He also said he and Fire Chief David Forfar toured the Brampton facility, and he was impressed with what he saw.

"It's a good thing," he said. "It's clean energy.'

He also said Environment and Climate Change Minister Glen Murray has said hydrogen-powered vehicles are the way of the future.

The important thing, Thompson agreed, is to educate people. There are many who "That's all I'm asking." hear the word "hydrogen" and think of the hydrogen bomb.

> "Educate us," Groves urged. "Canadian Tire needs to come out and talk to us."

> "Make us feel comfortable," she added.

Thompson couldn't say if opponents to the idea will be satisfied by the virtual tour.

He became mayor in 1976 and served several terms, declining to seek re-election in 1985. He made an unsuccessful attempt to return as mayor in 1988.

The staff report to council stated that Clarkson was responsible for getting many of the rural roads in town paved, as well as developing a Caledon-wide recreation vision.

Beware of Home Inspection Pitfalls Before You Put Your Dufferin-Peel Home Up for Sale

DUFFERIN-PEEL - According to industry experts, there are over 33 physical problems that will come under scrutiny during a home inspection when your home is for sale. A new report has been prepared which identifies the eleven most common of these problems, and what you should know about them before you list your home for sale.

Whether you own an old home or a brand new one, there are a number of things that can fall short of requirements during a home inspection. If not identified and dealt with, any of these 11 items could cost you dearly in terms of repair. That's why it's critical that you read this report before you list your home. If you wait until the building inspector flags these issues for you, you will almost certainly experience costly delays in the close of your home sale or, worse, turn prospective buyers away altogether.

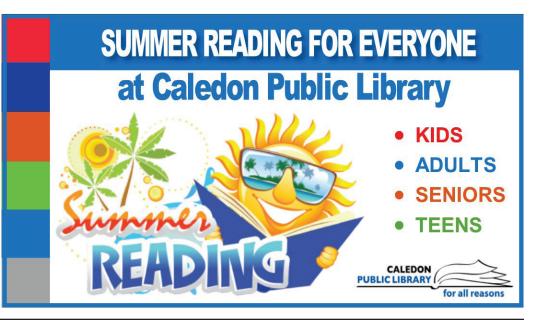

In most cases, you can make a reasonable pre-inspection yourself if you know what you're looking for, and knowing what you're looking for can help you prevent little problems from growing into costly and unmanageable ones.

To help homesellers deal with this issue before their homes are listed, a free report entitled "11 Things You Need to Know to Pass Your Home Inspection" has been compiled which explains the issues involved.

To hear a brief recorded message about how to order your FREE copy of this report call toll-free 1- 855-217-7810 and enter ID# 209. You can call any time, 24 hours a day, 7 days a week.

Driver clocked at 114 over limit

Caledon OPP reports catching a driver going well over the posted speed limit June 4.

Police stated an officer was conducting radar enforcement on Creditview Road, north of Old School Road when he spotted a black 2013 Mercedes-Benz travelling at high speed. The officer determined the speed to be 194 km-h in a posted 80 zone, or 114 over the limit.

A 38-year-old man from Caledon was charged with racing a motor vehicle. His licence was suspended for seven days on the spot, and the car was impounded for seven days.

Police say driving 50 or more km-h over the posted speed limit is one of the most serious and reckless forms of aggressive driving. They support street racing/stunt driving legislation and other legislation aimed at saving lives and taking drivers who engage in these high-risk actions off the road.

A study conducted by Western University and the Ministry of Transportation revealed that there are approximately 58 per cent fewer speed-related deaths and injuries a month, particularly for young males, since the law took effect in 2007.

NOTICE OF STUDY COMMENCEMENT Municipal Class Environmental Assessment Study for George Bolton Parkway Extension

THE STUDY:

The Town of Caledon has initiated a Schedule 'C' Class Environmental Assessment Study including preliminary design for the extension of the George Bolton Parkway, east of Regional Road 50 to the Albion/Vaughan Road.

The Study is being undertaken to investigate alternative road options to improve connectivity, safety and operations in the South Bolton industrial area and to provide an arterial road to link the Albion/Vaughan Road to Coleraine Drive.

THE PROCESS:

The Study will be conducted in accordance with the planning and design process for 'Schedule C' projects, as outlined in the Municipal Class Environmental Assessment (EA) document, (October 2000, as amended in 2015), which is approved under the Ontario Environmental Assessment Act. The Class EA process includes public/external agency consultation, an evaluation of alternative solutions and alternative design concepts, an assessment of potential impacts associated with the proposed improvements and the development of measures to mitigate identified impacts.

