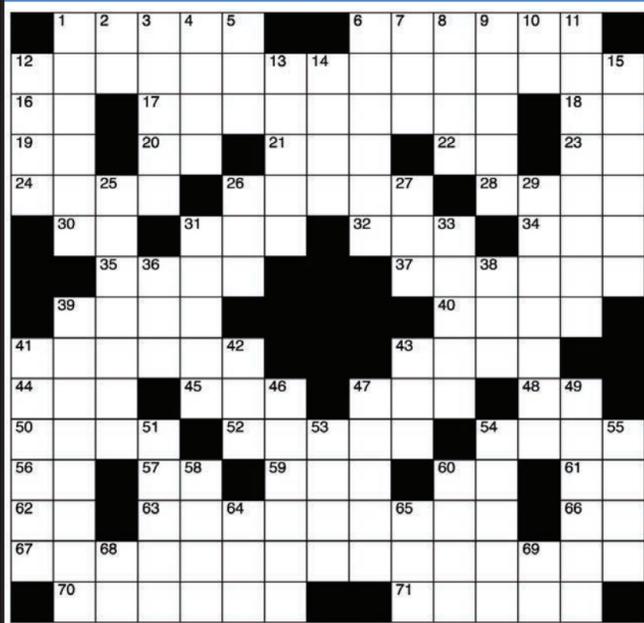

You're Invited to volunteer or cheer!

Volunteer MBC Executive Director Carine Strong commented on the many benefits of volunteering.

Work starts on Kennedy Road

Construction work on Kennedy Road is slated to continue to early September.

The Town of Caledon reports the construction work will take place from King Street to Olde Base Line Road, and will include replacement of all cross culverts and road reconstruction with asphalt and paved shoulders. Temporary lane closures are expected. Access to private property, however, will be maintained.

The work should be completed Sept. 1.

to those who contribute in the community

"Volunteering has so many benefits," Strong remarked, commenting that research indicates volunteering leads to better health. "The bottom line is if you do good, you feel good."

"What a gathering!" McCallion declared as she addressed the room and marvelled at the great experiences that were represented.

McCallion pointed out the country was founded by volunteers, and reflected on the organizations that have operated through the years because of volunteers.

She observed there are professional sports today because coaches volunteered to work with young athletes and help them excel.

McCallion added Mississauga has the Living Arts Centre because a group of volunteers got together to create it. The arena in Streetsville is still run by volunteers, and she said it has never needed tax dollars to operate.

She also said volunteers help museums operate economically.

"I have to tell you when government takes it over, it becomes more costly to run," she observed.

McCallion also said a volunteer is a happier person, as opposed to those who sit watching the news on TV and get depressed by what they see.

"If you're out volunteering, you're not listening to that horrible news report," she commented.

As well, she too made the point that volunteering is good for people's health.

"If you're out volunteering, you forget you've got something wrong with you," she remarked.

She added one thing she enjoyed doing during her time as mayor was presenting certificates of appreciation to volunteers. But she observed there's really no way to thank these people enough.

"There are no words that can express the thanks they should receive," she commented.

Citizenship and Immigration Minister Laura Albanese pointed out that volunteers help out in all sorts of areas.

"They don't get paid," she added. "They don't ask to get paid."

"There's no way to thank them enough," she added "The world would not be the same without them."

"It makes our job easier when you've got community volunteers," Thompson commented.

Former Mississauga mayor Hazel McCallion stated the country was founded by volunteers.

The Bolton branch of Scotiabank won a Corporate Engagement Award. On hand for the presentation was Volunteer MBC Board member Arno Ilic, branch Manager Frank Macellaio, Mayor Allan Thompson, Councillor Jennifer Innis and Rosa Evangelista and Sharon Sarini of Scotiabank.

Palgrave Rotarians Janet and Derek Clark were talking with Caledon resident Jane Scognamiglio, a member of Volunteer MBC's Events Committee.

