SANTA CLAUS RETURNS TO TOWN

There was a big crowd out in Bolton Saturday to help the Kinsmen Club welcome Santa Claus back to town. It took almost 90 minutes for the annual parade to traverse the main street of the village. Turn to pages A14 and A15 for more scenes of Santa's return.

Work on GTA West will proceed under PCs

By Bill Rea

A Progressive Conservative government will complete the environmental assessment (EA) on the GTA West Corridor.

Planned tax hike cut

By Bill Rea

The tinkering continues as Caledon councillors Tuesday were able to trim a bit from the proposed 2018 budget.

The latest figures call for a blended tax increase of less than three per cent, including the anticipated tax hike from

See 'Budget' on page A2

PC Leader Patrick Brown made the announcement last Wednesday night when he addressed about 100 of the party faithful. The event was held at the Brampton Fairgrounds.

Work on the EA for the corridor that traverses Caledon was suspended in December 2015 to conduct an internal review of the work undertaken since 2007, and ensure that the project aligned with current government policy and emerging technologies. Caledon residents and officials have been in the dark on what's being planned for the lands. The corridor was created to provide a transportation link heading west from Highway 400, and there has been considerable talk about a 400-series highway going in.

Brown, in his remarks last week, lashed out at the current Liberal government for its lack of action on the corridor.

"This government seems intent on kicking the can down the road on this decision," he declared, adding completing the EA will be a benefit to Caledon.

Brown used the occasion to promote the Tories' policy statement for next year's election, which was unveiled last weekend. It's called People's Guarantee, and pledges a 22.5 per cent reduction in income tax for the middle class, 85 per cent refund for child-care

Budget to be approved next week

Peel Region's budget, which was passed last month, and the assumption that there will be no change in the education levy set by the Province. Town staff said that won't be known for sure until the spring.

The plan is to formally approve the budget this coming Tuesday (Dec. 12), but there have been indications there are going to be suggestions for further changes made at that time.

Councillors went into Tuesday's meeting looking at an overall tax increase of 3.23 per cent, but after debating a series of suggested amendments, they were able to get it down to 2.83. If those figures hold, it will mean the tax bill for the average Caledon home assessed at $554,000 will go up by $134.61 in 2018.

Town Treasurer Heather Haire told councillors there had been last minute pressures applied to the budget. The Town was informed Nov. 20 that money coming from the Ontario Municipal Partnership Fund (OMPF) had been reduced by $173,400. The Province's contribution to the overall fund has increased, but because of an updating of the Rural and Small Community Measure, the Town's grant dropped from $1.1563 million to $982,900. Haire said those calculations were based on 2016 Census data. She also explained further reductions to the Town's share of OMPF are expected over the next couple of years. Word of this year's reduction came very late in the budget process, so staff recommended using reserves to cover the shortfall, but Haire said it should result in additional budget pressures next year.

The items councillors spiked from the budget Tuesday included a surface treatment program for roads, that would have cost $500,000.

Councillor Nick deBoer put forth this amendment, observing there's a pilot program underway with tar and chip being applied, and he suggested it be studied after the winter, when the surface treatment idea could be reconsidered.

Councillor Barb Shaughnessy observed that studying a program after just one year is not going to provide a complete picture.

Councillor Doug Beffort observed a big issue in his ward is roads, as he pointed out they are deteriorating fast. He appreciated the desire to cut costs, but he said he has residents who want something done.

But Mayor Allan Thompson was against this cut, commenting there are bad roads all over town, and the surface treatment will help improve conditions.

Councillor Annette Groves commented tar and chip is a Band-Aid solution, adding it's better to look at something more long-term.

Councillor Rob Mezzapelli said he wanted to see the $500,000 go toward roads, but he also thought it was important to have the pilot project run through its course.

"The pilot needs to play itself out," he said.

General Manager of Finance and Infrastructure Services Fuwing Wong said the pilot project involves Boston Mills Road, and part of the effort is to determine how the material holds up during winter.

DeBoer's amendment called for the surface treatment program to be considered in a future budget, but Beffort didn't see the point of waiting another year. He successfully put forth an amendment to the amendment calling for it to be reconsidered after the pilot project was complete.

Councillors also agreed to postpone hiring business analyst next year, removing the $116,000 budgetted expenditure.

A proposed amendment from deBoer to cut some $239,000 on the service levels for the new community centre in Southfields Village failed after lengthy debate.

Mezzapelli was not in favour of that, pointing out staff thought it wise to increase the service levels over three years, rather than have a one-time hit in the budget later.

Thompson agreed that staff had done as council directed, adding reducing the amount would put additional burdens on the next council.

"To me, this is just bad forward thinking," he commented.

But Beffort and Shaughnessy both said residents are concerned they are being expected to pay for something that does not yet exist.

DeBoer was more successful in getting his colleagues to go along with adding $45,000 in spending on accessibility improvements to Westview Park in Palgrave. That would be combined with $40,000 coming from the local Rotary club.

Thompson pointed out this would be timely, since the Rotary funding will only be available for a year.

Shaughnessy tried to get $100,000 committed to a Caledon Village Highway 10 Corridor land Use and Transportation Feasibility Study.

She said she tried to get in this into the 2017 budget, adding it's been on the table since 2014.

"It's been frozen in time," she said.

Shaughnessy added the Ministry of Transportation (MTO) has been calling on the Town to bring forth a study, and they would see if they could support work in the village. If the study isn't done, she said it will all be just talk.

She added Caledon village has been devastated by the highway running through it, and deserves revitalization.

"This is a necessity," she declared. "We need to move forward."

Beffort pointed out the number of gravel trucks running through the village is bound to increase, adding both MTO and the Region want to support the Town on this, but can't do it without the study.

General Manager of Community Services Peggy Tollett said the Region conducted a workshop on the issue, and a report should be coming in the new year, and deBoer suggested waiting until that work is complete.

Tollett also told Thompson the Town doesn't have the staff to do the study being proposed, so the job would have to go to consultants.

Shaughnessy was more successful when it came to getting $15,000 set aside for an arts and culture feasibility study for the old Alton School, with $15,000 to come from the Peel District School Board, although that was approved after considerable discussion.

MILK AND COOKIES WITH SANTA AT LIBRARY

There was lots of excitement Saturday at the Margaret Dunn Valleywood branch of Caledon Public Library, as the Town of Caledon Parks and Recreation department hosted Milk and Cookies with Santa Claus and Mrs. Claus. Lots of local young people anxious to meet the guests of honour. Aiden and Mackayla MacKinnon, both 5, from Southfields Village were excited to get their picture taken with him.

Jones says economic plan is leaving Ontarians behind

Dufferin-Caledon MPP Sylvia Jones was not impressed with the recent Fall Economic Statement from the government.

"The government's fall economic statement continues the Liberals' track record of reckless spending and making life more expensive for families and businesses," Jones said.

