Cruisers were also crammed at Alloa Public School, according to Principal Tammy King.

"We are doing lots of different things," she added, commenting that also included collecting food, toys, hats and mittens for Peel Outreach.

Students and staff at Alton Public School were able to come up with more than 500 pounds of food items to cram into cruisers, "which is pretty cool," according to Principal Laurie Johnson.

She added Grade 1 and 2 students made cookies for residents at the nearby Pinnacle View Residence, "One tin for every person who lives in the building."

Belfountain Public School also had about 500 pounds of goods to fill three cruisers, Office Manager Brenda Smitt reported.

Herb Campbell Public School collected enough items to fill four cruisers.

"That is just amazing," Vice-Principal Johanne Cornover-White declared.

She added the school had a Candy Cane Tree, with students picking a cane and learning details of a child for them to buy a present for.

As well, Herb Campbell "adopted" for Share the Joy two families in need. Cornover-White reported each class wanting to participate was given one family member with their age/size and wish list.

Much to ponder from 2015

A new year is a time for many things, including reflection. That means thinking back on what has gone on in the last year, both in our personal lives and beyond.

Some of the events that happened in the last year were troubling, if not frightening. Some of us could be justified in wondering if terrorists will hit closer to home in 2016.

But it wasn't all bad.

The local major league baseball heroes came alive in the later stages of the campaign, and so did a country full of fans. True, the result wasn't what we were hoping for, but what a ride it was!

There were ups and downs in Caledon too.

Municipal politicians to the south tried to pressure Caledon representatives into doing things their way, while many of us pondered why they suddenly became so interested in what goes on in Bolton. The local councillors at the Region kicked up a fuss. It's clear the matter is going to be raised again in the coming year, and we would expect soon.

On the positive side, those of us who were there will have a very hard time ever forgetting the thrill of the Pan American Games in July. It's one thing to watch such spectacles on TV — probably all of us have done that. But to see it close up, and to have been in the stands in Palgrave the day O Canada was played in honour of our equestrian Show Jumping team was a very special moment indeed.

There were other moments, perhaps not as special, but certainly memorable in our town, such as . . .

have a say in changing the very basis of our electoral system.

Instead, he's prepared to use his parliamentary majority — garnered with just 40 per cent of the overall vote — to ram through another system, one of several being proposed by the few people who have actually been lobbying for change.

Now wouldn't you think that if somebody really believes that the system which elected him wasn't really legitimate he would not take advantage of that system to impose a major change in how Canadians elect their representatives?

It is true, as Trudeau apologists point out, that he announced during the campaign that he intended to change the current system. Therefore, the argument goes, he is simply fulfilling a campaign pledge and should be applauded, not criticized, for it.

Trudeauite knows what a specious argument that is. Electoral reform was hardly a major issue — or even an issue at all — during the campaign. It was one of at least 200 promises made by Trudeau and certainly not the reason he won — that he owes it to the public to ask them what was because people were tired of Stephen they want. Anything less would be an see the village bombed; with yarn, that Harper and wanted a change. Period. Full abuse of his position.

Ask yourself this. When was the last time you've been anywhere and heard people complaining about our current system? Is it really that pressing that Trudeau is determined to proceed without the courtesy — not to mention the democratic action — of asking the public toral system — the one that has brought if in fact they want the change and, if they us stable government since 1967 — is not do, which option among many they would

"The best job in the world" by Nicole Dumanski

I recently had the opportunity to read The Berenstain Bears Meet Santa Bear to a small audience.

Call me silly, but a quote from Brother Bear struck me as very inspirational. He said, "Santa has the best job in town; he gets to give presents to every single person."

We have all heard the time honored phrase, "Giving is better than receiving," but Brother Bear's comment really hit me.

Working in Caledon Community Service's Fundraising Division, I have the privilege to work closely with many Santas every day. Those Santas are you. Caledon has many givers, all with a Santa heart. I'm referring to people who want to make everyone's Christmas, Kwanza, Eid, and Hanukkah brighter.

These are Caledon Santas who care deeply about their neighbors and are passionately committed to securing a joyous and peaceful holiday for all.

Caledon is a community full of Santas and they come together at this festive time. They are our next-door neighbours, our local business owners and the woman who drives our child to school on the bus.

December may be stressful, but despite the holiday stress of shopping and preparing, I see community harmony at its best. The spirit of giving and the big heart in a small community is alive and well in Caledon.

Brother Bear spoke some very wise words in suggesting that Santa has the best job in town. But seeing a community come together every day, so eager to help, to give and to make everyone's holidays merry and to know that there are hundreds of our Caledon residents wanting to do what Santa does. Dare I say it but seriously, I have the best job in Caledon!

To donate to the Santa Fund and be one of the many Caledon Santas this year, please call Caledon's elves at 905.584.2300 ext. 236, or email ndumanski@ccs4u.org or make an on-line donation at www.ccs4u.org

There are more than 200 families with more than 330 children right here in Caledon that need your support.

Thank you, Caledon Santas!

