TRCA seeking input on uses for Bolton Camp property

By Bill Rea

Many ideas are being considered for using the Bolton Camp property, and Caledon councillors got the chance to offer their input Tuesday.

Their ideas included fields for football and field hockey, among other possible uses.

Toronto and Region Conservation Authority (TRCA) acquired the property on the east side of the village last year.

Darryl Grey, manager of education with TRCA, was before council Tuesday to outline some of the preliminary proposals for the site. He said one of the aims of the project is to preserve the heritage aspects of the property.

It was established as a camp more than 90 years ago.

Grey said they are also looking for opportunities to involve the Town.

One of the ideas he mentioned was to create a central area, which would involve the restoration of the sports fields on the site, which have been subjected to vandalism. He suggested they could be used as soccer fields. There has also been talk of an outdoor fitness and healthy area near the fields, with new trails and possibly an area for Yoga. Grey said there have been visions of parents taking classes there, etc., while their kids play soccer. There has also been thought given to a green fitness forest nearby.

As well, Grey mentioned the idea of a tree-top adventure area. He said there are facilities like that at other conservation areas, like Heart Lake, Bruce's Mill and Kortright. He added these could represent revenue-generating opportunities.

Grey said at times, those coming up with ideas for the camp property have found themselves wondering "What would Rick Mercer do?"

One of the results has been the idea of zorbing area, in which people get into a large ball and are rolled down a hill.

"There is not enough money in this world to get me to go zorbing," Councillor Patti Foley said.

Thought has also been given to finding uses for the dining hall. It has only ever been available for about half the year, but Grey said they are looking for ways to have it used all year.

"It's really important that we get some year-round use on the site," he told councillors.

He said there has also been thought given to creating an arts component on the property, possibly with facilities for theatre and drama, as well as an artist-in-residence program.

Grey stressed they want the uses on the property to reflect community needs, as well as involve local young people and businesses.

"This is a jewel," Mayor Marolyn Morrison observed. "I think it's really exciting that the TRCA has grabbed ahold of this."

"The whole area's going to benefit," she added.

Foley observed it's great that TRCA wants to get young people involved.

Grey told her they are hoping to have meetings with stakeholders sometime in the New Year. He added they are very interested in coming up with employment opportunities for youth in the hopes that they will take some ownership of the site and discourage vandalism.

Councillor Nick deBoer commented that some of the local high schools have programs aimed at healthy living, and the property to be useful in that regard.

There were a couple of councillors who weren't convinced that soccer was the best possible use for the sports fields. DeBoer was one of them, suggesting there is also need for open space and picnic areas. He said there are other areas with soccer fields, such as Edelweiss Park. TRCA, he suggested, has more of a track record when it comes to passive uses.

Grey stressed they want the uses to reflect the needs of the community, adding things can evolve there as the community evolves.

It was Councillor Allan Thompson who mentioned there are a lot of calls for rugby fields in town. He said there is a waiting list for young people wanting to play in Brampton, and some local kids have to travel to Fergus. He also said there's demand for field hockey, as well as possibly cricket.

Grey pointed out the process is just starting, and they are really seeking input.

"We're really at the early stage at this point," he commented.

"Congratulations to you for your creative vision here," Thompson added.

Councillor Richard Whitehead, who also sits on TRCA, called this "very exciting project," adding there have been efforts to come up with core funding for the work. Peel Region has come up with a contribution, he said.

Whitehead was also pleased there will be an advisory committee in place continuously. He said a core of interested people from

CVC hosting woodlot management workshop

Credit Valley Conservation (CVC) invites rural landowners to a free Woodlot Management Workshop Nov. 16.

It will run from 9 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. at CVC's Forestry Operations Centre, 15526 Heart Lake Rd., Caledon.

Whether one is thinking about creating woodland habitat or has questions about managing an already established woodlot, this workshop is for them. Participants will learn how easy and inexpensive it is to plant a forest. Landowners who take advantage of CVC's tree-planting services can pay as little as $150 to start their own forest. Attendees will also learn about forest management challenges and best practices.

"Planting a forest, combined with good management, can provide landowners with a variety of benefits, one of them being financial," CVC Director of Restoration and Stewardship Mike Puddister observed.

The workshop will also address the issue of invasive plant control in woodlots and the services CVC can provide to landowners to remove these invaders and restore woodlot health.

"One of the major challenges facing woodlot owners in the area is the influx of the devastating emerald ash borer pest," Puddister said. "It is important for woodlot owners to know what actions they can take if their property becomes affected."

The workshop will include a trip to a plantation marked for thinning. Participants will see a real example of forest plantation management they can apply to their own land.

Attendees are asked to dress for the weather. They will have an opportunity to win door prizes. Complimentary morning snacks and lunch will be provided.

The workshop is free, thanks to funding from CVC's regional and municipal partners. Participating landowners should own one acre or more of rural property and reside in the Credit River Watershed.

Space is limited. Those interested are asked to register online at www.creditvalleyca.ca/events or by phone at 1-800-668-5557, ext. 436.

Board investigates Mayfield VP dressing in black face

By Bill Rea

What was apparently part of a Halloween celebration has turned into an embarrassment for a vice-principal at Mayfield Secondary School.

Published reports indicate the vice-principal applied black make-up to his face to dress up as Mr. T. The moved created controversy in the school and for the Peel District School Board.

"I would like to apologize on behalf of the Peel District School Board and senior administration for the hurt caused by this incident," Director of Education Tony Pontes said in a statement issued by the board Tuesday. "Our board does not condone or tolerate actions of this type."

"Our school board has a long and unwavering commitment to equity and inclusion," he added. "However, this incident is a reminder to us that our good work around equity and inclusion is never done and that we must continue to educate ourselves, our staff and students around racism, discrimination and stereotyping."

"I think it's unfortunate," commented Trustee Stan Cameron. "I do wish the Vice-Principal had chosen another Halloween costume, other than the one he chose."

"It's a very engaging and creative arts school," he added, pointing out both students and staff really get into the spirit of occasions like Halloween.

As well, Pontes issued a letter yesterday (Wednesday) to the students, parents and staff of the school, again apologizing for any offence that might have been caused.

"The vice-principal deeply regrets his conduct and now has a clear understanding of the impact of his conduct," Pontes wrote. "This behaviour does not reflect the values of the Peel District School Board and appropriate measures have been taken as a result of the investigation, which is now concluded."