She pointed out that the recent report of the Financial Accountability Officer, an independent, non-partisan officer of the Legislature, said that the government's current budget was unrealistic.

"This is in addition to the independent Auditor General saying that the government is understating its deficit and debt because the government's statements were not prepared following Canadian Public Sector Accounting Standards," she added. "The FAO said that meeting the debt targets will actually require a raise in taxes or cut in program spending by at least $6.5

billion."

"Instead of addressing its structural deficit, the government is putting a larger burden on future generations and crowding out the ability of future government to pay for things residents of Dufferin-Caledon need, like an Advanced Green in Shelburne, expanded GO service to Bolton and Orangeville and needed funding for Headwaters hospital," Jones remarked.

She also said the statement is full of "re-announcements," such as the claim that they are investing $100 million for natural gas expansion.

"The reality is that this represents a $130 million cut from their original commitment of $230 million, not to mention that this cut was originally announced nearly a year ago in January," she said.

"The government needs to address their structural deficit, not hit the 'repeat button' on old announcements," Jones declared.

Lights approved around library in Alton

"I never worked so hard for $15,000 in my life," Shaughnessy chuckled at one point.

There was some discussion as to whether the school board was ready to provide its share of the funds, but Trustee Stan Cameron, who was at Tuesday's meeting, confirmed it's in the 2018 budget.

Groves tried unsuccessfully to remove a planned $300,000 expenditure for boiler replacement at Caledon Centre for Recreation and Wellness in Bolton.

"I just think it's a lot of money," she said, adding she didn't think the project is urgently needed.

Tollett said it's an issue of repairs and getting replacement parts, adding it's getting costly. She also said it's part of life-cycle replacement, adding there are problems that are being seen.

Beffort was able to get $8,000 added for LED lighting around the Alton Library and Recreation Centre. He said this is a focal point in the hamlet, used by a lot of community groups.

"It's $8,000 well spent," he declared.

Are you following the OPP on Twitter?

With winter weather around the corner, OPP wish to remind the public that road closures are possible at any time of the day or while they're sleep overnight.

In order to be prepared for those unexpected situations that can impact local and extended travel in Ontario, police are reminding people of two great ways to keep up to date as to what roads may be open or closed.

A great way to stay well informed is to follow the OPP on Twitter and in particular the Provincial Communications Centre (PCC) in Orillia, that is responsible for all police-related call taking and dispatching in the OPP Central Region. There are 14 detachments within Central Region that stretches from Caledon in the southwest to Huntsville in the north and south to Northumberland County. This Communications Centre also dispatches the 400 series highways which traverse the Greater Toronto Area (GTA), Highway 400, Highway 407, and all the secondary highways that are patrolled by Highway Safety Division (HSD) Detachments from Niagara Falls to Whitby and southwest to Cambridge. OPP Communications' CR account can be followed @OPP_COMM_CR and is constantly updated 24-hours a day. This allows for the most current and updated road conditions throughout Central Ontario.

Fatal accident early last Thursday on Mayfield Road

A 42-year-old Caledon man lost his life last Thursday after a head-on crash on Mayfield Road.

Caledon OPP reports they were called to the scene, between Coleraine Drive and Humber Station Road at around 1:20 a.m.

Preliminary investigation revealed that a grey 2009 Toyota Highlander was travelling westbound on Mayfield when it crossed the centre line for an unknown reason and collided with a transport truck travelling.

Leo P. Abraham was the only occupant of the Toyota, and he was pronounced dead at the scene.

The road was closed for several hours while Technical Collision Investigators assisted at the scene.

Police continue to investigate the cause of the collision.

Fire department collecting for Santa Fund

Caledon Fire and Emergency Services is teaming up again with Caledon Community Services (CCS) to support the Santa Fund program to ensure that all families and children have food and gifts this holiday season. With this third-annual partnership, community members can drop off non-perishable food items and unwrapped gifts for children of all ages at four different locations. This year, gifts for boys and girls between the ages of 10 and 15 years are in high demand.

Drop off locations are at Caledon Fire Headquarters at 6211 Old Church Rd. in Caledon East Mondays to Fridays from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.; Bolton Fire Station at 28 Ann St. daily from 9 a.m. to 7 p.m.; Caledon Fire Station at 3611 Charleston Sideroad in Caledon village Mondays to Fridays from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.; and Town Hall at 6311 Old Church Rd. in Caledon East Mondays to Fridays from 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

The last day to drop off gifts will be Dec. 12. All donations after that day will be accepted only at The Exchange, 55 Healey Rd., Unit 10 in Bolton.

Jazz greats will perform in King’s countryside

By Mark Pavilons

Jazz is not only alive and well in rural King Township, it’s growing in popularity.

Singer, songwriter Michele Mele is bucking the trend, and is leading the charge in a resurgence of jazz music. Her country home has become an intimate haven for Canada’s best jazz performers, and her regular concerts are drawing visitors from far and wide.

Mele said so far this year, the sold-out concerts are very well received, with many regular visitors. The quality of artists is the main draw, and the word is spreading throughout the area about the quality of these intimate events.

The pleasant, comfortable country setting lends it self to the smooth sounds of jazz. The events are all family friendly.

The upcoming concert not only ushers in the holidays, but showcases several top musicians. It will take place Dec. 16 at 2 p.m. at the Mele residence at 15785 8th Concession.

Mele will host the Guido Basso Quartet, including Bernie Senensky on piano, Neil Swainson on bass and Ben Riley on drums.

Basso was a member of Rob McConnell and the Boss Brass. He is a trumpeter, flugelhornist, harmonica-player, arranger, composer and conductor. He has performed with the likes of Dizzy Gillespie, Quincy Jones, Woody Herman, Benny Goodman, Duke Ellington and Count Basie.

Mele will join the quartet and this promises to be a must-attend, feel-good event just before the holidays. Mele offers up her Fazioli piano, considered one of the best in the world.

Her newest project is Universe in a Kiss, 75 minutes of original songs, performed live on stage. Accompanied by an orchestral soundtrack, enhanced with aerial works by circus performers, Universe in a Kiss is magical production. It offers an almost inexplicable connection of human hearts, one that arose billions of years ago out of cosmic dust. The universe has been expanding ever since, and Mele has tapped into that.

Mele said she would love to present this show at a King venue in 2018.

Also, Mele wants to organize and present a jazz festival in King this summer. She also wants to showcase the talents of younger musicians, and offer up a youth series, featuring aspiring talented artists in their 20s.

Mele also has a four-song holiday mix, Cozy Christmas. It’s four classic songs with her personal twist.

Mele and her Concerts at Michele’s offer world-class talent that just can’t be found anywhere else.

