

Arrests made regarding break-in

Two men from Waterloo have been charged after Caledon OPP officers came upon a break-in July 11 in the area of Emil Kolb Parkway and Regional Road 50.

Police said the officers saw in the incident in progress, seeing a suspect on the industrial property holding a flashlight. The man reportedly fled on foot when he saw the officers.

Police also report a white Dodge Caravan was found parked nearby with the engine running. The person inside was found to be in possession of break-and-enter tools.

Members of the OPP Emergency Response Team and the OPP K9 unit were called to search for the man who fled. A suspect was located after a short search by the police dog and officers.

A 58-year-old man was arrested and charged with breaking and entering, obstructing a peace officer, possession of break-in instruments, having a disguise with intent and possession property obtained by crime.

A 57-year-old man was charged with breaking and entering, possession of break-in instruments, having a disguise with intent and possession of property obtained by crime.