Elmer Iseler Singers album nominated for a Juno award

By Constance Scrafield

The 20-voice Elmer Iseler Singers (EIS) professional choir has been nominated for a Juno Award this year.

Together with Tapestry Opera and the Gryphon Trio, conducted by Wayne Strongman, they performed The Black Star Requiem, by Canadian Composer Andrew Staniland. They are among five contenders for the Classical Album of the Year: Vocal or Choral Performance.

"We are thrilled with the nomination," EIS Artistic Director and Conductor Lydia Adams declared. "It's the first time for their own nomination."

In the course of their many concerts over the last 38 years, the EIS have never backed off dealing with tough issues. Indeed, over the weekend, at St. Anne's Anglican Church in Toronto, they sang an all-Armenian concert of sacred and secular music, with soprano Isabel Bayrakdarian.

Bayrakdarian came to Canada from Armenia when she was young. She graduated from the University of Toronto with a degree in biomedical, but her fabulous soprano voice has carried her from one success to the next. She has won four consecutive Junos for Best Classical Album.

"We wanted to bring attention to the potential for good of these refugees," Caledon resident Adams said. "Here is a wonderful singer who came here from Armenia early in her life and look at the richness she has brought to Canada."

The trick of this concert was to get it right.

"The music is easy, but the text is difficult — we found it tricky," Adams said. "There is one vowel which we can't say as we normally do — we are trying to get the words — so they sound correct."

This is one of the regular five concerts the EIS offers its subscribers but, in addition, they do much more. Last year, they went to the East Coast in July; this year it is the west for their touring concerts. They also sing in venues all over Ontario.

There is much more to the EIS tours than just singing on a stage, for everywhere they go to sing, they also share the joy of music with the communities with workshops for community choirs and schools.

"We are making music together with community music," Adams commented. "There is real elevation of joining all those people into one focus."

Adams was invited by Elmer Iseler, who lived in the hills of Albion, to play for his choir in 1981. By the mid '90s, Iseler, the most decorated musician in Canada, was ill. The choir's Board of Directors asked Adams to step in as Interim Conductor and when Dr. Iseler died in 1997, she was asked again to take over the job of Artistic Director and Conductor.

"The 20th anniversary of his passing is coming and we are going to acknowledge it, to truly celebrate his contribution to Canadian music," she remarked. "Certainly, all the mid to older conductors are influenced by Elmer in a positive way and many younger ones know of him and respect him, even at a distance."

Philosophically, she added, "Whatever you do, you're making ripples in the water and you hope those ripples are positive."

Her work with the EIS, the Amadeus Choir, as well as her other obligations, keep Adams busy, but she is proud of the support she gets from others.

"It's wonderful to have Jesse (Iseler, Elmer's widow) as manager of the choir," Adams commented.

Mrs. Iseler still lives in the area. Dr. Iseler is buried in the cemetery in Caledon East.

Although the EIS has travelled extensively across North America, they have not toured abroad. Funding is the main barrier, for this is a professional choir whose members must be paid per diem, their fares and needs supplied. In fact, the Board of Directors, who are dedicated to making a European tour happen, have established a fund to support the endeavour.

April saw the EIS travelling out west for a six-town tour of concerts and workshops with, once again, community choirs and schools through their Outreach program. As was the East Coast tour, the tour to Western Canada is funded in part by the Canada Council for the Arts and the Ontario Arts Council.

Part of the mantra of the artistic direction of the EIS is to engage and encourage Canadian talent in composing and singing in a "workshop situation."

The EIS commission and perform many new works by Canadian composers.

In spite of a busy schedule with the concerts and tours, the members of the EIS have outside lives which they sometimes need balancing to accommodate the demands of the choir. One lady is a aerospace engineer, specializing in micro satellites and has been involved in the mechanics behind more than one space adventure.

Another is a physician. Others have lives full-time in music as teachers, musical leaders — and one in a rock band.

"We are a professional company," Adams said. "We work closely together to make sure they do things outside the choir for the sake of the richness they provide."