Tickets for the upcoming concert are only $30 online or $35 at the door. Visit www.BrownPaperTickets.com

APPRECIATIVE CROWD AT CROSSCURRENTS

Nicole Lisa Craig was given a standing ovation recently at CrossCurrents Café. She did a lot of original material from her recent CDs, as well as some covers, such as, La Vie en Rose, Gracias a la Vida, and Both Sides Now. Her voice, pure and strong, has faint hints of Joan Baez and Joni Mitchell. With her were Tom Nagy on bass, and Norm Lucien, who performed vocals, mouth harp and guitar.

Orange Peel Carollers coming to CrossCurrents Cafe next week

Following a time-honoured tradition from the north of England, the Orange Peel Carollers will be gathering next Friday (Dec. 15) at Cross Currents Cafe in Bolton to dance, as well as sing what are known as village or pub carols.

These carols will not be the standard Christmas tunes heard this time of year in malls. They promise to be more boisterous and secular.

CrossCurrents operates out of Bolton United Church at the corner of King and Nancy Streets. Doors will open at 7:30 p.m. and the music is slated to start at 8.

Admission is free, but donations are welcome.

Carols to be sung in Caledon East

The choirs of Caledon East United Church and St. James’ Anglican Church, along with the St. James’ band, will be presenting a joint Christmas concert.

It will be Dec. 10 at Caledon East United Church, at 6046 Old Church Rd., starting at 2 p.m.

Admission will be free, although donation would be appreciated. They will be going to the Caledon Community Services Santa Fund.

A reception will be held in Friendship Hall following the concert.

For more information, contact the church office at 905-584-9974, or the website at www.caledoneastunited-church.ca

Class Environmental Assessment for George Bolton Parkway Extension

THE STUDY:

The Corporation of the Town of Caledon is undertaking a Municipal Class Environmental Assessment (EA) for the extension of George Bolton Parkway from Highway 50 to Albion Vaughan Road. Investigations undertaken to date have evaluated the alternative solutions as presented at Public Information Centre (PIC) #1. The extension of George Bolton Parkway with intersections at Industrial Road and Commercial Road; no intersection at Albion Vaughan Road and Commercial Road (Alternative 7) was confirmed as the preferred alternative solution. The development and evaluation of alternative design concepts for the preferred solution Alternative 7 will be presented at PIC #2.

PROCESS:

The study will be conducted in accordance with the planning and design process for Schedule 'C' projects, as outlined in the Municipal Engineers Association "Municipal Class Environmental Assessment," (October 2000, as amended in 2007, 2011 and 2015), as approved under the Ontario Environmental Assessment Act.

PUBLIC CONSULTATION:

Public consultation forms an integral part of the Class EA study, where all communications with the public and affected groups regarding this project are documented, assessed and considered. PIC #2 will have an open house format to enable the public to meet the project team and to provide feedback on the alternative design concepts presented. Information presented at PIC #2 will be made available on the Town's website: caledon.ca.

Premier holding public town hall in Peel Dec. 13

Premier Kathleen Wynne is inviting the public to share their ideas and ask their questions about education, health care, job security and other issues that matter most to people in Ontario.

Following her wide-ranging town hall in Toronto Nov. 20, Wynne will host a second meeting this coming Wednesday (Dec. 13) in Peel.

The Town Hall will take place at Century Gardens Recreation Centre at 340 Vodden St. East in Brampton, with former Rogers TV host Nav Nanwa as moderator. Admission is free, and is open to anyone who wants to share their thoughts on the government's plan for Ontario.

General admission seating will be available on a first-come, first-served basis. Doors will open at 6 p.m., and the Town Hall will start at 7.

"Ontario's economy is doing well, but we know that those numbers don't tell the whole story," Wynne said. "Too many people are being left behind, and that's why our plan to create more fairness and opportunity is about making sure that everyone has the chance to share in our province's prosperity. Nobody knows our province better than our people — and I am looking forward to hearing about the issues that matter most to you, the people of Ontario."

Liberals not impressed with People's Guarantee

By Bill Rea

Ontario's Liberals have little praise, but lots of questions when it comes to the Progressive Conservative platform unveiled by Tory Leader Patrick Brown last weekend.

"There are a ton of questions that are left unanswered," Transportation Minister and Vaughan MPP David Del Duca told the Citizen.

He made the comment last Thursday, the morning after Brown addressed about 100 of the party faithful at Brampton Fairgrounds.

One of the key issues Del Duca raised was where the Tories are going to have to find some $12.75 billion to make their plan, called People's Guarantee, hold together. He added his Liberal colleagues have been asking Brown to level with people about what services would have to be cut to make it work, but he doesn't seem to have the courage to do that.

"It's kind of sad," Del Duca said, adding it could lead to some "really, dramatically bad decisions."

Del Duca said the last PC government sold Highway 407 to a foreign consortium, filled in the hole that was to accommodate the Eglinton subway and cut funding to GO Transit.

"We have built so much over the last few years," he boasted, adding Premier Kathleen Wynne is fighting for fairness and a strong economy.

"I think in this day and age, if you're telling the people of Ontario you want their vote, . . . you have to have courage in your convictions," he added.

Del Duca commented that in his public life, he saw only one PC Leader who actually addressed how his plan would work, and that was Tim Hudak. He said that Hudak planned to fire 100,000 public servants.

"The voters rendered their judgement on that proposal," he observed.

"This is about people's lives," he added. "This is about their quality of life."

He charged that Brown thinks it's a game, but added he still has time to level with people.

News coming 'soon'

Del Duca appeared at a party function in Caledon in December 2016. He pointed out at the time that the Transportation Ministry paused the study on the EA in order to seek more input and advice. That work was continuing, he said.

"I expect to have an update from them in the relatively near future," he said a year ago, adding he had no further time frame to offer.

He still doesn't.

"It will be soon. I'm not in a position to confirm a date yet, but it will be soon."

COLLECTING TOYS FOR SICK KIDS

There's a very brightly lit house on Coates Hill Court in Cedar Mills that's been decorated for the Holidays, and for another cause as well. Nadine Mercieca said there's a toy box set out on the front yard, and community members are invited to drop off toys for the Hospital for Sick Children in Toronto. She said some 60,000 lights have gone into the display.

Concert features Daniel Panetta

The Festive Spirit Christmas Concert at Tottenham United Church will showcase international singing star Daniel Panetta for a one-night-only event.

It will be this Saturday (Dec. 9) at 7:30 p.m. Included will be a sing-along, season short stories and refreshments.

"The festive spirit always conjures up images of Christmas carollers, favourite songs, and friends gathering over hot apple cider," Minister Patti Rodgers said. "We're fortunate and delighted Daniel is

Charlie Brown coming to Cheltenham

A Charlie Brown Christmas, along with a pot-luck supper, is coming to Cheltenham Baptist Church.

It will be this Sunday (Dec. 10), starting at 5:30 p.m. The play will be put on by the Sunday school children.

Everyone in the community is invited. Just bring something that would feed those who come with you.

The church is at 14520 Creditview Rd.

able to join us again to share his extraordinary talent. This will be a lively and fun evening of traditional songs, short stories and treats."

