

Claude Church hosts ReframeCourse.com

Claude Church is ideally located at the gateway to the Caledon hills and the Headwaters region.

It is home to people who live, work and volunteer locally and beyond, it is a meeting place for travellers, athletes, artists, musicians, thinkers and support networks and it is a gathering spot for worship, prayer, community, ruminating, pondering, and considering.

In autumn 2015, Claude Church is inviting one and all to gather and consider, 'What does it look like to follow Jesus in our modern world?'

This question will be considered through dialogue and the use of video and course materials prepared by ReframeCourse.com, produced by Regent College in Vancouver.

The course begins Oct. 17 from 9 to 11:30 a.m. and runs for 10 consecutive Saturdays. Claude Church is at 15175 Hurontario St. in Caledon.

Those who are interested in a fresh perspective, or in connecting faith and life, or looking for a new pattern for weaving the story with the biblical story, then consider signing up for this course online at claudechurch.com