DERMOTT, Ruth Alice Little (nee Hodgson)

On Thursday, February 3, 1921, Thomas Wharton Hodgson and Alice Mabel Little welcomed their fourth daughter, Ruth Alice Little Hodgson into the world. On Monday, January 4, 2016, hersons and loving family were withher as she departed peacefully at Headwaters Health Care Centre, Orangeville.

Ruth was the granddaughter of George Hodgson and Maria Edington, and William James Little and Hannah Twible. Growing up on a Century farm in Amaranth, she knew what work meant, helping with the chores

on the farm with her four sisters and one brother.

Later, Ruth worked as a bookkeeper for a garage and would sometimes drive taxi for them and continued to do bookkeeping after her marriage in addition to being mother to four boys. Ruth and Frank raised their family on their farm in Mono Township. She was the sole subject of a book entitled "A Dufferin Girl" in honour of her

Ruth is predeceased by her husband Frank Albert Wootten Dermott (1979). She is survived by her four sons and their partners - Paul and

Jacqueline, Alan and Joanne, Philip and

Richard, and Michael and Anne. She is also survived by her seven grandchildren – Vince Dermott (Bonnie), Steve Dermott (Hazel), Lori Dermott, Tanya Dermott-Bradley (Larry), Jennifer Dermott (Dean Guillemette), Scott Dermott, Caitlin Dermott, and nine great-grandchildren -Amber Dermott, Kendralea, and Travis Dermott, Haydyn and Kaya Parker, Hannah and Nolan

She is also survived by her brother Arthur Hodgson (Audrey) and sister Betty Duncan (the late Fred (2011)). Predeceased by sisters Meta Hodgson (1987), Sadie Golden (1990) (the late Jim Golden) and Della Trimble (2011) (the late

Ruth will be affectionately remembered by her family and many (grand)nieces and (grand) nephews and friends in addition to her fellow associates at Camilla High Country United Church (formerly St. Andrew's United Church)

A special thank you to the Dufferin County Paramedics, the doctors and nurses at

Headwaters Health Care Centre and Southlake

Hospital, CCAC, Red Cross, care providers and PSWs who have provided assistance to her over the past ten years. A special thank you to Carol.

Visitation will be held at the Dods & McNair

Funeral Home. Chapel & Reception Centre, 21 First Street, Orangeville on Wednesday, January 6, 2016 from 2-4 & 7-9 p.m. Funeral Service will be held in the Chapel on Thursday, January 7, 2016 (±2,2)

, 2016 at 2:30 p.m. Donations to Camilla High

Country United Church or the Heart and Stroke Foundation would be appreciated.

A tree will be planted in memory of Ruth in the Dods & McNair Memorial Forest at the Island Lake Conservation Area, Orangeville. A dedication service will be held on Sunday, September 11, 2016 at 2:30 p.m.

NORRIS, Ruby Alberta

Peacefully, with her daughter Lynn at her side, at King Nursing Home, Bolton on Saturday, December 26, 2015, Ruby Alberta Westlake, in her 96th year, beloved wife of the late James Albert Norris. Loving mother of Lynn Norris and fondly remembered by Ziggy Felske. Dear sister of the late Bessie, Bert, and Frank Westlake. Remembered by first, second and third generation of nieces and nephews. Ruby was born on the family farm, Plum Valley Farm, in 1920 and was married in 1945 one room to the east of the room she was born in. The farm was located on the 5th Line, Albion Township and it was a typical mixed farm with Shorthorn cattle and turned into a Master Breeder Award for the Holstein cattle. Ruby attended the original Macville Public School and then continued at Bolton Continuation School.

After high school, she lived with her Aunt Sadie and Uncle Will in Bolton in the 1940s. During the war she worked in Malton as a riveter. Ruby described James as "A young man I always knew" and they were married in May 1945. After they were married, she moved three miles south of her family farm to the Norris farm. Ruby loved to sing and was honoured to sing at her brother Frank's, and cousin Eleanor's weddings. She enjoyed singing in the choir at Bolton United Church. She spent 500 hours of volunteer time at Peel Manor, Brampton. Ruby enjoyed her weekly euchure games at Bolton Seniors Centre and drove her friends to card games in Hockley. For many years Ruby bowled on a league in Bolton and baked great Christmas cookies. Ruby was a great-great-aunt. Most of all, her pride and joy was her home.

The family received their friends at the Egan Funeral Home, 203 Queen Street S. (Hwy. 50), Bolton (905-857-2213) Monday, January 4 from twelve noon until time of funeral service in the chapel at one o'clock. Interment Laurel Hill Cemetery, Bolton. If desired, memorial donations may be made to the charity of your choice. Condolences for the family may be offered at www.EganFuneralHome.com

WE DON'T BREW OUR BEER FOR THE AWARDS!

BUT HE DOES!

Andrew threw away a successful career in Logistics to pursue his dream of reconnecting with the brewing roots of his family. This carried him to the UK's prestigious Brewlab in Sunderland, England, where he procured the alchemy that would drive his signature brewing style.

He took what he could from there and ventured to Scotland, Cornwall, and ultimately to Krefeld, Germany to pick up near where his mother's family brewery had been, working in the same brewery that had belonged to his ancestors. He came home to Canada for Hockley.

You could call it dumb, but we call it destiny.