COMMENTS:

Public participation will form an integral part of the Class EA Study to ensure that the ongoing concerns of the public and affected groups within the study area are identified, documented and assessed. Editorial Please! No 'Trumpism' here!

Sadly, we were in receipt the other day of an emailed letter sent to Dufferin-Caledon's MP David Tilson and MPP Sylvia Jones.

Apparently in reaction to the Bastille Day carnage in Nice, France, in which a large rented truck killed at least 84 men, women and children on a street where traffic had been prohibited during a fireworks display, the letter went on to adopt much of the strange blend of fear and racism that seems might make Donald Trump the next United States president.

We decided against accepting an offer to publish the letter, preferring instead to let readers know some of its more troubling contents and to respond to them.

The writer said events in Nice had prompted him to speak, adding, "I encourage friends, relatives, and all Canadians to do the same. We have reached the 'enough-is-enough' stage. It is no longer satisfactory or acceptable for our prime minister to say 'Canadians are shocked'. We are not shocked! Nor are we even surprised by these ongoing despicable acts. I am sick and tired of consoling words, flower tributes and teddy bear monuments. It is time for action!"

The action would include NATO declaring war on terrorism and Canada spending more on the military. "I am particularly calling on Canada to lead, to get tough and eradicate these cowardly 'religious' zealots, properly vet new immigrants, especially from Muslim countries.

The writer also called for "much stricter monitoring of mosques" and for "moderate" Islam to speak up: "Why are you so afraid to confront terrorism IF it is in your midst?"

The CBS news program 60 Minutes Sunday included an interview Lesley Stahl had with Donald Trump and his newly picked running mate, Indiana Governor Mike Pence.

During it, Trump said that as president he will "declare war" on ISIS and get NATO to play a leading role. But he denied that his 'war" would involve sending more than a few U.S. troops, claimed he had opposed the Iraq war and when told Pence had voted for it, responded that his running mate was entitled to have made a few mistakes. (But not Hillary Clinton, who also voted for the invasion.) As usual, not citing evidence to base his claims, the Republican candidate attributed the terrorist atrocities in Belgium and France to a failure of the Obama administration to have enough spies abroad, saying his "war" would involve sending a lot more agents.

Another Trump route to making "America great again" is to build walls — a physical one along the border with Mexico and trade walls under the guise of "free" trade, based on an assumption that relatively tiny neighbours Canada and Mexico out-bargained the U.S. negotiators.

As we see it, Trumpism already abounds in the U.S. The current flow of Syrian refugees is barely a trickle, the nation of 320 million having set a target of 10,000 by next September, by which time the Canadian government and sponsors will likely have brought in 40.000

The Trump "solution" is to go much further, by cutting off all such immigration, on grounds some of the refugees might have terrorists concealed in their midst.

Well, with 30,000 Syrian refugees now in our midst, how many terrorist acts have we witnessed since our change of government?

To put it another way, is it a coincidence that France, with its law restricting Muslim costumes, has been hit so hard while Germany, with 400,000 Syrian-refugee immigrants, has escaped the horrors? Our prediction: If Donald Trump occupies the White House and carries out his promises, the U.S. will be targeted even more than France.

Mayfield's top scholar graduated with 100 per cent average

By Bill Rea

It's not only hard to top the marks Roland Chou achieved to end his high school career, it's impossible. He has graduated with an average of 100 per cent in his top six Grade 12 courses, making him the top scholar in the Class of '16 at Mayfield Secondary School.

The courses he took included advanced functions, data management, music (saxophone and percussion), music (piano), physics and chemistry. It wasn't all perfect, as he received 99 per cent in calculus and vectors, 98 in biology and 95 in English (he took the advanced functions and calculus and vectors courses in Grade 11).

Chou was enrolled in the arts program at Mayfield, majoring in piano.

"I never really thought about being the top scholar," he commented. "I always tried to give my best effort." Chou said the secret to academic success was having a strong work ethic, being organized, staying focused and being persistent right up until the end. He also found time for activities away from the classroom. He did volunteer work as a counsellor at a summer Bible camp, and was a swimming instructor at Loafer's Lake Recreation Centre in Brampton.

Chou is planning to attend McMaster University next year to study health sciences. He observed it's a difficult program to get into.

"I feel really lucky to get accepted," he said. "It's one of the hardest undergraduate programs to get into in Canada."