Personal histories will be explored at Lifetree Café

The lifelong impact of a tumultuous past will be discussed this coming Wednesday (Nov. 13) at Lifetree Café.

The program, entitled Getting Past . . . Your Past: And Making the Most of Your Future, will feature a filmed interview with author and actor Michael Fosberg, creator of the one-man show, Incognito.

At the age of 32, after growing up in a middle-class white family, Fosberg contacted his estranged birth father and discovered a fact that had been kept from him: Fosberg's father wasn't who he thought he was.

"Imagine discovering you're not the person you thought you were," he said.

The discovery prompted Fosberg to consider how the past shapes us and what might allow us to change directions.

The program will run from 7 to 8 p.m. and admission is free. Snacks and beverages will be available.

Town Crier hopes to add more events to his schedule

By Bill Rea

After two years on the job, the Town of Caledon is getting lots of mileage out of its Town Crier, although he believes there's more that can be done.

Andrew Welch delivered his annual report to Town council Tuesday, outlining some of the successes that have been experienced, as well as his hopes for the coming year.

The successes have included Welch winning recognition as the "Best Representative of Their Town and Community" at the International Town Criers Contest, which was held early in August in Kingston. He also took part in the Marshville Heritage Festival Town Crier Competition in Wainfleet Sept. 1. He won top prize there and was presented with what he said at the time was the world's largest Town Crier trophy.

"My number of appearances at community events and charity functions are fewer than last year, though not for want of trying to generate interest," he stated in his report to council.

On the other hand, he pointed to his successes in the competitions.

"I think there remain a number a number of untapped opportunities for Caledon to promote its tourism and heritage with proclamations at community events, at no cost to the Town," he added.

Welch said he's continuing to work as a goodwill ambassador for the Town, whenever the opportunity presents itself, with his wife Elswyth Fryer joining him, in period costume, at out-of-town events. He also sits on the Board of Directors of the Ontario Guild of Town Criers.

He's also been filling in for Orangeville's Town Crier, who has been dealing with illness.

The community appearances he has made (pro bono) in the last year included the Santa Claus parades in both Bolton and Caledon village, the Christmas Tree lighting in Alton, the Alton Millpond Hockey Tournament, the Alton Dry Stone Wall Festival, the Canada Day celebrations at the Caledon Fairgrounds, the opening of the Farmers' Market at Southfields Village, the Caledon Town-hall Players' 50th anniversary celebrations and the FarmStock dinner last month.

He was also at five civic appearances booked by the Town, including Winter-Fest in January, the Caledon Farmers' Market opening in Bolton, the Caledon Walk of Fame ceremonies, the opening ceremonies of Caledon Day and the two-year countdown for the 2015 Pan Am Games at Caledon Equestrian Park.

"It's a matter of getting out there and getting visible," he remarked.

Welsh said there have been a few complications over the year. One of them involved who he actually reports to. He added, however, he plans to meet with Town Clerk Carey deGorter, and he was hoping that would soon get straightened out.

"I think you do an excellent job," Councillor Gord McClure told Welch.

“We’re proud of you and you certainly bring a great deal of excitement to events,” Councillor Richard Paterak added.

Police looking for people who approached children

Officers of Caledon and Nottawasaga OPP are asking for help from the public as they investigate similar occurrences involving males approaching children.

Caledon OPP reports a man approached children Oct. 29 in the area of Mount Hope Road at about 3:50 p.m. He was driving a newer model Mercedes S600 with leather interior. Police said he told the youngsters he was looking for a German shepherd dog.

The man appeared to be in his late 40s, had a large salt-and-pepper beard and salt-and-pepper chin-length hair parted in the middle. He's approximately six feet tall.

The same day, at about 3:30 p.m., two children were approached in the area of Dillane and Keogh Streets in Tottenham by two people riding in a blue vehicle. The kids were again asked if they had seen a lost German shepherd.

In both cases, the children were unharmed and the vehicles left the area.

Police are asking parents to speak to their children about "stranger danger" and to report anything that appears suspicious. Children need to be reminded not to accept any candy, gifts or a ride from a stranger or from engaging in conversations with persons looking for directions or inquiring about a lost pet.

Police are asking anyone with information in relation to these incidents to contact them at 1-888-310-1122 or Crime Stoppers at 1-800-222-TIPS (8477).

They are also reminding everyone to be aware of their personal safety, and that of children, at all times. Children should not be left unattended anywhere, for any length of time, when out in public. The OPP website at www.opp.ca contains a number of useful resources, tips and links.

Caledon OPP had to deal with two fatal traffic incidents in Town last week.

The first one occurred last Thursday evening shortly before 7 p.m. on Regional Road 50.

Police report a Honda Fit was exiting a restaurant parking lot when it was struck by a northbound Acura MDX.

The driver of the Honda and her passenger were taken to a local hospital, then airlifted to a trauma centre.

Police report the driver, Agnes Potter, 80, of Caledon, died early Friday morning. Her female passenger was reported to be in critical condition.

The driver of the Acura received minor injuries.

The second fatality occurred early Friday morning on Airport Road, between King Street and Healey Road.

Police said they were called out shortly after 5 a.m. They report the driver of an Acura was travelling south on Airport Road when the vehicle entered the north-bound lane colliding with a gravel truck. The driver of the Acura, Jennifer Meo, 37, of Mississauga was pronounced dead at the scene.

Witnesses to either of these collisions are asked to contact police at 905-584-2241.

Police start new KIDS program in schools

Written By BILL REA

Last month saw the launch in Caledon of the OPP KIDS Program.

KIDS (Knowledge, Issues, Decisions and Supports) was launched at Caledon Central Public School. It's a nine-week program that Constable Christina Sanghera said addresses the issues young people have to face today, including the law, peer relationships, online and social media, and drug and mental health awareness.

"It's got all the relevant issues of today," she commented.

The program was developed by OPP as a tool for officers to talk to young people about the decisions they may need to make and what supports are available to them. The program is being offered province-wide, and last Monday's session was the first one in Caledon.

"I believe you guys have a purpose in life that is bigger and greater than what's apparent at face value," she told the Grade 7 students who were on hand for the session. "We don't want you guys to be involved with us on a bad side."

"We want to make sure that you guys understand that we as police officers, we're approachable," she added. "We actually want to make sure we're helping you guys."

With the use of videos, workbooks and interactive games, police are talking directly with kids about these issues.

