Mayor and council look ahead to challenges in 2017

By Bill Rea

The year that has just begun is going to bring a number of challenges to Caledon's mayor and councillors, but they are expressing optimism that 2017 will be a good one.

Mayor Allan Thompson pointed out they have one year to get the Community Work Plan done, and he said that can be accomplished if council works together.

"We have a good cross section of opinions, which is healthy," the Mayor remarked. "I'm really optimistic that we're going to have a really successful and productive year."

Many of the complications over the last year dealt with the Town's relationship with Peel Region, particularly when it comes to the Bolton Residential Expansion Study (BRES). The town had selected its favoured option, but Regional staff backed another one, and councillors still another. The Town is taking its case to the Ontario Municipal Board (OMB).

"Political posturing has been taken out of the play," Thompson remarked, adding he's optimistic the people at the Region can work together. "Let's hope we can keep child play out of the good governance that the Region needs to do."

Thompson has just completed his second year as mayor.

"I haven't regretted a day," he remarked. "It's been rewarding."

He admitted there have been some little "hiccups" at council along the way, but "we've been able to accomplish what we want to do."

Councillor Barb Shaughnessy said she would like to see something done about the "red tape," commenting it "obstructs as far as councillors go."

The last year also saw a lot of staff changes at the Town, meaning councillors had to get used to new people in new roles. She's hoping the coming year will bring better communications between councillors and staff.

"I enjoy building relationships," she said. Shaughnessy also said she's hoping for better communications between the Town and residents.

"I'm an advocate for my residents," she declared, adding the voice of residents sometimes seems to get lost. Shaughnessy is another who's completing just her second year in office.

"It's not what you thought it was," she said. "It takes a very strong back and very broad shoulders."

Councillor Rob Mezzapelli reflected on the challenges of the last year.

"It's been challenging, both at the local level and Regional level," he said.

He observed the Town has made progress on its work plan, and expressed the hope of improving relationships at the Regional level.

He also expressed confidence that the Town's position on BRES.

Mezzapelli is also hoping to see progress when it comes to the GTA West Corridor.

"Caledon needs to know what the Province's intentions are," he commented, adding if the talked about highway doesn't materialize, then thought needs to be given to further extending Highway 427 beyond Major Mackenzie Drive. "That will be a benefit for the Town."

"It was an interesting year with some challenges," Councillor Annette Groves observed. "We had to make some pretty tough decisions."

"I hope that council will be able to work a little bit better together in the next couple of years," she said, adding there's

Christian Unity celebrations in Caledon

The congregations of St. James’ Anglican Church and Caledon East United Church in Caledon East will hold joint services Jan. 15 and 22 to mark the Week of Christian Unity.

Last January, many people enjoyed worshipping in the church of their neighbour congregation. It was such a wonderful experience. Old friends and neighbours used the opportunity to say hello and get re-acquainted. In some cases, members from the United Church were sitting with their cousins from St. James.

The Jan. 15 service will be at 11 a.m. at St. James’, 6025 Old Church Rd. The service the following Sunday will be at 10 a.m. at Caledon East United, 6046 Old Church Rd.

For further information, phone 905-584-9635 or email to stjamesoffice6025@gmail.com a lot to be done, both in the community and wards.

Councillor Gord McClure had similar thoughts.

“I’m hopeful that councillors can get along better,” he said. “Hopefully, good times are ahead and the worst is behind us. We have a really good council and things are going to flow better.”

“The year that’s ended has been a very interesting year,” Councillor Nick deBoer remarked.

He added that council achieved a lot in the last year. With the Town’s position on BRES going to OMB, he said he’s optimistic.

“I look forward to ensuring that becomes a reality,” he said.

Looking back on 2016, Councillor Johanna Downey called it “a complete whirl wind!”

It was her second year in office and she called it “a building year,” and a time to dig into initiatives and projects in the community.

“The part of this role that I enjoy the most is connecting and supporting resident groups that work toward bettering our community,” Downey commented, adding 2016 was full of such opportunities.