"It covers all aspects of health sciences, from biological to social issues," he added.

Chou sees this program as leading to a career in medicine, possibly as a surgeon or radiologist.

"I've always wanted to be a doctor," he said, "because it's a very respectable job."

Chou also indicated he was grateful for the high school experience.

"I was very shy going into high school, but being in the music program helped me open up and be more sociable," he said.

He added he's hoping to get involved in some musical pursuits at McMaster, and maybe take part in some sports, as well as find time to volunteer.

And for students who are starting high school, Chou urges them not to hold back on studying, but also to be involved in school activities and spend time with friends.

"The high school experience will pass by very quickly," he said.

Scholar Seewald devotes himself to his school work

By Bill Rea

Luke Seewald said he's always done well in school, and he's hoping that will continue on university.

He's off to a good start, having emerged as the top scholar in the Class of 2016 at Robert F. Hall Catholic Secondary School in Caledon East.

Seewald, 18, completed his high school career with a 97 per cent average in his Grade 12 courses. That included 95 in physics, 98 in chemistry, 98 in calculus and vectors, 98 in functions, 95 in English and 98 in religion.

Combining those figures with his Grade 11 marks, Seewald had an average of 96.3 per cent, landing him the Governor General's Award in the process.

He said he wasn't surprised to finish on top of his class, although he was aware he had some competition.

"There were some other people who were pretty close," he remarked.

He added he was top in his class in Grade 10, but not the following year, so he was "pretty happy" with what he achieved in his final year.

"That was what I was working for," he said.

Seewald said his secret for academic success is pretty simple: "Hard work, determination and not giving up."

He added school work has always been top priority with him, even if that meant working well into the night. He also stressed the importance of making sure he understood the concepts, and "knowing when to ask for help when you need it."

The coming year will see Seewald starting his studies of computer engineering at the University of Waterloo, although he's not sure at this stage what field that will lead him to.

Seewald was able to find some time for activities away from the classroom. He has tried his hand at archery, and is an assistant coach with he Caledon Soccer Club.

He also has a summer job this year, working with the Youth In Policing Initiative with Caledon OPP.

Among other things, it enabled her to graduate at the top of her class this year from St. Michael Catholic Secondary School in Bolton. Her average coming out of Grade 12 was 95 per cent.

Most of my courses were science and math, and that's what I love," she said. She also had plenty of praise for her teachers, who were able to keep the students engaged.

"They all love what they teach, and they passed that onto us," she observed. Her course load this year included biology, chemistry, calculus, advanced functions, accounting, English and religion. She had also taken a summer course in ancient civilizations in Greece last year, and she emerged from that with a 97 per cent average.

She said she was a little surprised to Kerrigan, 18, said constant effort is part of the key to her academic success "I try to do the best I can," she said. "School's always been very important. I genuinely love learning. There's just so much to learn." Despite that, she found time for activities outside the classroom, including some intermural sports. Kerrigan was also on the student council, and she said that was a great experience.

"It was definitely the best choice I made," she said.

Kerrigan is going to be attending the University of Guelph next year, planning to study bio medical science.

"It was actually a tough decision," she said, commenting the program at Guelph is a great one with plenty of options.

"When I had my experience with braces, I thought it was amazing what they could do," she commented.

She added it will take some time to reach that goal, as she will need four years of undergraduate study, then four years of dental school and a couple of years of practice before she can specialize. For students who are just starting high school, Kerrigan has some advice.

"Get involved," she said. "Be excited about high school. It really does fly by." "There's really something for everyone," she added.

She also urged students to listen to the advice of their teachers.

"They're definitely a great tool," she declared, adding a lot of people don't take advantage of them.

Humberview's top scholar's always looking to improve

By Bill Rea

Ravish Gupta has found out that things improve the more he works at them. That has been demonstrated in his academic record, which saw him coming out at the top of his graduating class this year at Humberview Secondary School in Bolton.

He graduated with a 97.5 per cent average in his top six Grade 12 courses. He received 95 per cent in physics, 98 in chemistry, 97 in biology, 99 in advance functions, 99 in calculus and vectors and 96 in English. As well, he earned 96 per cent last summer in a course he took in international business.

These marks represented something of an improvement over his high school years. Gupta said he completed Grade 9 with a 92 per cent average. "I kept on improving from there," he remarked. He said he was hopeful that he would come out on top of his class, but he wasn't taking it for granted.