"The OPP is committed to the delivery of public safety on many levels, and the OPP KIDS Program is one more example of how officers are working proactively in communities to make a difference," commented Caledon OPP commander Inspector Dom Beckett.

Two local Scouts reach the top of the Duke of Edinburgh's Awards

Prince Edward made the presentations to the contingent from this area who received their gold level Duke of Edinburgh's Awards.

The Duke of Edinburgh's Award program continues to be a going concern, and that was demonstrated Friday, as about 70 young people received the Gold certification.

The recipients included two members of if the 1st Bolton Scouts; Beatrice Imrie and Sean Strong.

The presentations were made by Prince Edward, Earl of Wessex and youngest son of the Queen and the Duke of Edinburgh, at a ceremony in Toronto.

A Palgrave resident, Imrie is a graduate of the 3D Animation program at Humber College. She has passed through the Bronze and Silver levels of the award program.

"The whole experience was really worthwhile," she commented after the ceremony. "A little trying at times, but that made it more worthwhile."

Strong, who lives in Nobleton, is in the culinary skills program at Humber, studying to be a chef.

He said his involvement in the award program "has helped me grow, both as an individual and as a member of society."

"The skills, hardships and friendships I have endured and developed will stay with me for the rest of my life," he added.

The two went through the program with other members of the Scouts. Strong said the experience was "totally worthwhile, in spite of the fact we wanted to kill each other at times."

Jennifer Reynolds, Ontario past-president of the program, observed this is the 50th anniversary of the program operating in Canada. Since then, some 500,000 young people have taken advantage of the program, and she observed it's still growing.

She also stressed the efforts of the participants are at the heart of the program.

Mark Standish, of RBC Capital Markets, which sponsored Friday's ceremonies, offered his congratulations to all receiving recognition. He said the time and effort it took them to complete each level of the program speaks to their persistence and commitment. Standish said he went through the program in his youth, and he observed that it helped develop his skill sets and confidence.

"I hold the award and its primary purpose close to my heart," he said.

"Today is truly a day to celebrate," commented Jim Kershaw, president of the award program in Canada, as he reflected on the number of people who have already gone through it, and observed there are about 40,000 currently in it. "We're very proud of the program in Canada."

Kershaw also reflected on all the work it took the recipients to reach the Gold level, calling it an "indication that you are a very special person."

As well, he observed that many start the program, but not all complete it.

"You are in a very elite group," he said. "You developed new, transferable skills that will stay with you for life."

"You set goals, you worked hard and you succeeded," Kershaw added. "In fact, you've already made a difference."

Prince Edward told the recipients that as they reflect back on what they have been through, "you feel it's been a worthwhile adventure."

"I'm sure there were time when you really wondered why you were doing it," he added. "It's a great feeling when you get to the end."

The Prince also expressed gratitude to the leaders, parents and friends of the recipients for the support they have offered during the program. He said these might be individual awards, but they can't be achieved without a lot of outside help.

"Keep up the excellent work," he said. "It's very, very much appreciated."

"When you leave this room, just walk a few inches taller," he told the recipients, pointing out a lot of people say they can do it. "The difference is you know you can."

Caledon Heritage Foundation to host AGM later this month

The annual general meeting of the Caledon Heritage Foundation will be Nov. 21 at the Old Caledon Township Hall (Theatre) in Caledon village.

The feature presentation will be entitled In the Footsteps of the Group of Seven by Sue and Jim Waddington. They have been on a quest to locate the places that inspired these seven famed painters, and they especially like to seek out sites that can only be reached by canoe or foot. In their talk, they will discuss how they have found some of these sites, and what they have learned about the artists in the process.

Since the artists did not keep detailed records of where they worked, each painting represents a puzzle to be solved.

Their book, In the Footsteps of the Group of Seven, (released in October) details their search for the sites that inspired the painters. It will be on sale at the meeting. All proceeds from the book sales will be donated to the fund for the new Franklin Carmichael Art Gallery in Sudbury.

The business meeting will start at 6:15 p.m. Light Refreshments will be served from 6:45 to 7:15, followed by the Waddingtons.

The theatre is at 18365 Hurontario St. For further information visit www.caledonheritagefoundation.com or call 519-927-5370.

Public Notice

Environmental Assessment Study

NOTICE OF PUBLIC INFORMATION CENTRE #2

MISSISSAUGA ROAD, OLD MAIN STREET, BUSH STREET, WINSTON CHURCHILL BOULEVARD
AND OLDE BASE LINE ROAD

The Project

The Region of Peel is undertaking a Schedule 'C' Municipal Class Environmental Assessment (EA) to develop a road design that addresses safety and pavement condition deficiencies on Mississauga Road, Old Main Street, Bush Street, Winston Churchill Boulevard and Olde Base Line Road. The approximate limits of the project area are illustrated on the map.

The EA will review and recommend solutions to address:

- road safety deficiencies
- sight lines that do not meet standards
- pavement condition deficiencies
- road drainage problems
- parking
- pedestrian and cycling needs

This EA will not be considering road widening or increasing the number of lanes and will provide a solution that meets the needs of all road users and maintains the rural character of the community.

The Process

The Class EA process includes:

- public and agency consultation
- an evaluation of road improvement alternatives
- an assessment of the possible environmental effects of the improvements
- the identification of reasonable means to mitigate any adverse impacts

Public Information Centre

Two Public Information Centres (PICs) have been planned for this study. The first PIC (May 9, 2013) sought feedback on the Draft Problem Statement, Preliminary Alternative Solutions and Preliminary Evaluation Criteria. The second PIC will consist of an Open House, where you can speak with different team members about your specific concerns. The PIC will provide an overview of what we have heard and the technical work completed to date. Please join us at this PIC to share your opinions on:

- Alternative design concepts developed by the study team
- Evaluation of alternative design concepts
- Preliminary recommended design concept

The Project Team members will be present to answer questions and discuss the next steps of the study. The second PIC is scheduled for:

Date: Wednesday, Nov. 20, 2013
Time: Open House 4:30 p.m. - 8:30 p.m.
Location: Caledon Country Club, 2121 Olde Base Line Road, Caledon

The Game’s Afoot provides lots of entertainment at Blackhorse

Written By ANNE RITCHIE

Mystery, humor and intrigue abound in Ken Ludwig’s The Game’s Afoot, a riotous play that opens season 43 at Blackhorse Village Players.