“My resolution for 2017 is to focus on community driven partnerships and projects from sports and recreation to health and humans services,” she said.

“I am looking forward to a 2017 full of possibilities for Caledon and all of us who live and love it.”

“I am very proud of the work of council in 2016, as I believe that we laid the groundwork for many improvements to the communities that I represent in Ward 3 and 4,” Councillor Jennifer Innis stated.

The progress she’s looking forward to in 2017 include the opening of the new paramedic station and splash pad in Caledon East; the Highway 50 improvements through Palgrave and developing a sound plan for the future of the Town Hall Campus, which includes the Caledon East Park and the third phase of the Caledon Community Complex.

“As a Board Member for the TRCA, I am also excited about the great work ahead at the Bolton Camp and the implementation of the Albion Hills Conservation Area Master Plan,” she added.

Pool in SouthFields backed after a heated debate

By Bill Rea

Caledon council closed out 2016 by changing its position on planned recreation facilities for SouthFields Village.

In committee, councillors had previously approved a staff recommendation calling for what was known as Option A, which did not include an aquatics facility. But when it came time to ratify that at the last council meeting of the year, Option B, which includes an indoor aquatics facility, got the nod.

The amendment came from Councillor Johanna Downey, but Councillor Barb Shaughnessy made an unsuccessful attempt to get the matter referred back to Town staff so there could be meetings with concerned stakeholders, including developers interested in the second phase of Mayfield West.

“This is a really serious issue,” she remarked. “We need to do our due diligence on this.”

One of the reasons for not including the pool in the first phase is it would be close to the pool at Mayfield Recreation Complex. Shaughnessy was concerned putting a pool in SouthFields Village would reduce the chances of one going in the second phase because it would be thought there were too many pools too close together.

She was also concerned that this proposal had not been discussed with the landowners in the second phase. She was concerned about agreements that might have been made with them.

“Quite frankly, I’m tired of litigation,” Shaughnessy declared. “I’m tired of everybody suing us.”

“It doesn’t hurt to put it off for a month or two,” she added.

Shaughnessy also protested that two councillors were absent. Doug Beffort was ill and Annette Groves was dealing with a family matter. She wondered if the pool supporters were taking advantage of that.

“I put a lot of work into this project,” Downey responded, pointing out the pool she was advocating would serve all residents on the west side of town.

Downey also denied taking advantage of the absent councillors.

“I would do my job regardless of whether all the council were here or not,” she declared.

“I just think we should listen to staff a lot more,” Councillor Gord McClure said. “We shouldn’t push this forward today.”

He was also reluctant to go ahead with two councillors missing.

General Manager of Community Services Peggy Tollett said a recreation facility has always been planned for the first phase, but it’s never been specified what it would contain. She added if a pool goes in the first phase, staff would recommend there not be one in the second.

General Manager of Finance and Infrastructure Services Fuwing Wong added the landowners in the second phase have been told there will be recreation facilities, but there’s nothing in any agreement specifying a pool.

The original position came after the committee had heard a presentation from consultant Todd Brown of Montieth Brown regarding a facility needs assessment study for the area.

He told councillors they were presented with recommendations in October for recreational components, along with a community-hub feature for the first phase of Mayfield West. It was slated to go at Kennedy Road and Dougall Avenue, and was to include a gymnasium, fitness centre, aerobics studio, multi-purpose rooms, a library branch and future outdoor amenities, which could include a plaza, fountain, splash pad and skateboard park. Brown said council had asked them to come up with an alternative that could see a small-scale indoor pool.

Brown observed that consultations across town indicated there is dissatisfaction with the pools at Caledon Centre for Recreation and Wellness (CCRW) in Bolton and Mayfield Complex. He also said the numbers of those using the programs at the two pools indicate there is still capacity available. He added the findings indicate about half the users at Mayfield come from outside Caledon, and pools in the northern part of Brampton are expected to open and reduce demand on Mayfield.

They did come up with Option B, which reduced the size of some of the amenities, like the fitness centre and aerobics studio, but allowed for a small pool.