With family roots in Tottenham, Panetta commands an international audience. Festive Spirit is a unique chance to embrace the Holiday spirit and hear him before he embarks on another extensive tour in 2018.

A classically trained vocalist with a five-octave range, he has a deep love for virtually every style of music and has developed a unique capability to masterfully perform them in six different languages. Panetta has been performing professionally since he was just five, accounting for his incredible stage presence. It's no wonder he has created such a strong reputation in the industry.

His repertoire can be found at www.danielpanettamusic.com/

Tickets are $20 per person and can be purchased at Timo Italian Grille in Tottenham or by calling (905) 936-3091.

A crowded middle of the road?

At a time when the United States is afflicted with divisiveness of a sort not found since the Civil War of the 1860s, Ontario appears to be approaching a general election in June that may see three political parties all seeming to occupy the middle of the political spectrum.

The traditional occupants of that part of the spectrum, the governing Liberals, have moved a bit to the left, courting young potential voters with a big increase in the minimum wage, some free prescription drugs and more generous aid to post-secondary students.

Meanwhile, the Progressive Conservatives seem to be putting more emphasis on “Progressive” with the platform recently unveiled by leader Patrick Brown.

Dubbed the People’s Guarantee, the Tory platform paper runs 78 pages and includes no fewer than 147 promises, among them sharply lower middle income tax rates, a 12-per-cent cut in hydro rates, write-offs for child care and new spending on mental-health care.

“With our platform, you will pay less and you will get more,” Brown has vowed, saying that if he doesn’t deliver on his main commitments, he wouldn’t stick around for a second term as Ontario premier. And to hammer the point home, he signed a written pledge before roughly 1,500 cheering delegates at a party convention in Toronto.

However, some critics have concluded that the pledges are fiscally risky and economically incoherent. Some say that to keep all the promises the Tories would have to choose between big deficits and about $12 billion in service cuts, none of which are mentioned in the platform.

At present, the coming election is the third in which the Tories enjoyed a big lead over the Liberals, in large part because of what the public perceived as either scandals or massive wastes of taxpayers’ dollars.

In 2010 and 2014, the leads vanished, thanks to unwise promises to fund private schools and trim 100,000 civil service jobs, but this time the lead should hold, for at least three good reasons.

Perhaps biggest of the three is the fact the Liberals have been in power 14 years — a long time, but well short of the 42 years Ontario was a Tory bastion under premiers George Drew, Leslie Frost, John Robarts, Bill Davis and (briefly) Frank Miller.

Generally speaking, the cry “Time for a change!” will win a positive response after a dozen or so years.

Another reason lies in opinion polls, which show that Premier Kathleen Wynne’s popularity has dipped well below even the approval rankings of U.S. President Donald Trump — 19 per cent in a poll last June, compared with Trump’s current rating of 33 per cent.

The third reason is the traditional ability of a huge portion of Ontario voters to swing between the two “old line” parties, and to favour the party that’s not in power at Ottawa, usually supporting Liberal prime ministers Lester Pearson, Pierre Trudeau and Jean Chrétien.

Of course, the big unknown is the extent to which the New Democrats will eat into the Liberal base. It remains to be seen whether the NDP will once more court the uncommitted voters or return to their traditional role of posing well to the left of the Grits.

In both the Ontario election of 2014 and the federal election the following year, the NDP’s moderate platforms led to the loss of many of their supporters, either because they saw the Liberals as less of a problem than the Tories or liked the leadership style of Wynne and Justin Trudeau.

But moderation did work for then-leader Bob Rae in 1990 when he simply appealed to the voters to punish Liberal premier David Peterson for calling an election in the third year of his second term in office.

No such mistake will be made by Wynne, but the 1990 election showed once and for all that in Ontario politics since the 1980s, there’s no such thing as a sure winner.

Things are better than before

This is another of those occasions when I believe I must put a few facts up front before proceeding.

I am not gay, and I never have been. But I also am quite happy to accept the fact that there are gay people among us. Indeed, that has been the case for some 40 years, for reasons I will get to in a couple of paragraphs.

As most people who know me are aware, I have been very, very contently involved in a heterosexual relationship with a woman for many years, and I have been happily married to her for almost 20 of those years.

But I like to consider myself a realist, so I appreciate there are lots of people, equally content as I in homosexual relationships. It’s really not a big deal. In fact, as far as I’m concerned, it’s no deal at all.

There are two, and only two people on this planet whose sexual orientation is a matter of the even remotest amount of interest to me. One of those people is myself, and the other is my wife (for obvious reasons, I would submit). When it comes to the sexual orientation of the rest of the world, I don’t give a damn.

This column was prompted by two events that occurred over the last several days.

The most recent was the death of Jim Nabors. I watched a lot of TV in the late ‘60s, and one show I always enjoyed was Gomer Pyle, U.S.M.C., in which Nabors starred. As time progressed, he acquired another impressive gig, namely singing Back Home Again in Indiana before the start of the Indianapolis 500, an event watched by millions. In those days, I was a young man interested in vocal music, and I was impressed with the set of pipes Nabors had (make that envious). But as I read about his life over the last couple of days, I read he had been partnered with a guy for some 42 years, and they had been married for the last four. They had apparently been married in Seattle about a month after same-sex marriages were made legal in the state of Washington.

The interesting thing is so little was made of this in the obituary material that appeared in the last several days. The fact the Nabors was gay came as no shock. I came into such knowledge some years ago. I forget exactly how I learned about it because, as I stated above, I didn’t care.

The other event was when Prime Minister Justin Trudeau stood up in the House of Commons and apologized to gays for wrongs done to them in the past by the federal government, such as purging such people from the civil service or the military. I have read the statement, and I give the PM full marks for eloquence, as well as his attempt to address certain wrongs that have been done in the past.

I believe those two events have sort of underscored the change in attitudes over the last couple of decades.

When I was a kid, remarks about one’s sexual orientation was one of the most common taunts one heard in the hall or school yard. I was victimized lots of times. Having a last name that rhymes with “gay” didn’t help. Some of the taunts were good-natured among friends, amounting to little more than bantering that goes on between kids, and adults too. In such cases, I like to think I gave as good as I got. Other cases were mean-spirited, basically amounting to bullying. The people behind those taunts are in my past, and I don’t miss them.

I was lucky enough to have an early lesson in dealing with people of that certain orientation.

I grew up living across the street from two gay men. They kept pretty much to themselves, and the neighbours on the street respected their privacy.

One of guys was an enthusiastic gardener. The two of them travelled a lot, so I was prevailed upon to water his plants in the house a couple of times per week when they were away. I wasn’t able to handle such chores when I went away to university, but my father was happy to take it on. As the two men got to know each other, they realized they had quite a lot in common. They had both travelled extensively in Europe, and they shared interests in things like art and wines. In time, these guys became close friends of my family.

There were major benefits.