The year is 1937, the setting is Broadway at its theatrical peak and the actors, as well as the characters, offer a wealth of talent, imagination and class.

The play unfolds like a Russian nesting doll: a play within the play, with actors transferring the skills found within the characters’ roles.

Playing actor William Gillette, Rob Cook surefootedly enacts the detective skills of Sherlock Holmes, particularly when murder takes center stage and the entire cast falls in its shadow. A gunshot gone awry spurs Cook to action, and adopting his version of Holmes, he sets an ingenious scene, complete with secret room and faulty lighting, attempting to discover the wannabe murderer. An equally talented Vince Ursini enacts Holmes’ arch rival, Moriarty, as well as Felix, Willy’s best friend, a philandering yet devoted husband/lover. It is hilariously obvious that all is not as it seems.

It should come as no surprise that in such a setting, one of the wildest scenes of the play occurs, and columnist Daria (Cheryl Phillips) is just as intriguing whether she is dead or alive. Phillips has the entire cast by their throats, on edge with accusations and innuendo, all which send the audience into gales of laughter. However, the best is yet to come: the contortions of Willy and Felix as they try to stuff Daria in the closet and grapple with Daria in a secret room would be enough reason to send one flying to the Blackhorse box office for tickets.

The mild-mannered Simon (Jordan Baker) seems to know-it-all, but like those Russian dolls, there’s a surprising number of traits he masters within the play to endear himself to one and all. Is he truly comforting, or craftily hiding the key to a murder mystery? It could be either, thanks to Baker’s versatility in a complicated role.

The female cast members have their own quirks and crannies that merit applause. Is Martha, keeper of the secret room. (Catherine Burns) matron or murderess, Aggie (Victoria Tokarski) lucky in love or money hungry, and Madge (Dorothy Schmauder) all sizzle or all seer? Playing their roles to perfection, they have us guessing until the final scenes. Burns is a mother we would all love to have. Schmauder has a vibrant role, be she doting wife or theatrical star, and as Tokarski portrays a woman with inheritance and potential for more.

It’s up to the fervently dedicated detective Goring and wannabe actress (Barb Fairhead) to decide what’s what, and she unwittingly upsets each character, tripping into the spotlight of truth. Fair-head makes her debut in a role that has her spontaneously spouting Shakespeare and solving murders almost in the same breath, and her enthusiasm for both is contagious.

The performance is well-played, the applause well-deserved.

The Game’s Afoot, and it’s not to be missed. For tickets, phone 905-880-5002. The play runs until Nov. 16, and discover the likes of Sherlock Holmes in a murder mystery not to be missed.

Inglewood Schoolhouse Performers looking for performers and helpers

Looking for an opportunity to stand in the limelight?

The Inglewood Schoolhouse Performers are looking for talented people for its upcoming production of The Ghost of the Grange at the end of March. Men, as well as younger (teenagers and up) cast members are particularly needed.

Previous acting experience is not required. Energy and enthusiasm is more important, as is a willingness to commit to an intensive rehearsal and four-evening performance schedule.

The reward for the hard work is a fun learning experience, the challenges of choosing costumes, camaraderie with the other actors, plus a sense of achievement and the thrill of opening night, followed by the applause of the audience. And then, when the play is over, realizing how much you miss it and vowing to take part in next year’s production.

Founded in the early 1980s, the Inglewood Schoolhouse Performers has been entertaining and delighting audiences for three decades with its roster of comedies, pantomimes and the odd murder mystery.

To be presented March 28, 29, and then again April 4, and 5, The Ghost of the Grange is a comic whodunit, whose main characters have been dead for 100 years.

Also needed are volunteers for a number of back-stage duties, such as building and painting sets, taking admission and staffing a snack bar.

For more information, contact Kathie Maloney at 905-838-3351.

Whether it was a tribute, a rite of passage or a mistake, the Peel Art Gallery, Museum and Archives (PAMA) wants to hear about them. Tattoo enthusiasts in and around the Peel community can submit a photo of their tattoo or henna and share its story at pama.peelregion.ca/tattoos

Showcase your art, share your story and contribute to a community project. Submissions could be featured in PAMA’s new photography exhibition Inked: Tattoos and the Stories They Tell, exploring the individuality of tattoos and asking the question — why do we ink?

In addition to crowd sourced tattoos from the community, the exhibition will feature information on the history and culture of tattoos throughout the ages. Inked: Tattoos and the Stories They Tell runs at PAMA from Nov. 16 to March 30.

“The remarkable tattoos and stories that have been submitted so far are a testament to the diversity of the Peel community,” said Marty Brent, supervisor, museum and archive services at PAMA. “We can’t wait to explore these statements of self expression in Inked. I hope anybody who hasn’t had a chance to submit their tattoo yet takes the opportunity today.”

Operated by the Region of Peel, PAMA is at 9 Wellington St. E. in Brampton. Visit pama.peelregion.ca for more information.

Services of Remembrance held in Caledon East and Mono Mills

Remembrance services were held last Sunday in Caledon East and Mono Mills. This parade made its way along Old Church Road to the Cenotaph outside of Town hall in Caledon East.

Dufferin-Caledon MP David Tilson was among those laying wreaths at the service in Caledon East.

Councillors see ‘lots of potential’ in camp plans

the community will help move the public input forward.

He also pointed out TRCA took on the property because of numerous problems, such as the vandalism that had been going on. He added there’s been no forest management in more than 30 years.

Whitehead also agreed the playing fields need to be used for more than just soccer. They need to be multi-use, and that point has to be promoted to people interested in such activities as field hockey, football or even archery. “These fields are the fields for them,” he said is the message that must get out.

He added expanded uses will see more people on the site, and such multi-use fields are also easier to maintain.

Councillor Gord McClure agreed the plans are “pretty exciting,” but he also lamented the Bolton Camp property is not very convenient for people living on the west side of town.

“I’m a little bit envious,” he said. “We’re still the forgotten part of town.”

Morrison reminded him Terra Cotta Conservation Area and the Credit River are on the west side.

Councillor Richard Paterak expressed the hope there will be community access to the local trails, pointing out the more people who are using them, the more who can watch out for vandalism.

He too was confident that user groups could be found if rugby was available.

“I think there’s lots and lots of potential here,” he observed.

Foley also suggested engaging the local school boards on this, since there will be students looking to fulfil their require volunteer hours.