Brown also reported the estimated capital cost would be a little more for Option B ($27.14 million as opposed to $27.016 million for Option A). The operating costs for Option B would be about $1.735 million, compared to $1.335 million for Option A. Option B would add more to the Town’s tax rate.

Hearing properly has brought back my confidence

Bridge-loving Hugh Palmer found that an appointment with Miracle-Ear did the trick when it came to dealing with his loss of hearing

When my wife and I moved a few years ago, we didn’t know anybody in the area. We quickly met locals through our bridge club. Bridge is the ideal game because it gets you away from the television and into the community to meet people and make friends.

It is also good for the hard of hearing because it is so visual. Mentally, it keeps the brain going with all the rules, calculations and systems. There are so many things to think about and that’s why it’s so challenging. It’s unique in that respect.

I’ve been playing for a long time. My father taught me. Several years later, he said to me, “You’re not quite as daft as I thought you were,” which was quite a compliment coming from him.

My wife and I play duplicate bridge once a week, in our community. In duplicate bridge each table plays the same hand of cards in rotation, and it’s up to you and your partner to make the highest score. Bridge is one of the only card games where you are constantly conveying information to your partner and it can be fiercely competitive.

It’s also very social and in that respect my new Miracle-Ear hearing aids have been an enormous help, allowing me to enjoy the laughter and conversation at the table.

My other lifelong passion has been tennis and it was during an indoor tennis training session that I first noticed my hearing was not quite right. There were about 15 people in the class but I was the only one who had to go right up to the coach to hear his instructions. It was embarrassing and I had to rely on others in the group to interpret what he was saying for me.

In hindsight, I recognize that my hearing had been gradually deteriorating over the years. It was particularly noticeable during my monthly get-togethers with fellow ex-Round Table members at a local pub. They could be a noisy bunch and I often missed what was being said because of the background noise.

I went into a nearby sports store one day to buy some tennis balls. There was a Miracle-Ear shop a few doors along the road from the sports store. The major decision was for me to walk in through the door.

My confidence in Miracle-Ear was strengthened when I learned that it had access to hearing aids from many manufacturers.

The Registered Hearing Instrument Specialist explained to me that the latest hearing aids were not only discreet, but give 360-degree hearing.

Hearing loss creeps up slowly. Listening requires the brain to process all the dialects and frequencies, and for me, the consonants kept dropping out.

When Miracle-Ear did my first hearing test, I was asked if the problem was worse in one ear than the other. The follow-up visit revealed similar levels of deterioration in both ears. It’s important to explain your hearing problems to the hearing instrument specialist in exact detail and I was pleasantly surprised that what I heard through the earpiece could be improved through tiny adjustments to the device.

Indeed, my current hearing aids have a nifty remote control that has various settings for blocking out background noise from human chatter and road sounds. My wife and I enjoy classical music, so listening to a live concert in full surround sound enhances the experience.

The service from Miracle-Ear was exceptional. It operates a customer-friendly, open-door policy, and the helpful staff often deals with problems on the spot.

These days, my wife jokes that she doesn’t talk to me until I’ve got my Miracle-Ear hearing aids switched on. Joking aside, though, the biggest change they have made is to my confidence.

I would recommend anybody to get their hearing tested. I don’t understand why more people don’t go.

Police reminding people to ‘lock it or lose it’

Caledon OPP would like to remind everyone to not let a distraction cause them to become victims of theft.

They are encouraging citizens to “lock it or lose it” and to take precautions to protect their vehicle contents from theft.

Under the Lock It OR Lose It program, parked vehicles are examined to confirm they are locked and that no valuables have been left in plain view. A Lock It OR Lose It notice is placed on every vehicle checked which specifies what safety precautions were ignored. Simple prevention tips are provided which drivers can use to protect their vehicles and valuables from theft.

By taking simple preventive measures, such as confirming the vehicle is locked and by placing items of value out of sight or removing valuable items from the vehicle altogether, victimization can be avoided.

People can help prevent theft by following some crime prevention tips:

- Always roll up the vehicle’s windows, lock the doors and pocket the key.