"I don't think anyone can really expect it," he commented, adding he wanted to improve his performance from last year coming students at Humberview. in each of his courses. He was also the top scholar of his class in Grade 11. "I guess I sort of knew I was up there." Gupta said planning ahead has been a big part of his academic success "I always plan out ahead," he said. "I know some people plan out an entire day. I plan out for an entire week." He also credited his chemistry teacher for advising him to exhaust his own resources before seeking help. He said that method was helpful when it came to retaining the content of the courses. Another factor was making sure to avoid distractions when studying. He recalled he was in the habit in Grade 9 of rewarding himself with 10 minutes on the internet for every five minutes of homework he did. That was not a good procedure.

He also advises students to choose courses they are passionate about so they will be motivated.

Away from the classroom, Gupta was part of the mentorship program for inHe was also part of the Me to We program, and was a math tutor in Grade 11. As well, he helped deliver the morning announcements at the school for one semester.

In addition, Gupta was treasurer of the Student Activity Council.

Gupta is planning to study health sciences at McMaster University next year. "It's a very different learning experience there," he remarked. "McMaster University is very much focused on problem-based learning."

He added the stress there is more on working in groups, as opposed to text books and lectures.

"It's about how you learn things," he observed. "Not what you learn."

Gupta wasn't sure what field this would lead him to.

"It really just depends on my experiences there," he said.

"It's tough to get into that program," he added, "so I'm surprised that I got in." The prospect of university makes Gup-

From the Book of Hockley

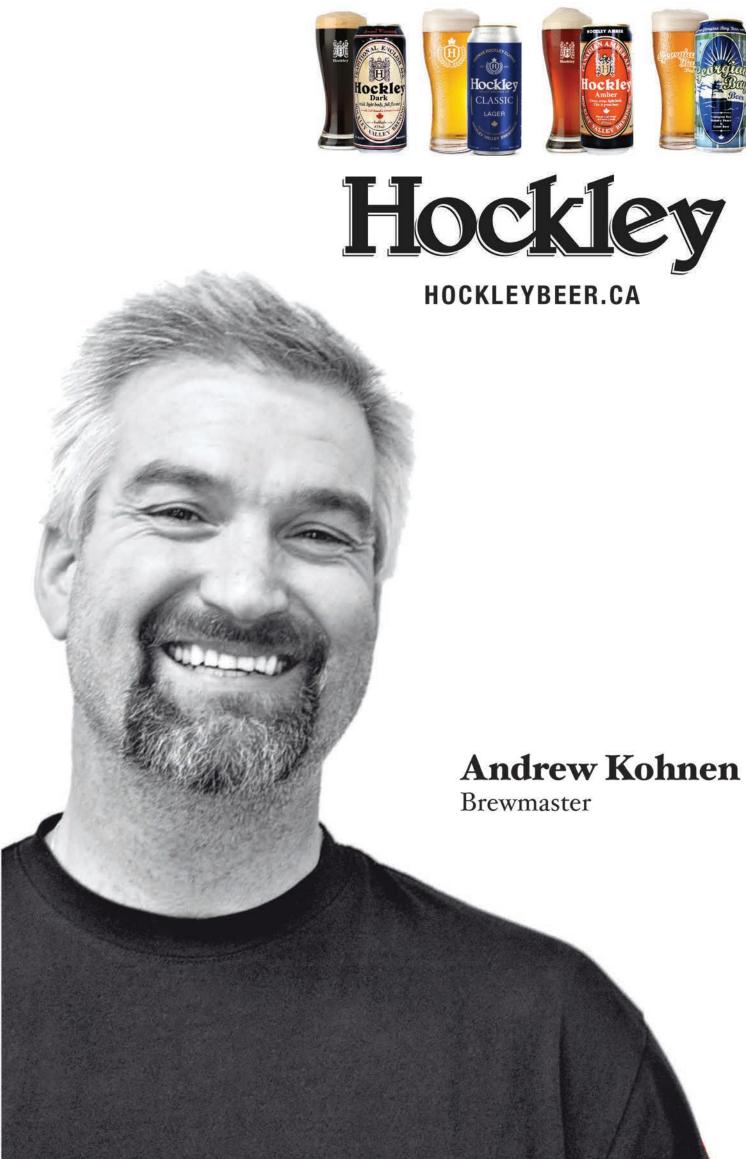

The one time playing booky paid off!

Andrew threw away a successful career in Logistics to pursue his dream of reconnecting with the brewing roots of his family. This carried him to the UK's prestigious Brewlab in Sunderland, England, where he procured the alchemy that would drive his signature brewing style.

