

Annual Home Show puts Caledon on display

The floor of the Don Sheardown Arena was a colourful and busy place recently as the Caledon Chamber of Commerce hosted the annual Caledon Home and Lifestyle Show. Many local businesses had impressive displays at their booths, outlining the services available in the community. The Alpha Dogs Robotics Team from Humberview Secondary School drew lots of attention over the weekend. The members seen here are Eric Sorokan, Matthew Reynolds, A.J. Wilson, Tanner Krauter, Sarah Foster, Adam Barrie, Albert Stancescu and Richard Mellett.

Sam Dennis and Alex Giger were manning this colourful booth for Manax Plumbing.

Carolynn Tersigni of Mandala Home Staging and Lifestyle Design was greeting visitors at this impressive booth.

People had the chance to put questions to Dufferin-Caledon MP David Tilson, even if they don't yet have a vote. Denise Durnford of Bolton watched as her children David, 7, and Leah, 10, met him. Photos by Bill Rea

Nancy Bryson of Dogs by Bryson Grooming was putting on dog-grooming demonstrations at the Home Show over the weekend. She was working here on her own dog, Willow.

Sarah Fleming of Fleming Realty Inc. in Bolton and her staff had a booth that presented a very homey feeling.

Lynn Acri and Joy, this golden retriever, were representing Cope Service Dogs.

Brian Dunn was representing Mr. Handyman Headwaters.

Domenico Bellissimo of Bellissimo Custom Guitars on Bramalea Road had a collection of his creations at the show.