When my father took ill some 25 years ago, those guys bent over backwards to help my mother. They were over at the house the night my dad died, and one of my most vivid memories of that evening was one of them sitting in a chair in the living room with tears streaming down his face. He made no effort to hide them.

Those guys took care of my mother, having her over to dinner lots of times, and quickly accepting invites to dine with her — both my mom and the gardener were splendid cooks. They also kept an eye on my mother. I got a call at work one morning from one of them, saying he hadn’t seen Mom in a couple of days, and just wanted to make sure all was well. It was, and it made us feel good that these guys were on deck.

My mother insisted they be included on the guest list at my wedding, and she needed to do no twisting of my arm to get me to go along with that.

Alas, both of those men have been dead for many years, but I well remember the good lessons I learned from our association.

And I reflect they were lucky to have lived in a neighbourhood that was not judgemental in those days. Fortunately, things have improved a lot. I was reminded of that over the last week.

Rotary Club of Palgrave’s Weekly Rotary Minute

By Doug Nicholson
President

The Rotary Club of Palgrave hosted the annual Christmas Tree Lighting in Station Lands Park Nov. 25.

This year, thanks to the tremendous efforts of Palgrave First and River Ridge Snow Removal, the trees shone brightly, covered with new lights. The craft tables were brightly lit for eager small hands to make beaded candy canes, and Sarah’s tree lit up the sky like no other.

If you recall, Abby Robertson and the other members of Palgrave First held a Spring Community Garage Sale in May. Their goal was to raise the funds to replace the Christmas lights at Station Lands Park. I’m confident that you will agree that Palgrave First did an outstanding job with their first project.

All proceeds raised went to buy lights for the Park and what a success Palgrave First’s project was. The Park looks fantastic!

The splendor of Sarah’s tree, decked out in all her new lights, and the gorgeous white lights lighting up the path as you drive by the Park is just a small part of the vision of Palgrave First in their journey to beautify Palgrave. We are so pleased with their efforts and look forward to supporting them in their future endeavors around Palgrave.

Thank you Abby and Palgrave First for making a difference in our community.

To find out how Rotary can help your community project, please contact us at www.rotaryclubofpalgrave.com and register for one of our weekly meetings.

When residents support local and small businesses, there are tangible benefits and positive impacts, such as strengthening the local economy, attracting business, fostering innovation and creativity and creating a greater sense of community. As well, local goods and services lessen the overall environmental impacts. They provide good and even personalized customer

Liberal government's marijuana legislation is too hasty

The current Liberal government released the details on the taxation of marijuana Nov. 10.

Their taxation plan would add an excise tax of $1 per gram or 10 per cent of the final retail price, whichever is higher, with the revenues to be divided equally between Ottawa and the provinces. GST will also be applied to sales and the current government is committed to consulting on the plan until Dec. 7. While the current Liberal government has shared its plan to tax marijuana, there are still many unanswered questions surrounding the quick legalization of it, which raises many understandable concerns for Canadians.

We, the Conservative Official Opposition, oppose the legislation to legalize marijuana in Canada.

Since the current Liberal government announced its plan to legalize marijuana, we've raised and expressed very serious concerns, ranging from the current proliferation of illegal, unregulated marijuana dispensaries; the public safety issue of people driving and operating heavy equipment while high; ensuring that marijuana is going to be kept out of the hands of children; addressing Canada's international obligations regarding the legality of marijuana; to name a few.

OTTAWA JOURNAL

David Tilson
MP Dufferin-Caledon

Instead of focusing on how many tax dollars he can squeeze out of his policy, Prime Minister Justin Trudeau needs to stop and listen instead to scientists, doctors and law enforcement officials; all of whom say this plan is being rushed through without proper planning or consideration for the negative consequences of such complicated legislation. Most concerning is that Prime Minister Trudeau's bill does not keep marijuana out of the hands of children, eliminate organized crime or address issues with impaired driving. The result of the Prime Minister's mismanagement is that provinces and municipalities will be forced to pay the massive upfront costs of implementing this ill-conceived plan.

In addition to the concerns we've raised as the Official Opposition, other groups have raised concerns with respect to the current Liberal government's plan to legalize marijuana.

Dr. Laurent Marcoux from the Canadian Medical Association stated, "We still want to set the age at 21, and maybe 25, because the damage done to the brain will be permanent," at the Standing Committee on Health, Sept. 11, 2017. OPP Dep-service, and community pride and spirit it is bolstered

Caledon businesses do their part to support our community. Just look at the back of any youth sports jerseys. Those businesses have chosen to set up shop, support community initiatives and hang their sign here because they know, like we know, that Caledon is a special place.

So instead of getting ready to tackle traffic or fight for a parking spot, visit our hamlets and villages and shop for Caledon this Christmas.

Please share with me your local shopping stories or pictures, and I'll post them in my January newsletter.

Happy Shopping.

uty Commissioner Rick Barnum stated during his Health Committee testimony, "if legislation is ready to go in July 2018, policing will not be ready to go August 1; it's impossible. The damage that can be done between the time of new legislation and police officers being ready to enforce the law in six months or a year make it very hard for us to ever regain that foothold."

However, the Liberals have now used their majority to pass the bill in the House of Commons and send it to the Senate over Conservative objections and despite concerns raised by other groups.

The current Liberal government has chosen to focus their efforts on the amount of tax revenue that can be generated through the taxation of marijuana instead of addressing the very serious and (very real) concerns their problematic and complex legislation raises. It is yet another example of the current government failing Canadians and acting impulsively for political points.

Canadians deserve better from their government.

People's Guarantee promises positive results for Dufferin-Caledon

FROM QUEEN'S PARK

Sylvia Jones
MPP Dufferin-Caledon

Last week, I had the pleasure of hosting the Leader of the Ontario Progressive Conservative Party, Patrick Brown in Caledon for a speech to supporters where he shared the PC platform for the 2018 election, the People's Guarantee.

The People's Guarantee represents the result of months of consultation with Ontarians from across the province. I am proud of this work. Importantly, Kevin Page, former Parliamentary Budget Officer for Canada has said that "the fiscal estimates underlying the Ontario PC platform have been deemed reasonable by the non-partisan Institute of Fiscal Studies and Democracy, University of Ottawa."

It outlines our plan to help address the issues that I have been hearing from constituents for years: a rising cost of living; skyrocketing hydro rates; unaffordable child care; the mental health crisis and the rising mistrust of government.

That is why Patrick Brown, the PC Party and I are putting forward five specific guarantees, about what we would do differently if given the honour to form the government in 2018.

First, we will reduce the income tax rate for the middle class by 22.5 per cent. Second, we will introduce a new Ontario Child Care Refund to pay up to 75 per cent of a family's childcare expenses. Third, we will lower the average hydro bill by an additional 12 per cent. Fourth, we will invest $1.9 billion in mental health services, the largest provincial commitment in Canadian history. Fifth, we will introduce the first ever Trust, Integrity and Accountability Act, to restore accountability to the provincial government.