Later in the day, there was a call with Mrs. Iseler. She wanted to talk about the proposal for an Arts Centre for Caledon. There is currently a survey on the Town's website, inviting people to comment on the benefits of such a structure.

"There is a community centre, hockey facilities and other sports centres, everything — with the arts coming last, and they are still not sure," she said, noting the survey. "Certainly, there should be an arts centre — a performing arts centre with an art gallery and teaching space for the arts. It would be a remarkable addition to the town."

There was a brief discussion about the enthusiastic community of arts across the Headwaters area, with so much to offer not only the residents but to attract visitors to the region.

Said Mrs. Iseler, "We have sung in so many churches in the area. Caledon needs its own performing arts centre."

These young Peel 4-H members were holding up some of the patches they embroidered, which will come together in a quilt created in honour of Canada's 150th anniversary.

4-Her's celebrate Canada's 150th

Kayla Emmerton

In honour of Canada's 150th birthday, members of Peel 4-H had an amazing time taking part of a craft club that has been around longer than Canada — Embroidery.

Members were able to "learn to do by doing" by learning a variety of different stitches, like the lazy daisy and the blanket stitch — a common stitch found on the edges of many fleece blankets.

For their final project, members decided to embroider the provincial flowers of Canada and quilt them together to create a wall hanging. The squares turned out very beautiful, and the quilt will be auctioned off at 4-H awards night in the fall.

Through this fun and stimulating club, 4-Her's were able to enjoy socializing and working together just like they did 100 years ago.

For more pictures and information about Peel 4-H visit www.4-hontario.ca/4h-in-my-area/peel.aspx

CVC helps protect property and the environment

Credit Valley Conservation (CVC) will host a Caring for your Land and Water workshop to help landowners care for natural areas on their properties and protect the environment.

The workshop takes place May 24 from 6:30 to 9 p.m. at Terra Cotta Conservation Area, 14452 Winston Churchill Blvd.

The workshop is designed for landowners across the watershed who are interested in learning more about their rural properties and taking action to make environmental improvements. Registration for the workshop is almost full.

"Landowners are taking advantage of this workshop to make the most of their rural properties," CVC's Deputy CAO and Director of Watershed Transformation Mike Puddister said. "It's great to see how property owners want to restore natural areas, provide habitat for wildlife and protect water sources by caring for their septic and wells."

By attending a Caring for your Land and Water workshop, participants become eligible to apply for funding through CVC's Landowner Action Fund. Since the funding program was launched in 2014, more than $100,000 has been awarded to landowners for environmental projects on their properties.

Space is limited for the workshop, so register at www.creditvalleyca.ca/events

For more information, call 1-800-668-5557, ext. 436. Preference will be given to landowners owning one acre or more of rural property in the Credit River watershed.

The next Caring for your Land and Water workshop will take place Oct. 21 in Mono.

Workshops are free thanks to funding from CVC's regional and municipal partners.

Hike for Bethell Hospice raises record $150,000

Nearly 600 participants gathered in Inglewood Sunday at the annual Hike for Bethell Hospice.

This year's event raised an unprecedented $150,000 for the Bethell Hospice Foundation, shattering the event's goal by $20,000.

The event featured an accessible, five kilometre hike along the Caledon Trailway, a memory board full of remembrances, a barbecue lunch prepared by the Caledon Lions Club, a silent auction supported by countless local businesses, and a tremendous feeling of positive good will.

Bethell Hospice Foundation co-chair, Tim Powell, thanked the large crowd for their generous support.

"Each of you here today is aware how vital the services of Bethell Hospice are to our community," he said. "As the words on the back of our hike t-shirts remind us, Bethell Hospice is a place of caring, compassion, love, empathy, respect, comfort, serenity and peace. Many of you have experienced those feelings first hand, and each of you have cared enough to come forward today, to ensure that Bethell Hospice services will be here for the next families in need. Thank you all so much for your belief in the importance of Bethell Hospice in our community."

