

Caledon Home and Lifestyle Show will be April 24 to 26

While most Ontarians are bemoaning the polar vortex which has held them captive most of the winter, Caledon residents can look forward to the spring Caledon Home and Lifestyle Show, where icy refers to a paint colour and fresh connotes a new look. Held at Albion-Bolton Community Centre, April 24, 25 and 26, the annual show brings together more than 100 exhibitors, speakers and demonstrations, where visitors will find the latest trends for home décor, renovations and outdoor living.

Under the stewardship of veteran home show marketing specialist and Caledon resident Liz Shaughnessy, the 2015 Caledon Home and Lifestyle Show will have a fresh new look for visitors and thousands of marketing dollars and benefits for participating exhibitors.

With exhibitor support, new features on the drawing board include: Ask the Experts, where visitors can get one-on-one advice from industry experts in design and décor, renovation and landscaping; the Pet Zone, filled with the latest products and accessories for the four-legged members of the family; plus an antiques and collectibles style roadshow.

Fashion shows, entertainment and a salute to the PanAm/ParaPan Games will all be part of the show floor action Friday evening until Sunday.