Moment of clarity: I was sitting in a movie theatre catching a matinee – the first and only time I ever played hooky from work. I was in Operations Management at the time and could not, for the life of me, see myself in the same environment for the next 30 years I submitted my resignation the next day and applied to the Brew School in England. I've been following the path ever since.

He took what he could from there and ventured to Scotland, Cornwall, and ultimately to Krefeld, Germany to pick up near where his mother's family brewery had been, working in the same brewery that had belonged to his ancestors. He came home to Canada for Hockley.

You could call it dumb, but we call it destiny.

There was a wide assortment of Ford products of varying vintages recently as the Ontario Mustang Club presented an All Ford Show at Fines Ford Lincoln in Bolton. Proceeds from the event went to the Hospital for Sick Children.

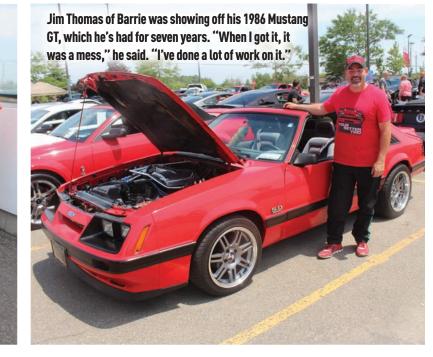

Vic Lewick of Toronto said this 1958 Edsel Corsair has been around. It was built in December 1957 and sold to a man in Saskatchewan who owned it until 1992. He sold it to a man from Stayner, and Lewick acquired it about nine years ago. For all the travelling it's done, it only has 39,000 miles on it.

Shawn and Angela Fairbairn of Barrie brought their 2001 Mustang Bullet, which they've had for about four years. It only has about 12,000 kilometres on it.

ORANGEVILLE VOLKSWAGEN Show, Shine, Cars & Coffee

If you're an auto enthusiast with a special interest in German engineering, the Wolfsburg Dub Out 2016 offers the best show in the region when it comes to Volkswagens, and Audis.

p to 150 German engineered car owners are expected to bring their rides to the event which will be held in the parking lot at Orangeville Volkswagen on Highway 10. This the second annual Dub Out hosted by Orangeville Volkswagen.

The Dub Out is named after Wolfsburg - a city in Germany which is home to the Volkswagen international headquarters.

With a trademark that is known around the world, VW owners are a loyal group that take pride in their vehicles and when it comes to vintage cars, Volkswagens seem to last forever.

The iconic Volkswagen Bug is probably the most recognizable Volkswagen product ever built. In fact it's probably one of the most recognizable automobiles that ever came off a production line anywhere in the world.

Classic Bug owners love their cars. They are fun to drive, easy to maintain, and still turn heads when one is travelling down a highway or city street.

Several of the Bugs that were at the first annual Wolfsburg Dub Out were vintage classics in original condition and are still on the road.

Mr. Suppa doesn't just work at an auto dealership, he's an active member of an exotic car club with a genuine interest in automobiles. He has been involved with Volkswagen since age 15 when he began learning as a technician and also worked at a performance shop.

"Our show is all German cars, but mainly Volkswagens and Audis. Bring your Volkswagen, Audi's, All German cars are welcome."

The dealership plans to clear all inventory from the parking lot and the showroom for the event to allow plenty of space for the arrival and staging of participating owners and their cars.

"It's a 'Dub' thing," Mr. Suppa said, referring to the vernacular that Volkswagen owners use to describe their vehicles when shortening the 'W' in Volkswagen down to a single syllable. "Volkswagens are called 'Dub's,' as in 'Vee-dubs'. It's been a Dub thing forever. Owning a Volkswagen is a culture and it's been like that for a long time. Volkswagen is one of the original companies to start car shows. A lot of people like to customize them and others like to keep them as original as possible. Volkswagen shows are always great gatherings. People get together and look at other people's cars and get ideas."

This event, Mr. Suppa stressed, isn't about selling cars - it's about bringing the community together and sharing a passion.

"This event is for fun, to get the community together," Mr. Suppa explained. "There's nothing about selling cars on that day. It's all about community and having a good time. You can meet our staff and see that we're all friendly. There will be door prizes, a 50/50 draw, and food on site. We'll have vendors and a live D.J."

The entrance fee for the event is a canned food donation which will then be given to the Orangeville Food Bank.