- If you have a garage, use it and lock the door as well as the vehicle.
- Keep your vehicle registration certificate/proof of insurance on you at all times.

- Always park your vehicle in a well-lit area.
- Never leave valuable objects or packages in full view. Put them in the trunk.

- Never leave your vehicle unattended while it is running.

Be sure to take precautions to protect your vehicle and vehicle contents from theft.

WINTER’S BACK

The whole Greater Toronto Area got another taste of real winter this week, and more will be probably be coming. Be sure to give snow plows all the space they need to get the roads cleared as fast as possible.

Motorists encouraged to practise safe and patient driving during winter

Another winter storm hit the Greater Toronto Area this week, and CAA South Central Ontario (CAA SCO) is reminding motorists to practise safety on the roads.

Six winter driving essentials

- Check the local forecast before heading out.
- Pack a winter emergency kit.
- Top off your windshield washer fluid.
- Ensure you have an ice scraper, snow brush, shovel and fully charged phone.
- Drive according to the road conditions.

- Letting a fellow driver into your lane and a simple thank you wave in return can make the difference on a cold and stressful winter day.

During southern Ontario’s last winter storm Dec. 15, CAA SCO handled more than 6,500 roadside assistance calls — double the calls normally experienced during non-extreme weather events.

What to do if the vehicle breaks down

- Pull off the road.
- Note your vehicle’s location.
- Assess your vehicle’s operation problem.

- Alert other motorists by making your vehicle visible.
- Call 9-1-1 and communicate your situation.
- Call for roadside assistance. If you are a CAA member give your membership number.
- Know your rights and responsibilities.

CAA SCO would also like to remind drivers to slow down and move over if they see emergency or roadside assistance vehicles on the side of the road. It’s the law.

Another look at what went on in Caledon in 2016

July

SouthFields Village Public School is at capacity, so the Province announced it was stepping in to help with funding a new school for the area.

Education Minister Mitzi Hunter was at the school to announce the Province will be providing $12.7 million for a new school nearby to take off some of the load.

Chez Thrift was about to change.

Dignitaries and supporters of Caledon Community Services (CCS) were on hand at the new planned location on Industrial Road in Bolton for the construction launch. They also saw the unveiling of the new name — evolve.

The new store for reselling gently used clothing and other donated items will have about 15,000 square feet, more than doubling the current location.

It was a win/win situation for the Jays Care Foundation and Joseph Grillone and Robyn Nazione of Bolton who attended the Toronto Blue Jays game July 3, and left $51,271.50 richer after winning in the Electronic 50/50 draw.

Cheltenham was in a festive mood for the annual Cheltenham Day festivities.

pride, was flying for the first time at Town Hall in Caledon East.

“We’re an inclusive community, so we’d better be ready to walk the walk,” Councillor Jennifer Innis said.

The Bolton Residential Expansion Study (BRES) came up again, as Peel Regional councillors agreed to hold a special meeting on the matter later in the month.

There were six candidate expansion options identified in BRES, and the option favoured by the Town involves lands on Humber Station Road, between the Canadian Pacific Railway tracks and The Gore Road, north of King Street. It’s also known as Option 3 or Go Station Focus option.

Regional staff favoured a hybrid of two of the options to the south, but Regional councillors rejected that advice and voted in favour of the expansion going in the southern most option, also Known as Option 6, or the Solmar Development lands.

I would like to take this opportunity to wish everyone a very Healthy, Successful and prosperous 2017.

It is with humble gratitude that I thank all my clients, customers, family, friends and most of all the Fleming Realty family for such a successful 2016. With 87% of our business being repeat and referral I certainly could not ask for a better compliment. Fleming Realty Inc., was also successful this past year in completing business outside of Canada in both Florida, US and Mexico, showing that we do not have a problem in reaching outside the box.

As a firm believer in goal setting, I am proud to say that not only as a company did we hit and surpass our goal but everyone individually hit their goals as well.