Councillor Allan Thompson laid this wreath on behalf of the Town of Caledon at the Cenotaph in Mono Mills.

Ryan Ahlborn, of the 1st Mono Mills Cubs, read the names that are inscribed on the Cenotaph in Mono Mills.

Lest we forget all those who have served and died

Remembrance Day is very special to my family and me.

As most of you know, we have two sons and a daughter-in-law serving our country in the Canadian Forces.

My grandfather was a Canadian Infantry soldier in the First World War, my step father was with the Royal Canadian Air Force in the Second World War and my husband's father was in the Canadian Army, Tank Recovery in the Second World War.

Our youngest son, who is away from his home and family right now for two months on training as a Crew Commander, wrote some thoughts down about Remembrance Day and I would like to share them with you.

"My name is Corporal Bradley Morrison. I'm a member of the Royal Canadian Dragoons out of Canadian Forces Base Petawawa. I was asked to speak about what Remembrance Day means to me. When I think of veterans, I think of all the

Our sons and daughter-in-law believe that they can make a difference in this world by helping others less fortunate. We have outstanding individuals in our Canadian Armed Forces serving Canada. John and I are immensely proud of our three boys and all they have accomplished. However, when Remembrance Day rolls around each year, I am reminded of our families' history of military service and commitment to this country.

From the first Great War to today's modern, international conflicts, each of us owes a debt of gratitude to those who have served and those who continue to serve and protect our Canadian way of life.

Take time to remember those who have served over the coming days

Since 1919, Canadians have gathered Nov. 11 in remembrance of those who have made the ultimate sacrifice in armed conflicts, fighting for our freedom.

Inscribed on cenotaphs, all across the country are the names of those who never came home from war. In the 95 years since the First World War, we have lost many of our loved ones who served during these wars and conflicts. It is vital that, as a community, we continue acts of remembrance, and to pay tribute to all veterans and current serving members of our military.

It was King George V who understood that the outcome of the First World War had significantly changed the lives of Britons and their allies (including 600,000 Canadians who enlisted) when he proclaimed that "the anniversary of the armistice (Nov. 11) marks the victory of right and freedom."

Today, Remembrance Day observances symbolize Canadians who are

From Queen's Park

Sylvia Jones

MP Dufferin-Caledon

called upon to protect our freedoms during times of war, unrest and conflict. During the Second World War, nearly 1.1 million Canadians put their lives on the line for our freedom. Soon thereafter, 26,000 served in the Korean conflict, and 30,000 Canadians enlisted in the U.S. military during the Vietnam War. More recently, our Canadian Forces have fought in the Gulf War, and have served with distinction in Afghanistan. Today, there are more than 1,300 Canadian Forces members serving in task forces and operations all over the world.

As time marches on and the memories of these significant world events become stories told by our grandparents and great-grandparents, it is important to remember the hard lessons learned in war — lest we forget. Local projects like the Dufferin County Museum and Archive's virtual war memorial now contains a list that has grown to more than 5,000 men and women who have called Dufferin County home and served Canada during times of both war and peace. Teachers, like Centre Dufferin District High School's Neil Orford, strive to bring history alive by partnering students with veterans and veterans' families to research stories that are captured in the virtual museum and bring further meaning to school trips that take students to tour European battlefields. I was pleased to recognize Neil's amazing contributions in the Legislature recently, upon his receiving the Ontario Lieutenant Governor's history award for excellence in teaching.

Many communities in Dufferin-Caledon hold Remembrance Day services and schools, churches and our long-term care residences will also participate in services on or during the week of Remembrance Day.

Our community services include two this Sunday (Nov. 10). There will be a service in Alton starting at 10:15 a.m. and in Bolton 12:45 p.m.

We will never forget those who sacrificed for Canada

Remembrance Day, Nov. 11, we stop to honour those who made immense sacrifices to protect peace and freedom around the world.

We also use this day and Veterans' Week (Nov. 5 to 11) as an opportunity to say "thank you" to those who've served Canada and are currently serving overseas. When we take the time to stop and honour these brave men and women, we're letting them know we appreciate their countless contributions and that we will never forget their sacrifices or service to our country.

Ottawa Journal

David Tilson

Here in Canada, our veterans' sacrifices and achievements have shaped the Canada we know today, as well as our international reputation as peacekeepers; something we can be incredibly proud of and reminds us of why the act of remembrance is essential. It is our duty to remember that more than 1.5 million Canadians served their country in the First and Second World Wars, as well as the Korean War, and that during these conflicts, more than 110,000 made the ultimate sacrifice for Canada. They gave up the lives they knew and left their families and homes to bring peace and security to those in need. Many would never see their families again and those who returned home would endure mental and physical scars for the rest of their lives.

This year marks the 60th anniversary of the July 27, 1953 signing of the Armistice that ended more than three years of fighting in the Korean War. Our government was proud to designate 2013 the Year of the Korean War Veteran. We, as Canadians, remember the heroes of the Korean War and their brave fight to uphold freedom, democracy and the rule of law. In summer 2013, our government participated in ceremonies across Canada marking the 60th anniversary of the Korean War Armistice and the first annual Korean War Veterans Day, a national day of recognition enshrined in law by the government. We also recently unveiled a new Canadian monument in the Republic of Korea dedicated to the Canadian Armed Forces personnel who fought during the war. We remember the more than 26,000 Canadians who served during that war and the 516 Canadians who made the ultimate sacrifice.

The year 2013 also marks another considerable anniversary — the 70th anniversary of the Italian Campaign during the Second World War. The contributions of Canadian soldiers helped to liberate Italy and bring an end to the War. More than 93,000 Canadian soldiers participated in this very challenging and significant campaign, which resulted in 26,000 casualties with nearly 6,000 of those casualties being fatal.

These anniversaries remind us of the unconditional willingness of young Canadians to defend our Canadian values of democracy, freedom and rule of law at considerable personal cost to themselves. We live in the best country in the world because of their efforts and sacrifices to protect our values. They are why we enjoy peace today and why Canada is held in such high regard around the world.

Today, our country's finest continue to defend these values by bringing peace and security to conflict ridden areas of the world. We must honour the contributions and sacrifices of those who served and serve today by always staying true to our values, never ceasing our gratitude, and never forgetting their service to Canada.

Remembrance Day and during Veterans' Week, I invite you to join me in expressing our shared gratitude to these brave men and women to honour their legacy. By taking an active role in remembering their sacrifices, we're saying thank you and ensuring their memory will live on for generations to come.