If you have a German engineered vehicle, polish it up, wipe the rims, and give the trim a little extra attention for the show. There will be prizes for vehicles that stand out or have and added feature that has everyone else taking note.

Orangeville Volkswagen isn't your typical VW dealer. Over the past several years the Orangeville dealership has been Wolfsburg Champions.

To win this prestigious award, Volkswagen headquarters sets up high level guidelines that must be met. Receiving the Wolfsburg Championship award means a dealership has exceeded Volkswagen's expectations in customer service and surpassed company expectations in all departments.

The staff at Orangeville Volkswagen are proud of this achievement which acknowledges their hard work and dedication.

The Dub Out will be the largest gathering of German cars in the region but that doesn't mean you have to own one to come out and see the show.

No matter what you drive, if you enjoy fine automobiles this is one show you won't want to miss.

The Orangeville Volkswagen Wolfsburg Dub Out will take place on Sunday, August 7, at the dealership location at 633222 Highway 10.

The event will get underway at 11:00 a.m. and run through to 4:00 p.m. on Sunday afternoon.

DAKAR RALLY tradition drives Toyota forward

Mountain roads at 4,700 metres. Sand dunes in 47-degree scorching heat. Sharp, tire-piercing rocks, deep river-crossings and visibility hindering dust and rainstorms. Not exactly a Sunday drive in Caledon. Yet the engineering that goes into creating Toyota's incredible tradition at the Dakar Rally is passed down to production models that Canadian's drive everyday.

THE WORLD'S TOUGHEST

The greatest and toughest rally in the world, the Dakar's history has been written in the heart of some of the world's most stunning deserts and belongs to the world of the greatest sporting challenges of our time. Both a motor race and an orienteering challenge, the Dakar Rally pits some of the world's greatest long-distance rally drivers against amateur competitors for whom the race is often the culmination of their dreams and who come to take up the challenge with their motorcycles, quad bikes, cars and in particular, Toyota trucks. Participants of fifty nationalities come together every year for the race.

A HUMAN ADVENTURE

Having become an international event, which gathers together men and women of more than 50 different nationalities, the Dakar draws on a thirst for interaction and the open-mindedness of its competitors, who all crave to explore the deserts of the world and to push themselves to the limit. The places on the final podium represent an exceptional challenge, sometimes that of a lifetime. Apart from the standings, all the competitors are motivated by this resolute desire, an almost crazy dream to finish the race. The tradition of solidarity, a principle which is one of the pillars of the "Dakar Spirit", stems from this shared passion.

AN EXTREME COMPETITION

The Dakar is the pinnacle of the motor sports discipline and inspires adventurers as much now as it ever has. More than just a simple question of racing and speed, the Dakar requires off-piste navigational skills and consistency. In off-road races, endurance prevails and the slightest mistake costs dearly. Coping with the living conditions, managing fatigue, and weighing up the risks of the race can only be achieved by a combination of peak physical condition and impeccable technical skills. Over the past thirty-six years, this combination of physical rigour and technical performance has appealed to champions and little known competitors from a wide variety of backgrounds, all wanting to experience and make their mark on this extraordinary event.

A TOYOTA TRADITION

Solid reliability. That's what makes Toyota vehicles a mainstay of Dakar since the first event held in 1979. Toyota vehicles (Land Cruiser and Hilux) have become overwhelmingly popular among competitors as "the most suitable vehicles for completing the course" due to their robustness, run-through performance and maintainability.

In the 1st running, only 74 vehicles completed the course and 13 of them were Toyota vehicles. In the 24th event (2002), a large proportion of vehicles completing the race were Toyota vehicles - 44%. Nearly one out of every two vehicles arriving at the finish line in Dakar was a Toyota vehicle.

In 2016, Nicolas Gibon (Team Land Cruiser) won for the third consecutive time in the Production Category. Toyota Gazoo Racing (South Africa) finished in 3rd, 5th, and 11th positions.

It was all about horsepower during the annual Silver Willow Classic held in Mansfield on Saturday and Sunday, July 9-10. The event is a fundraiser for Silver Willow Farm Animal Rescue. There was plenty of classic, vintage, and modifiedcars on display spanning 80 years of automotive excellence. The classic cars were kept a good distance from the mud bog were pick-up trucks, four-wheelers, jeeps, and off-road vehicles attempted to drive through a challenging course of mud and water. If you were clean when you arrived, chances are you left with a least a little mud you thanks to tires spinning through the bog and spraying the crowd. There were no complaints though as that is what people who enjoy the sport come to expect.