Oct 1, 2016 marked the beginning of 9 years as Fleming Realty Inc., and with that we have been successful with not only a record year for sales, (as most companies saw), but I also grew the company by 2 additional sales representatives, making with myself a total of 7 REALTORS® by the end of 2016.

I am proud to say that I am still a long standing member of the Caledon Chamber of Commerce, and chair the committee for the ladies gala known as “Stars N Stilettos”, which was also a huge success and surpassed our expectations with having 195 ladies attend. I continue to be a volunteer with the real estate board, on the Professional Standards Committee, as well as being a member in the Canadian Real Estate Association, Ontario Real Estate Association. As most of the public may know, a REALTOR® must do continuing education, I am proud to notify everyone that I am also working on getting my Fellowship in the Real Estate Institute of Canada, the highest level of education one can achieve.

I am looking forward to another successful year and if there is anything Fleming Realty Inc., brokerage can do for you, with our Professional, Prompt and Personal service, please do not hesitate to contact us

It happened more than 60 years ago, but the impacts of Hurricane Hazel are still being felt locally.

Details on how this 1954 storm affected the community and its future will be explored at the Jan. 25 meeting of the Caledon East and District Historical Society. The speaker will be Heather Broadbent, former heritage resource officer for the Town of Caledon.

The storm struck the Humber River watershed, hitting the Bolton area particularly hard. Flooding caused people to seek higher ground as area dams spilled their banks.

Among the results was the establishment of Canada's first flood warning system, the start of flood plain regulation and the formation of the local conservation authority.

The meeting will be at St. James' Anglican Church on Old Church Road in Cale-don East (south side, just east of Airport Road). It will start at 7:30 p.m.

This will be the annual general meeting of the Society, so membership fees of $15 will be due.

Stay fire safe

How to reduce the risk of electrical fire

- Check cords for damage, such as fraying or nicks. A damaged cord can expose wires and result in a potential shock or fire hazard.
- Avoid running cords under rugs, which can damage the cord and cause a fire.
- Extension cords should be used only as a temporary connection. If permanent wiring is required, have additional outlets installed by a licensed electrician. Extension cords should not be linked together. Use an extension cord that is long enough to do the job.
- Air conditioners and other heavy appliances should be plugged directly into an outlet.
- Avoid overloading a circuit with "octopus outlets". If additional outlets or circuits are required, have them installed by a licensed electrician.
- Arc fault circuit interrupters (AFCIs) shut off electricity when a dangerous condition occurs. Have a licensed electrician install AFCIs in your home.

No dog licences required

Effective January 1, 2017, the Town of Caledon will no longer require residents to purchase a licence for their dog(s).

A detailed review of the current program revealed that licences were only used in a small number of cases to return dogs to their owners. Although licences were effective in the past, various modern approaches, such as microchipping or personalized identification tags, offer a reliable alternative for returning lost pets to owners.

This simplified approach cuts red tape for residents, and acknowledges the benefits of microchipping and / or personalized tags.

In 2017 and beyond, the Town of Caledon’s Animal Services will work to promote these alternatives, will continue to provide excellent animal services and will continue to enforce the animal control by-law.

Go to caledon.ca/dogs for more information, contact the Caledon Animal Shelter at 905.857.5208 or toll free 1.866.818.5493

Tall snow banks can be a hazard!

The Town wants to remind parents to stop their children from playing around snow banks. Forts dug into snow banks can collapse. Children can easily slip and fall onto the street if they use snow banks as toboggan hills. Motorists must always be on the lookout for children, pedestrians and other vehicles when entering intersections, side streets and driveways.

Do not interfere with snow plowing operations

In order that The Town can efficiently clear snow from roads, residents are reminded that parking is not permitted on streets during a winter storm. Overnight parking considerations are deemed invalid during this time.

Keep snow off of roadways

Residents are reminded that, when clearing snow from your driveway, you should not deposit your excess snow on the roadway. This accumulation of snow causes obstructions and may result in a vehicle losing control. Please clear your snow onto your own property and not into ditches or the road allowance.