Up to voters to decide his fate

FOR THOSE WHO THINK that Toronto isn't a significant player in the scheme of things, you should know that on Tuesday afternoon Fox News broke into their regular program to bring viewers a live telecast of Toronto Mayor Rob Ford's abject apology.

Indeed, Ford's well-known, ongoing shenanigans have made the news around the globe lately, a reality which, obviously, isn't exactly enhancing Toronto's image abroad.

As you likely know by now, Ford, after months of obfuscation and outright denials, finally admitted that, yes, he did smoke crack cocaine. He says he did it once about a year ago in "a drunken stupor."

Still, despite even shrill calls from his political enemies — and some of his friends as well — for him to resign, he said that despite embarrassing himself, his family (whom he didn't tell about his crack experience) and the citizens of Toronto, Ford has pledged to stay on and do what he actually is rather good at, i.e. saving taxpayers' dollars.

Rather than be ridden out of town on a rail, Ford says he'll leave it to the voters to decide his fate next October when he says he'll run for re-election.

As a Toronto resident — and Ford voter in the last election — I'm okay with that.

Ford is correct when he says that nobody is to blame for his terrible predicament but himself. Clearly he has some substance abuse issues which he'd be wise to deal with. He says it won't happen again and maybe it won't. But he'd still be wise — both politically and personally — to sign himself up for rehab of some kind and really get a handle on his problems.

That having been said, however, Ford has been subjected to one of the most prolonged and vicious attack-dog campaigns from the media ever since he upset the Toronto elite by cruising to his easy election victory.

The elites never liked him when he was a councilor and have grown to hate him as mayor. Almost from the inception of his term, various groups and individuals have taken him to court and otherwise harassed him in hopes of getting him out of City Hall.

But Ford, obviously, is a stubborn guy.

Why he wants to put up with this ongoing crap is beyond me, but there you have it.

One of the ironies to me about this whole sorry affair is that the lefties — who are absolutely apoplectic that Ford actually got himself elected mayor — are the ones who generally claim to be more supportive of persons with personal problems.

You hear this all the time. Those nasty old right-wingers, don't you know, have no compassion for people with personal issues. But the lefties, ah yes, we're brimming over with compassion.

Well, they haven't shown it to Ford, that's for sure. Mind you, as he says himself, a large part of that — indeed, the bulk of it — is his own fault, what they refer to in tennis as self-enforced errors.

He's chosen to hang around with some sketchy characters; he's been drunk in public places; he's done all sorts of things one doesn't expect from the chief magistrate of a city, let alone one of the most important cities in North America.

As is so often the case with these political issues, had Ford come clean months ago when news of the controversial video first came out, he would have saved himself — and the city, and his family — considerable pain and embarrassment.

But he didn't. He says he was too "embarrassed" and "ashamed" to admit what he had done, adding now that he has admitted it, a huge load has come off his shoulders.

None of this will calm the baying from the opposition wolves who want him out of there — most of whom just simply could never accept that he got there in the first place — but, having watched Ford's news conference Tuesday, I don't think they're going to get their wish. He'll hang in regardless.

Ford no doubt hopes that in the meantime, if he truly cleans up his act and continues with his program successes — something that for obvious reasons has been completely overshadowed by his personal missteps — the electorate will be able to forgive him his trespasses, as it were.

Maybe. Maybe not. But I do agree that's it up to the voters, not a lynch mob, to decide his fate.

CVC hosting free woodlot management workshop

Credit Valley Conservation (CVC) invites rural landowners to a free Woodlot Management Workshop Nov. 16.

It will run from 9 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. at CVC's Forestry Operations Centre, 15526 Heart Lake Rd., Caledon.

Whether one is thinking about creating woodland habitat or has questions about managing an already established woodlot, this workshop is for them. Participants will learn how easy and inexpensive it is to plant a forest. Landowners who take advantage of CVC's tree-planting services can pay as little as $150 to start their own forest. Attendees will also learn about forest management challenges and best practices.

"Planting a forest, combined with good management, can provide landowners with a variety of benefits, one of them being financial," CVC Director of Restoration and Stewardship Mike Puddister observed.

The workshop will also address the issue of invasive plant control in woodlots and the services CVC can provide to landowners to remove these invaders and restore woodlot health.

"One of the major challenges facing woodlot owners in the area is the influx of the devastating emerald ash borer pest," Puddister said. "It is important for woodlot owners to know what actions they can take if their property becomes affected."

The workshop will include a trip to a plantation marked for thinning. Participants will see a real example of forest plantation management they can apply to their own land.

Attendees are asked to dress for the weather. They will have an opportunity to win door prizes. Complimentary morning snacks and lunch will be provided.

The workshop is free, thanks to funding from CVC's regional and municipal partners. Participating landowners should own one acre or more of rural property and reside in the Credit River Watershed.

Space is limited. Those interested are asked to register online at www.creditvalley.ca/events or by phone at 1-800-668-5557, ext. 436.

Peel paramedics urge residents to learn hands-only CPR

The push is on to increase Peel's bystander Cardiopulmonary resuscitation (CPR) rate, which has been hovering around the 31 per cent mark for the last few years.

As part of CPR month in November, Peel paramedics want residents to learn hands-only CPR and start doing it right away if someone around them has a cardiac arrest — a stopping of the heart.

"When it comes to improving cardiac arrest survival in Peel we know we need bystanders to step in and perform CPR, even hands-only CPR," commented Dr. Sheldon Cheskes, medical director of Sunnybrook Centre for Prehospital Medicine. "Good chest compressions and using an Automated External Defibrillator significantly increases someone's chances of survival."

Apart from learning the technique, there may be other factors stopping people from acting when the time is right. Research has shown that people are afraid to act for fear of being sued and/or hurting the person getting the CPR.

"Doing hands-only CPR can only help someone whose heart has actually stopped beating," Chief of Peel Regional Paramedic Services Peter Dundas observed. "And, permanent brain damage can happen within minutes when blood isn't flowing to the heart and brain, so it's important to act fast while you wait for paramedics to arrive."

Throughout November, Peel paramedics will be supporting hands-only CPR training at Cardinal Leger Catholic Secondary School in Brampton, where the Grade 12 health class will train all Grade 9s who will then be challenged to go home, teach family and tweet the results; and at the Heart and Stroke Foundation's CPR Skills and Automated External Defibrillator Awareness for South Asian Families Nov. 23 from 2 to 4 p.m. at Gateway Centre, 3450 Wolfedale Rd.