Of the five guarantees, I am particularly proud of our historic commitment to mental health. Having sat on the Select Committee on Mental Health and Addictions more than seven years ago, I know how badly this investment is needed. According to Children's Mental Health Ontario, children are waiting for up to 1.5 years for urgent mental health treatment and nearly 12,000 children are waiting for long-term psychotherapy.

Stakeholders from across the mental health field agree. The CEO of Children's Mental Health Ontario said, "So pleased to see topping up elementary and secondary school supports for services targeted at improving mental health and well-being, including funding awareness campaigns as part of (People's Guarantee)."

The President of Ontario Provincial Police Association said, "Great to see such a commitment to mental health. We need to invest more for those in crisis and those requiring adequate support."

Farmers' Market holding holiday fair

Ring in the holiday season, support local producers and businesses, and get some gift and food shopping off your list at the Inglewood Farmers' Market Holiday Fair.

Come out to see all the market vendors.

It will be this Saturday (Dec. 9) from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m., at the Inglewood Library and Community Centre, 15825 McLaughlin Rd.

There will be a wide selection of locally-made holiday goodies and gifts. There will be baked goods, jams, preserves, dried soups, fair trade clothing, seasonal crafts, lentil mixes, savoury pies and much more. Secure local "brands" like Ms. V's Preserves, Soup Girl, Pie Guyz, Tres-Bello and Loops and Lattes.

Come to the market for unique gifts and as always, good local food.

Headwaters Tourism receives national honours for branding

Headwaters Tourism received national honours recently for brand identity at the Marketing Canada Awards in Niagara Falls.

Among colleagues from across the country, Headwaters Tourism’s “Where Ontario Gets Real” was recognized by the Economic Developers’ Association of Canada (EDAC) as one of the top marketing brands in the country for creativity, innovation and exceptional marketing of the region as a tourism destination.

According to EDAC Chief Executive Officer Penny Gardiner, the Headwaters Where Ontario Gets Real brand campaign “has been deemed the ‘best of the best’ marketing material from across Canada.”

“National recognition for branding and identity is perhaps the Holy Grail for marketing; it encompasses all the work we’ve been developing over the past two years, and confirms for us that the messaging is resonating with our target audience, and driving traffic to our businesses and our communities,” Headwaters Tourism’s Executive Director Michele Harris said.

According to Stacey Coupland, chair of Headwaters Tourism’s Board of Directors, “being recognized at a national level is a significant accomplishment for our small rural DMO, and is a testament to the exceptional work being done on behalf of our municipal partners and tourism stakeholders to position Headwaters as a nationally recognized tourism destination.”

“This recognition builds on the national and provincial recognition we’ve received over the last year, and confirms our commitment to continuing to elevate Headwaters into the forefront of national tourism and economic development prominence,” she added.

The Headwaters Where Ontario Gets Real brand was developed by local creative agency Touchwood Design, and is built around showcasing the people and places that make Headwaters the “real” deal.

This award from the Economic Developers’ Association of Canada follows provincial and national recognition for the work being done by Headwaters in tourism marketing and economic development. Over the past 18-months, Headwaters Tourism has been recognized with three awards from the Economic Developers’ Council of Ontario, three provincial tourism awards of excellence, and national recognition at the Canadian Tourism Awards.

Guy Fawkes night drew 400 to Orangeville fairgrounds

By Mike Pickford
Not even icy-cold temperatures that dropped dangerously close to freezing were enough to deter approximately 400 area residents from celebrating Bonfire Night in style, in honour of Guy Fawkes Day recently.

Held at the Orangeville Agricultural Society Event Centre, the second annual event took the community by storm as local residents Sharon Edmonds and Elaine Capes planned a full afternoon's worth of activities. Recognized as the only official event of its kind in Ontario (they do celebrate the occasion in Atlantic Canada), Bonfire Night pays homage to the failed Gunpowder Plot of 1605, which saw British rebel Guy Fawkes and a group of 12 other men attempt to blow up the British Houses of Parliament and assassinate the Royal Family.

Much of the history surrounding the origins of the event has been lost over time and today, in the United Kingdom, Bonfire Night is mostly seen as an occasion to get together with family and friends and enjoy a fun-filled evening. Having grown up loving Bonfire Night while living in the U.K., Edmonds is eager to spread the joy here.

"Bonfire Night is always one of the biggest nights of the year in the U.K., it's brilliant," she told the Citizen. "I really want to bring that sense of community, that sense of camaraderie that embodies Bonfire Night here to Orangeville. We had a great time last year with our first annual event and even more so this year. It was a bit cold outside, but we had some fantastic feedback from those in attendance."

While there were lots of locals on hand learning about Guy Fawkes, the Gunpowder Plot and British history, there was a definitive British contingent in attendance too, some of whom had traveled from places such as London, Burlington and Cobourg to be there.

Peter Jacobs made the relatively short trip up Highway 10 from Brampton to check the event out and he did not leave disappointed.

"The bonfire was the thing that got me, it was amazing," he said. "It definitely was a cold day, but once you got around that fire, you were warm and toasty in no time."

One of the children in attendance spoke of her experience making her very own straw Guy Fawkes effigy and then participating in a marching parade down to the bonfire, where she placed her Guy to burn.

"It was fun," she declared. "I liked that I could put it on the fire and watch it (burn)."

Elsewhere, others took to social media to show their appreciation, with one user, Cheryl Davies-Black, commending the organizers for bringing a little piece of Britain to Dufferin County.

"It's been years since we had the real smell of a bonfire! Cheers!" Davies-Black wrote. "Food was fab, wish there was more of it . . . The spotted dick and toffee apple desserts brought back memories. Great crafts for kids, looking forward to next year!"

And looking ahead to next year, Capes said there would be some notable changes made in an attempt to entice even more people to come out.

"The big thing we're looking at doing next year is making this more of an indoor event. We're going to hire a band and make sure there's lots to do inside, just in case we have a bitter day like we did on Saturday," she said. "We'll still have the bonfire and the fireworks, so there will be things outside. But the crafts and storytelling. It would make sense to focus more on an indoor location."

Either way, Bonfire Night will be back again in Orangeville in 2018; that much Edmonds would guarantee.

What better way to celebrate an old English tradition than to light a big bonfire and have some fun activities to go along with it. The recent Guy Fawkes Bonfire Night at the Orangeville Agricultural Centre celebrated the old tradition with a full blown fire and a lot of fun. Alex, Luke and Cooper had a ring-side seat as the flames light up the sky.

"The overwhelming support we've had from people in this community and people from outside of the community just shows that there are people who really want this event to succeed," she said. "It is a bit different from anything else that goes on in Canada. Fireworks in November raises a few eyebrows for Canadians, but I can really see this taking off in a big way over the next couple of years. We're here every step of the way. I said it last year and I'll say it again, we want Orangeville to be known for Bonfire Night."