Do not obstruct sidewalks

Sidewalks need to be kept free of obstructions so that residents can safely walk without having to travel on the roadway. Wheelchairs and seniors who have difficulty navigating curbs cannot easily move around vehicles blocking the sidewalk. Also, sidewalk plows have limited space to maneuver around cars. If a car is blocking the sidewalk, they cannot clear it.

Former mayor John Clarkson had a park named after him

Carly Cameron proved she’s able to discuss her research in front of an audience. She proved it by winning the national People’s Choice Award at the Three Minute Thesis (3MT) contest.

There is a lot of history surrounding the general store in Belfountain, and that was recognized by the Town.

It had its heritage designation conferred upon it at a brief ceremony at Town Hall.

Although he no longer lives in Caledon, there are many in the community who remember John Clarkson.

Town council agreed to rename a park in SouthFields Village after Caledon’s second mayor.

The Canadian Olympic Committee (COC) and Equestrian Canada (EC) named the 10 athletes nominated to represent Team Canada in equestrian at the Rio 2016 Olympic Games.

Caledon resident Yann Candele was named one of four members of the jumping team.

A lot of work had been done in the Provincial reviews of land-use plans, but there were calls for a longer consultation process.

That was one of the calls coming from Peel Regional council.

David Davis of Bolton found himself $1 million richer after winning Lotto Max Maxmillions in the July 22 draw.

A Caledon village couple found themselves yielding to an unusual pedestrian. They were driving along Charleston Sideroad when they spotted a black bear. “It wasn’t a big one,” was the way Ray Binsell described it. “But we stopped the car and it went right in front of us across the road.”

Caledon’s Yann Candele was part of Show Jumping Team that finished fourth in Rio

August

It was a time for cyclists and cycling enthusiasts to take up the local roads as the 12th annual Tour de Terra Cotta went ahead as planned.

It was a nice night for a stroll, even along a runway.

Brampton Flight Centre (BFC) hosted the third annual Light Up the Runway in support of Bethell Hospice.

The year marked the 30th anniversary of the Rising Star Talent Competition at the Canadian National Exhibition, and there were two girls from Caledon taking part.

Maria Carabajal of Bolton was to competing in the Junior class, and Palgrave area resident Julia Gentile was the Youth competition.

Peel Regional councillors got their wish. The Province extended the consultation period for the Coordinated Provincial Plan Review by one month, until the end of October.

It’s well known that TD Bank is a big supporter of the Hospital for Sick Children in Toronto, and the Bolton branch has been a top contributor over the years.

It was a time for celebrating a successful fundraising effort, which saw more than $591,000 raised by TD branches in Peel Region.

At the annual conference of the Association of Municipalities of Ontario (AMO), Mayor Allan Thompson was re-elected to the AMO Board of Directors, Regional and Single Tier Caucus for a second term.

The Canadian Show Jumping Team, including Yann Candele of Caledon, finished fourth at the 2016 Olympic Games in Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, following a jump-off for the bronze medal in the Team Final.

Schomberg’s Eric Lamaze took the bronze medal in individual show jumping.

There were plenty of people taking part in good, clean fun, or at least good fun at Albion Hills Conservation Area. They were taking part in the Mud Heroes event, running an obstacle course filled with lots of mud.

Caledon councillors were ready to discuss the zoning on the massive Canadian Tire development in Bolton, but the debate was halted before it even started.

Councillor Innis, who was chairing the meeting, ruled the Town did not have the authority to deal with the matter. She said local authority had been superceded by a Ministerial Zoning Order (MZO), which the Province issued for the development in July 2013.

Councillor Annette Groves had put forth a notice of motion calling for an Official Plan amendment and rezoning process for the site, in light of plans to produce and store hydrogen there.

It was a time to celebrate 75 years of accomplishment.

The Peel Federation of Agriculture marked 75 years with food, fellowship and inspirational comments.

Anyone looking for great ribs didn’t have far to search one weekend in August. The Rotary Club of Bolton held their annual Rotaryfest in Caledon East. There were five stands where people lined up for delicious ribs and sauce. Jaun Barrera and Heather Steenberden were serving up this order of ribs at Texas Rangers.