LHIN working to keep seniors independent in their homes

The Central West Local Health Integration Network (LHIN) is investing $332,629 to increase access to assisted living programs for seniors.

The funding will be allocated to Caledon Community Services (CCS) to provide services to frail seniors living in the community.

"Continuing to invest in seniors who live in our communities is a big priority for the Central West LHIN," LHIN Board Chair Maria Britto. "Assisted Living is a cost-effective way to enable seniors to live independently, and helps keep them out of the hospital. This program falls directly in line with two of our strategic directions which are improving access to health-care services and ensuring better value for money."

Assisted Living enables frail seniors and people with special needs to live at home with a little support, such as personal care, home-making, meal preparation, medication reminders, shopping and emergency response. Personal support workers visit clients and provide services, based on their needs.

"Our partnership with the Central West LHIN continues to reap tremendous rewards for the Caledon community," observed CCS CEO Monty Laskin. "Planning and delivering excellent community-based healthcare for seniors is in everyone's interests."

"Our government makes it a priority to provide the care our seniors need to stay in their homes," said Brampton-Springdale MPP Linda Jeffrey. "Increased access to these types of services allows our seniors the choice of living in their own homes as long as possible and supports their families and our communities."

The Central West LHIN plans, funds and integrates health care services in Caledon, Brampton, Dufferin County, Rexdale, Malton and Woodbridge.

MISSISSAUGA ROAD, OLD MAIN STREET, BUSH STREET, WINSTON CHURCHILL BOULEVARD AND OLDE BASE LINE ROAD

The Project
The Region of Peel is undertaking a Schedule 'C' Municipal Class Environmental Assessment (EA) to develop a road design that addresses safety and pavement condition deficiencies on Mississauga Road, Old Main Street, Bush Street, Winston Churchill Boulevard and Olde Base Line Road. The approximate limits of the project area are illustrated on the map.

The EA will review and recommend solutions to address:

- road safety deficiencies
- sight lines that do not meet standards
- pavement condition deficiencies
- road drainage problems
- parking
- pedestrian and cycling needs

This EA will not be considering road widening or increasing the number of lanes and will provide a solution that meets the needs of all road users and maintains the rural character of the community.

The Process
The Class EA process includes:

- public and agency consultation
- an evaluation of road improvement alternatives
- an assessment of the possible environmental effects of the improvements
- the identification of reasonable means to mitigate any adverse impacts

Public Information Centre
Two Public Information Centres (PICs) have been planned for this study. The first PIC (May 9, 2013) sought feedback on the Draft Problem Statement, Preliminary Alternative Solutions and Preliminary Evaluation Criteria. The second PIC will consist of an Open House, where you can speak with different team members about your specific concerns. The PIC will provide an overview of what we have heard and the technical work completed to date. Please join us at this PIC to share your opinions on:

- Alternative design concepts developed by the study team
- Evaluation of alternative design concepts
- Preliminary recommended design concept

The Project Team members will be present to answer questions and discuss the next steps of the study. The second PIC is scheduled for:

Date: Wednesday, Nov. 20, 2013
Time: Open House 4:30 p.m. - 8:30 p.m.
Location: Caledon Country Club, 2121 Olde Base Line Road, Caledon

Wolfpack make history with undefeated season

By Brian Lockhart

The Robert F. Hall Wolfpack football team have something else to add to their scrapbooks when they graduate.

In addition to a diploma, this team can claim to be the first Wolfpack football team to end the regular season undefeated.

The squad played their seventh game last Wednesday (Oct. 30) and left with a 34-6 win over the Castlebrooke Secondary School Dragons.

The Wolfpack have been a dominant force in high school ball this season, but it's not over yet. The playoffs are coming and the team will now get ready to challenge for the championship.

In last Wednesday's game, the team had little difficulty taking an early lead on touchdowns from Curtis Fillier and Aaron Coward. Two safeties added to the total.

Going into the second half, the Wolfpack widened the gap with a TD from Dalton Lisso.

With the final minute ticking down, the Dragons went for the throwing game in an attempt to gain some yards. Defensive back Josh Van Amelsvoort snagged and interception and returned for a TD to top up the Wolfpack total.

The Castlebrooke squad managed a touchdown late in the game to avoid a shut-out and the game ended 34-6.

"It's an amazing feeling," said Wolfpack quarterback Sean Coomey. "I've played football for three years and this is my first undefeated season."

"We wanted to make sure all the second strings got in for this game," he added. "We are taking a positive attitude to make sure everybody got in, but also keep it serious — don't slack off to much — but also have a lot of fun."

The squad can't rest on their laurels — far from it. The playoffs are soon to start and those other teams will be working just as hard to stay alive.

"Friday we practise, then we have very serious practices, rain or shine," Coomey said. "We want to go undefeated, obviously that's every team's intention, but especially us. I think a lot of the Grade 12 and 13s really want this. They deserve it. They've been working really hard."

With a playoff berth already assured, head coach Jason Sweeney said they made a few decisions to keep some key players out of a game that would not impact on the rest of the season.

"We had some injuries and we rested some guys just to make sure no one got hurt," he said. "It was a 'nothing' game. Either way we had first place locked up."

The decision to avoid risking any top players in the final game means the squad will have a healthy first string going into the playoff round.

The previous week saw the Wolfpack continue to be a dominant force after a 47-12 win over the Bramalea Broncos.

The Wolfpack dominated the play from the beginning, sending a green tide across the gridiron that resulted in six touchdowns, two field goals, and five successful converts for the Hall squad.

A Castlebrooke Dragons player is dropped for a loss of yards by two Wolfpack defenders during last Wednesday's final regular season game at Robert F. Hall Catholic Secondary School. The Wolfpack ended the regular season undefeated and will now go into the playoffs as the first place team.

Showing the depth of the offensive squad, all the TDs were scored by different players. Wolfpack touchdowns came from quarterback Jake Smith, running back Andre Gordon, linebackers and Jake Sutherland (running for TDs after pass interceptions), tight end Connor Reiners and wide receiver Sheldon Wright.

Place kicker Gabriel Siemieniec managed 11 points, placing five converts between the uprights and kicking two field goals, including a 40-yard effort in the fourth quarter that hit the bullseye and dropped the ball dead centre through the posts.