Government funding covers only 60 per cent of the cost to operate Bethell Hospice. Each year, the Foundation must raise $1,000,000 to keep the doors open, and provide services at no cost to residents, program participants or their families. Bethell Hospice is the only residential hospice serving Caledon, Brampton, Dufferin County and West Woodbridge, and also offers Community Programs throughout Caledon and Brampton.

Hike for Bethell Hospice was presented by Meadowvale Cemetery, Cremation and Funeral Centres and The Simple Alternative Funeral Centres — Mississauga. The hike was also supported by Platinum Level Community Partners Brampton Brick, Cart-All Express Inc., Cavalier Transportation Services and Scotiabank, as well as a host of gold, silver, bronze and route sponsors.

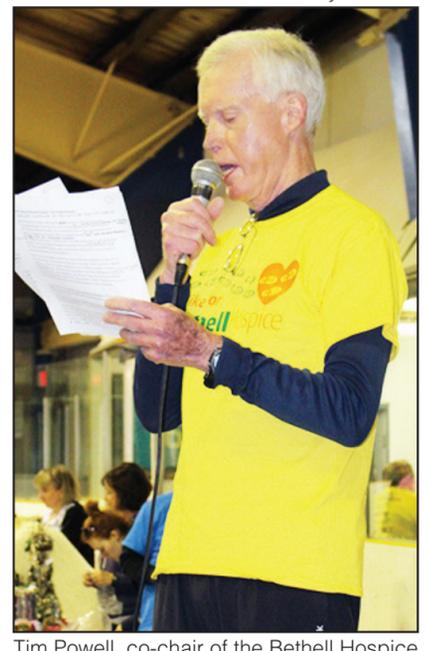

Walk participants were making their way along the Caledon Trailway Sunday.

Judy Held, a personal support worker at Bethell Hospice, read a poem to the assembled walkers before they headed out.

Tim Powell, co-chair of the Bethell Hospice Foundation, stressed the importance of fundraising events to help the agency provide the programs and services it does.

Town reviewing Palgrave Estates

The Town of Caledon is conducting a review of the Palgrave Estate Policy Area, and will be hosting an open house on the matter June 1.

It will run from 7 to 9 pm. at Caledon Equestrian Park, 200 Pine Ave. in Palgrave.

The Town is conducting the review to determine where and how to accommodate the residential and population-related growth anticipated for the area to 2031.

A key intent of this review is to ensure that the policies are reflective of Provincial policy changes since the Secondary Plan was put in place approximately 30 years ago. The outcome of the study will be a new framework for future growth in the Palgrave Estate residential community that is grounded in an understanding of Provincial policy, environmental constraints, servicing policies and broader community planning principles.

The open house will include a brief presentation providing an overview of the project and identifying other public engagement opportunities; a poster display with project information and an open session where participants can continue the discussion in their groups, and talk to staff about the project.

Junior C Bandits are still searching for first win of the season

By Jake Courtepatte

Another rough showing in both the penalty box and on the scoreboard landed the Junior C Caledon Bandits back-to-back losses over the weekend, and a four-game losing streak to start the season.

Meeting a pair of difficult teams in the Oakville Buzz and Six Nations Warriors, Caledon's goals-against continued to struggle as they allowed 28 markers over the two games.

Saturday night's match against the Buzz actually proved to be tame, with Caledon picking up just four minutes in penalties. Austin Heughan traded goals with Oakville's Kevin Power for a 1-1 tie after 20 minutes, before Oakville rattled off seven goals in the second period to take a commanding lead.

Heughan found the back of the net again, as did Jonathan Ferguson and Josh MacIsaac, though the Bandits eventually fell 9-4.

As is often the case, Sunday's rumble at Iroquois Lacrosse Arena with the Warriors was a much more physical battle, with a constant cycle to the box for both sides. Six Nations managed seven goals in each of the first and second periods, with the game getting out of hand in the third once the winning side was all but settled.