"We're getting there, it's been a fun couple of years," she concluded. "We just need to continue getting out message out there to the community and letting them know how much fun Bonfire Night can be."

Large crowds were out Saturday

The weather was bright Saturday morning and so was the mood in Bolton as the community came out to take in the annual Santa Claus Parade, put on by the Bolton Kinsmen. These young people were representing Allan Drive Middle School.

Photos by Bill Rea

Musicians from Humberview Secondary School were marching in the parade.

These Girl Guides were having a good time riding with the parade on this float.

The Home James mascot was marching in the parade with this representative of the Bolton Lions Club.

Sparky's antics brought a lot of smiles to those on the parade route.

These young hockey players with the Caledon Coyotes were waving at the crowds from their float.

Danilo Milani wasn't quite sure how to react to Santa, but his mother Nadia helped him wave.

Members of Lampstand Bolton Christian Church had things to hand out to spectators on the parade route.

Members of the Royal Canadian Sea Cadets Corps 253 Crescent were marching as part of the welcome for Santa Claus.

Representatives of the Canadian Dance Unit always bring a lot of energy when they take part in the parade.

Emma Nobili, 3, of Bolton had a great view to watch Santa ride by, thanks to her father Mark.

Golden Hawks put up 10 goals against Huntsville

By Jake Courtepatte

Third time's the charm.

For the third time this season, the Caledon Golden Hawks scored in the double digits Sunday, and for the third time this season, took down the Huntsville Otters to stay perfect against their Carruthers division rivals.

Caledon took a three-game winning streak into their battle with the Otters at Caledon East, with back-and-forth action throughout most of the first period.

Marc Simonetta opened the scoring for the home team just before the midway mark of the frame, sneaking it in low from the side of the net on a delayed penalty, before William Patry centred a pass from behind the net to captain Matt Magliozzi to send the Hawks to the break up 2-0.

After the teams exchanged goals late in the second, Caledon's offence exploded for seven goals in a little more than 18 minutes of play between the second and third periods, with a 10-1 score on the board by the final buzzer.

Both Andrew Woods and Magliozzi picked up hat tricks, as Magliozzi extended his team point lead to 44 in 23 games, good for sixth in the entire Carruthers division.

Sean Nottle, Tyler Whitten, Jeffrey Ohashi, Christian Hauck and Simonetta all also put up multi-point efforts in the contest.

Michael Kaczor, who has earned the brunt of the work between the pipes for the Hawks this season, working in tandem with Brody Read, earned his sixth win of the year and the third in his last four outings.

Picking up nine of a possible 10 points in their last five games, the Hawks have begun to create a distance between their third-place standing and the fourth-place Schomberg Cougars, as the Hawks have a four-point edge with a record of 13-10-0-2.

The Stayner Siskins and Alliston Hornets remain far and away in first and place in the division respectively.

Huntsville will be looking to exact their revenge on the Hawks in a rematch tomorrow (Friday), hosted at Huntsville's Canada Summit Centre.

The Hawks return home to Caledon East Sunday to host the Penetang Kings, who are well in the hunt for Caledon's valuable third-place spot. Six points separate the teams, though Penetang also has a game in hand.

Puck drop Sunday is set for 7 p.m.

Griffins post first win in Sunday night hockey

It took 11 starts, but the Glen Eagle Golf Club Griffins finally have a notch in the win column in the Sunday Night Hockey League standings.

They did it Nov. 26 by dropping the St. Louis Bar and Grill Wings 5-1.

The Ken's Lawnmower Repair Blades maintained their grip on the lead in the standings with a close 5-4 decision over the Pommies Cider Co. Wild. Other games saw the Ainsley Fire Protection Fire double the Caledon Hills Brewing Co. Brewers and the Inside Out Family Chiropractic Predators blank the Mr. Handyman Ice Hogs.

Daniel Hamlett.

Blades 5, Wild 4

The final game of November saw the Blades spill Wild.

Blades' net nabbers were Darren Levy and Brett Appio with a pair each, and Daryll Simpson with the single, helped by Greg Fuller, Shawn Simpson, David Payne and Levy. Wild mesh mashers were Mitch Merante from Randy Isenberg and Craig Shaw, Jason Clark from Gary Morris, Shaw from Steve Brown and Merante, and Shaw from Merante and Isenberg.

Caledon's Marc Simonetta gets past Huntsville's Tyler Gervais-Rolfe in the Golden Hawks' 10-1 win over the Otters at Caledon East Sunday.

Fire 4, Brewers 2

The Fire kept the flames fanned and won a fourth straight game over the Brewers.

Shane Ainsley was burning it up for the fire with the hat-trick while Tim Vokey added a single. Assists went to Jon Gingerich, Eamon Harper, Vokey and Dave DiMeo. Brewer lamp lighters were Brandon Scott from Jay Beech and Dave Matheson, and Jon McNamara from Brent Spagnol.

Predators 4, Ice Hogs 0

Alex Nordheimer stood tall and gained the shutout for the Predators over the Ice Hogs.

Predators scoring were Cam Coulter from Fab Iafano and Colin Fyffe, Howard Cantelon from Coulter and Darren Jones, Mike Desario from Coulter, and Iafano (unassisted).

Nov. 19

The previous week saw the Blades give themselves a bit of air at the top of the standings.

Blades 8, Griffins 2

The night started out with a big scoring affair, with the Blades shredding the Griffins.

Blades bin bulgers were Levy and Daryll Simpson with two each and Appio, Fuller, Shawn Simpson and Bogdan Rapan with singles. Help came from Dan Maggio, Appio, Scott Drouillard, D. Simpson and Rapan. Griffins go-to guys were Pace from Cory Schittenhelm, and Schittenhelm from Alex Schittenhelm.

Local curling team unbeaten in New York victory

By Shellee Morning
King Curling Club

King’s Team Harris packed their brooms and headed for Rochester, New-York, to participate in the Rock N Reel Bonspiel for their first over-the boarder competition.

These youngsters were filled by excitement and determination.

Skip Codie Harris, Ben Harbridge as vice, Matthew Murphy as second and Jonathon Brunato as lead faced a large contingent of American teamthem.

During round-robin play, the Harris squad played teams from Schenectady, Rochester and Albany, winning all three matches and qualifying for the A division event. Semifinal action saw Harris against a team from Plain Chester, N.Y. and the King boys pushed from the hack strong in the first end and never looked back, winning 8-1, and advancing them to the championship game.

Facing the only other Canadian team in the event, Team Harris greeted Teaghan Laitar and her team from Fergus for the title. Laitar with hammer scored a deuce in the opening frame, then Harris responded in the second with his own two points to tie.

They traded deuces in the third and fourth ends, equalling the score again at four points each. In the fifth, Team Harris manipulated, forcing Laitar to a single and regaining the hammer. Both teams traded two points each in the sixth and seventh, but Laitar controlled the house in the eighth, forcing Harris to a single to tie the game, forcing the extra end.