“Our offence really stepped up today,” Siemieniec commented. “Our defence kept them (Broncos) out until late in the second half.”

The Wolfpack has the benefit of several players who gained experience playing summer league football and brought that background to the RFH squad.

“We’ve got a lot of guys from Orangeville and one or two from New Tecumseth football,” Siemieniec said. “That really helps because we’re already trained, we don’t just go out there and don’t know what we’re doing.”

The Wolfpack have one more regular season game on the schedule, but win or lose they have already assured themselves a spot in the playoffs.

The final regular season game, Siemieniec said, will give the team the opportunity to give some of the young players a chance to hone their skills.

“We’re probably going to work on the second string and try to build the team up,” he observed. “Most of the guys on our team are Grade 12s, and we’ve got to count on the younger guys as well.”

Siemieniec said his ability as a kicker — he rarely misses — comes from a soccer background and personal training.

“I learned from playing soccer and my dad taught me most of it,” he said. “I went to a couple of camps.”

Sweeney didn’t make any predictions regarding the squad’s chance at winning the championship. He’s maintaining a quiet confidence in his team and the players’ abilities.

The first game of the playoffs is scheduled for today (Thursday) against Woodlands from Mississauga, on the Robert F. Hall field at 2:30 p.m.

Caledon Hockey holding massive food drive

The Hawks4Hunger Program does work.

This homegrown initiative of the Caledon Hawks Rep Hockey Association is very simple. Minor hockey teams raise food and funds to help support the local area food bank.

A surprise to most, but Caledon does need a well-stocked food distribution centre, despite the relative affluence of the community. The current building of the Exchange in Caledon will result in a facility where food insecurity will be integrated into a broader curriculum of nutrition and wellness promotion.

For the 2013-14 season, the Caledon Hawks are partnering with the Mississauga Steelheads and Caledon Community Services (CCS).

In November 2012, the inaugural year of collection and promotion, the Hawks collected more than 42,000 pounds of food. This was an outstanding contribution which enabled the summer distribution of food in Caledon well into August. The Hawks made a huge impact in support of the food bank and provisioning to over 250 families in need. This weekend (Nov 9 and 10), the goal is to surpass last year's 42,000 pounds of food.

All Caledon Hawks Rep teams have been challenged to collect even more food and/or cash donations for the newly designed Exchange in 2103. The Hawks and Steelheads recognize these tremendous efforts and have been very supportive. The Steelhead organization has partnered with the Hawks to recognize the children and community Caledon Day, which will be Feb. 21, 2014 at 7:30 p.m. (go to www.mississaugasteelheads.com for more information).

The Hawks4Hunger program has naturally helped build community awareness about the often-hidden issue of poverty in Caledon by linking it to the well-recognized love of hockey. The Caledon Rep Hockey families are a close-knit group and proud to address the challenge of poverty reduction with a homegrown solution. They have exhibited that they can create change by involving young people, and they will continue to provide players an opportunity to demonstrate leadership off the ice, along with the meaningful experience of community service and volunteerism.

The community is asked to join the event at the Albion-Bolton arena this Saturday and Sunday. Items in high demand are canned chicken/ham/turkey and fish, canned fruits and vegetables, sauces for pasta, cereal, oatmeal, peanut butter and jams, juice boxes, coffee and tea, toiletries, shampoo, conditioner, dental floss, saran, ziploc bags, aluminum foil and bathroom tissue. Cash is always appreciated as are grocery gift cards — any contributions (with receipts) of more than $20 will be allocated a tax slip.

The Hawks would like to send a sincere thank you to their partners: CCS, CRHA, Cavalier Transportation, Garden Foods, George's Arena Sports, The Mississauga Steelheads, SignOne, Sunday/Wednesday Night Men's League, United Rentals, We Are Creative, Zehrs Markets.

Two Bulldog reps to join Team Canada

The Ontario Ball Hockey Federation and the Canadian Ball Hockey Federation have announced two appointments from the Caledon Bulldogs to Team Canada National Ball Hockey for Worlds in 2014 in Bratislava, Slovakia.

Dave Eccleston of Bolton will head the U-18 Team Canada as General Manager.

"Dave has an extensive hockey background and works professionally in everything he does," Canadian Ball Hockey Association High Performance Director Gary Slavin said. "Dave has exactly what we've been looking for in this role and he will be a great addition to the Junior Team Canada Management Team."

"Heading to Worlds, there is a lot of pressure with Canada bringing home three golds in the last worlds in 2012 in Austria," he added. "Dave has the leadership needed to help our team repeat and we look forward to working with him."

Also appointed on the player side was J.P. Lattavo of Bolton.

Lattavo recently was captain of Team Ontario at Nationals and helped lead the Caledon Bulldogs and Team Ontario to their first win against an established program of Saskatchewan. He will help spearhead a repeat of the U-16 Team Canada Team heading to the same tournament in June 2014 in Bratislava.

Both Caledon residents will head over to Europe for two weeks, with likely stops in Germany and Czech Republic before finally competing in Slovakia at Worlds. All three Team Canada Ball Hockey teams, U-16, U-18, U-20, will travel from all across Canada, connecting in Germany and Czech Republic for a Training Camp then finally moving onto Slovakia.

Ball Hockey recently took centre stage at the Men's Team Canada Olympic Ice Hockey Orientation Camp in Calgary, where NHL players could not lace up their skates due to insurance problems. So Coach Babcock decided that ball hockey workouts was exactly what the team needed and it was thoroughly enjoyed by all.

Ball Hockey is played locally through BluePrint Hockey's new Youth House League and Rep Programs at Caledon East arena during from May to July. The league is available to both boys and girls, aged five to 20, and is a fun way to enjoy the sport of ball hockey in a safe environment.

BluePrint Hockey is a part of the Ontario Ball Hockey Association which is the only sanctioned league of Hockey Canada. This year's U-15, U-17, U19 Bulldogs rep program will travel to Winnipeg next summer to compete in Nationals as Team Ontario.

THE OUTDOORS AT THE COUNTRY DAY SCHOOL

Imagine running through rolling hills and wetlands, locating fossils, butterflies and hummingbirds. Reading poetry under an oak tree. Launching a rocket into the big blue sky. Now imagine teachers aren't ringing the bell to get you to come back in, they are out there with you, doing all the same things. It simply gives our students a massive playing field to seek out their own magical answers to the question,