Six Caledon players found the back of the net in an eventual 19-8 loss, namely Heughan, Jordan Oshowy, Scott Edwards, Trevor Blumbergs, and a pair each from Spencer Wood and Dimitri Meszaros.

An 0-4 start to the season has the Bandits

in the basement of the Ontario Junior C Lacrosse League's West division. Both Oakville and Six Nations sit atop the ladder, in a three-way tie with the Fergus Thistles.

The Clarington Shamrox and Whitby Warriors lead the East division with undefeated starts to the season.

Caledon continues play Friday when they visit the Mimico Mountaineers, a game which should result in one team earning their first win of the season.

They return home next Tuesday to host the Wilmot Wild (1-1-0) at Caledon East. The opening faceoff is set for 8p.m.

For stats and schedules, visit www.banditslacrosse.com/jrc

Caledon's Trevor Blumbergs looks to get around a Six Nations defender in the Bandits' loss to the Warriors at Iroquois Lacrosse Arena Sunday.

C3 Kids of Steel race is May 28

Benson Steel and Royal Containers will present the 2017 C3 Kinetic Kids of Steel Triathlon May 28.

The traditional community event started as a way to celebrate Olympic Gold Medalist Simon Whitfield's Sydney victory in 2000. Whitfield had been a Kids of Steel Triathlete and the program's founder was Caledon's Barrie Shepley.

Shepley and Whitfield started up a friendship three decades ago and after the Sydney Games in 2000, many local Caledon residents came together to create and host the yearly Kids of Steel Triathlon.

"Big cities like Mississauga don't have a Kids of Steel Triathlon, but due to the generosity of Kinetic, Benson Steel, Royal Containers and Caledon Hills Bike Shop, we have one of the biggest triathlons in the country," Shepley declared.

The event is open to virtually every age group.

The youngest category is for boys and girls aged three to six. The youngest distance allows life-jackets, tricycles and a very short jog to the finishing line. Every youngster in that category gets a toy, in addition to their lunch, a t-shirt and a finishers' medal.

Age categories run all the way from seven up to 18 and then adult waves from 20 to 70-plus.

The event takes place at the Mayfield Recreation Complex. The bike race for all athletes older than six years of age will be on Bramalea Road, which will be closed to traffic. The run will be on the Mayfield Secondary School track and trails.

The day will start with the adult waves (400-metre swim, 15-kilometre bike race and five-kilometre run) and move to the younger age categories throughout the day. Every participant gets a high-tech race shirt, a Lions Club post-race meal, a finishers' medal and a chance for some awards.

"Our priority is fun and fitness and we have many families that are doing the race again this year," said race director Stewart Barclay.

Caledon's Olympian Andrew Yorke got started in the local race when he was just 12. Canada's top ranked international athlete, Taylor Reid is a Mayfield graduate who go this start in the local Kids of Steel Triathlon a dozen years ago. His mother Peggy and father Jim are both yearly participants in the local race.

C3 is looking for people to help volunteer (email saara.naudts@icloud.com) and to register check out the C3 website at www.c3online.ca

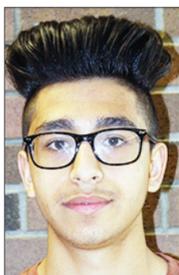

C3's Sean Bechtel and his son Ross will both be participating in the 2017 Kids of Steel race.

The Grade 9 student is playing mid-field on the junior boys' soccer team, which has opened the season with a 2-1 record. Earlier in the school year, he played on the junior volleyball team, and was a guard on the junior basketball squad. Away from school, he's a rep player in the Brampton Youth Soccer Club organization. The 15-year-old lives in ValleyWood.

This 14-year-old has been making his mark in track and field; particularly in the shot put. He's competed in two meets so far this season, and has won gold at both. His best throw is 12.23 metres. In the fall, he played defensive tackle on the varsity football team, and was a centre on the junior basketball team. In the community, he plays rep football for the Guelph Junior Gryphons. This Grade 9 student lives in Alton.