It was a well-played scoreboard throughout the championship match by both Canadian teams with great shots and impressive teamwork.

Laitar, earning the hammer for the extra end, led her team to some well-executed shots and guard placement, leaving the Harris team with some challenging come backs.

Harris on his last shot drew down a difficult path, making a tough last shot for Laitar, who missed and gave up a steal of three, handing Team Harris the win.

Harris won the title with a five-game, unbeaten spiel for the Championship Title.

These four boys, along with fifth man, Cameron Sheardown, are also competing in OFFSA representing King City Secondary School with a record to date of two ties and one loss. This week, they will be playing zones in the Gore Mutual School Boys at Orangeville Curling Club.

Sunday Night Social League

On sheet 1, Skip Heidi Beck and her team of Jim and Gail McKinley and Fiori Gagliardi scored nine points to overtake the opposing team of Andrea and Amanda Zupanic, Charles Levine and Doug Brown (spare for Maria Moreau). They won more ends then Beck, but only scored six points in the high scoring exciting match.

On sheet 2, the strong front end of Sheila Kelly and Dominic Baldesarra helped Team Dave Grosse to their win against team Kelly. Skip Bill Kelly and Kim Battershell, Richard Boutin and Dan Antle rebounded in the second half to a close finish of 8-7.

Friday League playoffs

The Friday night social league began their knock-out competition playoffs this past week and after some tantalizing hits and draws, the first round winners drew a sigh of relief after their hard fought battles. Winners included Rob Robertson, Gerry Duffy, Peter Wasylkiw and Andrew McKenzie. Round two next week is anticipated to be just as exciting as playoffs always produce its own degree of surprises.

Three-way tie after Nov. 27 action

A three-way logjam for first place in the Caledon Senior Hockey League was the result of last Monday’s action at Don Sheardown Memorial Arena.

Yale Industrial Trucks grabbed a share of top spot after a 6-6 tie with Fines Ford Lincoln. Rutherford Global Logistics took its piece of first place from Heart Lake Insurance with a 5-2 win, although Heart Lake remains tied for the lead as well. In the other game, the Grit Bagmen bombed Jiffy Lube Oilers 9-2.

Rutherford 5,
Heart Lake 2

Team rep Nick Taccogna, Bruno Fracassi and Jim Rogers were the top marksmen for Rutherford with a goal and an assist each. Peter Derooy and Jim Dunbar also scored. Ron Sampson set up two goals and Tony Calabro had one helper.

Tim Sinclair had a goal and an assist for Heart Lake. Jamie Hardman scored the other goal. Single assists went to team sponsor Chris Spilar, Paul Agius and Ian Kerr.

Fines Ford 6,
Yale 6

Mike Foley had the hot hand for Fines with three goals while Bret Smith added a goal and two assists.

Alex Dorosh and George Armstrong scored the other goals. Dave Armstrong and Jim Schaefer had two assists each. Singles went to Jeff Boyles, Dom D’Orazio and Bill Moyer.

Dan Tasson and Steve Smith powered the Yale attack. Tasson had two goals and two assists while Smith bagged a hat trick. Bernie Tisdale contributed a goal and an assist. Team rep James Heenan and Tony Dinis set up two goals each. Romas Krilivicus, Brian Samuel and Robert Masutti each had one assist.

Grit 9,
Jiffy Lube 2

Tony Curcio continued his hot streak with three goals and an assist to lead Grit to its second consecutive win.

Kyle Smith scored twice while Robert Ianno notched a goal and two assists. Mike Shore and Mike Gasparini both scored a goal and added an assist. Carlo Fantin scored the other goal. Team sponsor Greg Collins and John Pitsadiotis bagged three helpers each. Team rep David Shoalts and Jim Sabaziotis both had two assists. Randy Freitag had one assist.

Greg Frangakis led Jiffy Lube with a goal and an assist, while Rick Geiger scored the other goal. Pete McNamara and Steve Sanderson each had one assist.

WE DON'T BREW OUR BEER FOR THE AWARDS.

BUT HE DOES!

Our brewmaster, Andrew Kohnen, threw away a successful career in logistics to pursue his dream of reconnecting with the brewing roots of his family. This carried him to the UK's prestigious Brewlab in Sunderland, England, where he procured the alchemy that would drive his signature brewing style.

He took what he could from there and ventured to Scotland, Cornwall, and ultimately to Krefeld, Germany, working in the same brewery that had belonged to his ancestors. He came home to Canada for Hockley.

Wild 7,
Wings 3

The second game of the evening saw the Wings get clipped by the Wild.

Wild warriors were Steven Whitten and Isenberg with a pair each and Dan Shaw, Brown and Sean Mazurkiewicz with singles. Assists were from Whitten, Shaw, James Sheridan, Clark and Mazurkiewicz. Wings whippers were Jody Spagnol from Mike DeFrancesco, Ranieri from Spagnol and Ranieri (unassisted).

Fire 2, Ice Hogs 1

In a tight battle, Mr. Handyman were burnt by the Fire.

Fire frirers were Mike Andreoli from Silvio Muraca, and Brad Wigner from Harper and Alex White. Handyman's lone marker was Adam Minatel from Marc de Abaitua.

Brewers 9, Predators 1

The final game of the night saw the Predators get adjusted by the Brewers.

Brewer twine ticklers were Beech with the hat-trick assisted by Kevin Bowen. Predator pouncers were Coulter (unassisted), and Fyffe from Austin Brown.

Santa welcomed back to Caledon village

A big crowd was gathered Saturday at Knox United Church in Caledon village to welcome Santa Claus back for the Christmas celebrations. The guest of honour arrived on this vintage fire truck.

Lots of local youngsters were anxious to meet Santa, including Conner Presseault, 6.

Members of the Optimist Club of Caledon made a $200 contribution to the Toy Drive being run by the local firefighters. Optimist Paul Reader and Club President Sue Montgomery presented the cheque to Firefighters Phil Hibbert and Cody Edmonds.

CARD OF THANKS

Find Buried Treasure in

CITIZEN Classifieds

BROWN, Keith

The family of Keith Brown would like to thank all of those who supported us during this difficult time. Dad's smile will be missed by many, including his church family, the "coffee crew" at the west end Timmy's, numerous neighbours, friends and extended family. He was a special man.

A heartfelt thank you to Terry Gauthier and everyone at Dod's and McNair Funeral Home. By going above and beyond expectations you made our time of sorrow easier to bear. We would like to extend a very special thank you to Major Carson Decker who travelled from Halifax to conduct the funeral service. Your pastoral care over the last five years was exemplary. Dad would have appreciated your personal touch. Thank you to all who made donations to Bethel House and the Salvation Army in memory of our father. He would be pleased to be remembered in such a thoughtful and lasting way.

Denise, Randy, Joy, Darcy, Tammy and families