The Grade 12 student is currently taking part in track and field, with a focus on the discus. He's been in three meets so far, and brought home gold from all three. His best toss is 39.51 metres. He also played middle on the senior volleyball team. Away from school, he used to take part in the Brampton Track Club. The 17-year-old lives in Bolton.

This 16-year-old plays defence for the varsity soccer team at school, which split their first two games of the season. She was also a running back on the flag football team in the fall, and played on the junior volleyball team, which made it to the semifinals. In the community, she plays rep soccer with the Bolton Wanderers. The Grade 10 student lives in Bolton.

CARD OF THANKS CARD OF THANKS OBITUARIES OBITUARIES

James Wilson French

We would like to offer our heartfelt thanks to family, friends and the community during this difficult time of loss. It was comforting to be surrounded with the outpouring of support in the memory of Wilson. Thank you for the many condolences, donations, flowers and acts of kindness.

Lily and family.

DEVOGEL, Ena

Peacefully at Shelburne Residence on Sunday, May 7, 2017 at the age of 87. Beloved wife of the late Aalt (1994). Dear mother of Margie Morey (Drew), Jeannie DeVogel, Fred (Karen), Susan Troch (Bob) and Cindy McQueen (Paul). Cherished Oma of Jason, Chris, Erin, Becky, Andrew, Tara, Sarah, James, Ryan, Shawn, Jamie, Matthew, Stephen and Jacob. Great-Oma of Emma, Janessa, Mieke, Nevin, Liam, Everett and Charlotte. Ena will be remembered by her sisters Jeanne Brandes and Cora Glebbeek and her brothers Piet (Wil), Rien (Ans), Jan (Elly). Ena will be greatly missed by other relatives and many friends. Visitation will be held at the Dods & McNair Funeral Home, Chapel & Reception Centre, 21 First Street, Orangeville on Thursday, May 11, 2017 from 2:00-4:00 and 7:00-9:00 p.m. Funeral Service will be held at the Christian Reformed Church, 50 Blind Line, Orangeville on Friday, May 12, 2017 at 11:00 a.m. Memorial donations to the Alzheimer Society would be appreciated by the family. A tree will be planted in memory of Ena in the Dods & McNair Memorial Forest at the Island Lake Conservation Area, Orangeville. A dedication service will be held on Sunday, September 10, 2017 at 2:30 p.m. Condolences may be offered to the family at www.dodsandmcnair.com

IN MEMORIAM IN MEMORIAM

George Elwood Simpson

In loving memory of our Father/Poppa

February 27, 1923 - May 10, 1997

What we would give if we could say Hello, Dad, in the same old way; To hear your voice, see your smile, To sit with you and chat awhile. So you who have a father, Cherish him with care, For you'll never know the heartache Till you see his vacant chair.

You are so dearly loved and missed! Melody, Rick, Paula, Sarah and family

DONOHUE, Paul

Passed away peacefully on Saturday, May 6, 2017, at the Headwaters Health Care Centre, Orangeville, where he had been a volunteer. For many years, Paul won an award as Ontario volunteer of the year. Predeceased by his parents, Helen and Frank. Paul leaves three brothers, Donald, James and William. Donohues were long time residents of Orangeville, where his father had a shoe store on Broadway. Paul was a very active fund raiser for multiple charities, playing his mouth organ at markets and at other events. The family will receive their friends at the Egan Funeral Home, 203 Queen Street S. (Hwy. 50), Bolton (905-857-2213) on Thursday morning, May 11 from 10:30 until time of funeral service in the chapel at 11:30 a.m. Interment will be at Forest Lawn Cemetery in Orangeville. In lieu of flowers, a donation to the hospital would be appreciated. Condolences for the family may be offered at www.EganFuneralHome.com

When you buy from a small business you're not helping a C.E.O buy a 3rd holiday home, you are helping a little girl get dance lessons, a little boy get his team jersey, a mom or dad put food on the table, a family pay a mortgage or a student pay for college.