He’s repeating a Harper mistake

NATIONAL AFFAIRS
Claire Hoy

It was American author/comedian John Green who quipped: “I figured something out. The future is unpredictable.”

That being said, however, some future events are obvious, one of which is that Prime Minister Justin Trudeau and about-to-be-inaugurated U.S. President Donald Trump will never be pals.

But then again, when it comes to business, political or otherwise, you don’t really have to be best buddies to wheel and deal.

It is wise, however, to avoid openly antagonizing somebody who, like it or not, is a critical part of your own failure or success.

Which is why, it says here, that Trudeau is making a rookie mistake by skipping Trump’s inauguration, and why he should tell his left-leaning cabinet ministers and backbenchers to stop demonizing Trump.

Fact is, despite the fact that liberals throughout the world are appalled — after all, he doesn’t accept their sacred shibboleths, and worse, doesn’t care if it offends them — Trump won the election and is about to become head of Canada’s (and the world’s) most important trading country.

Best to at least attempt to get along.

Which doesn’t mean bowing down in worship — as liberals tended to do with Barack Obama — but it does mean knocking off the Hitler comparisons (which are not only the height of foolish hyperbole, but serve only to diminish the true horror of Hitler, Stalin, et al) and getting down to the serious business of trying to do what’s best for Canada in our dealings with our number one trading partner.

Trudeau may indeed be the darling of Hollywood liberals and their ilk everywhere, which makes him the epitome of everything Trump campaigned against.

But Trump, first and foremost, is a businessman, and he understands the importance of the immense two-way trade between our two countries.

Stephen Harper and Obama were in the same category. They didn’t like each other either. And Harper’s open hostility proved not to be a wise move. Witness Obama’s killing of the Keystone pipeline as Exhibit A. (A move, by the way, which Trump is certain to reverse as quickly as he can.)

It is true that the Americans are the Goliath in this relationship — and we’re the David, although he did rather well in the end — but Trump understands how to read statistics and will know that Canada, despite our comparative size, is the American’s second largest trade partner (behind the European Union), accounting for nearly nine million American jobs.

It is true they have an even bigger impact upon our overall economy, but the status of our relationship gives us more bargaining chips than most countries who have to deal with them.

Indeed, in 2015, the U.S. imported $325.4 billion worth of goods and services from Canada, and Canada exported $337.3 billion from the U.S., making us their largest single customer, something that will not be lost on Trump, no matter how he views our hug-for-hire prime minister.

Trump, as you know, is hell-bent on reviving the fossil fuel industry which, despite its incredible importance to their country (and ours) was treated as a leper would be by Obama and his crowd. He’s also going to make huge changes — maybe even tear up — NAFTA and other trade deals and he sure won’t be imposing a carbon tax as Kathleen Wynne just did and Trudeau soon will, making us even less competitive, particularly given the other reality that Trump will absolutely slash business taxes, a sure-fire invitation to Canadian (particularly Ontarian) manufacturers to escape high taxes and Wynne-inspired energy costs and move south of the border.

All of which means that Trudeau and his gang have to forget their personal feelings about Trump — valid or not — and make sure we get a seat at the table to avoid being crushed when, as Trudeau’s father Pierre once famously said, the elephant next door decides to roll over.

Trudeau seems to have lots of time to flit around the world meeting and greeting — and taking shirtless selfies — with the artsy-fartsy crowd and other assorted liberals elsewhere. But somehow he can’t find the time to spend a day in Washington witnessing Trump’s swearing-in ceremony and signalling to the new president directly that we’re ready to sit down and do business.

It is true that Harper made the same mistake, finding himself elsewhere during Obama’s swearing-in, and that didn’t work out particularly well for our benefit.

You’d think Trudeau would have learned something from that, but apparently not. Pity.

Sylvia Jones nominated for 2018 election

The next Provincial election is not until 2018, but Dufferin-Caledon Progressive Conservatives have their candidate ready to go.

Incumbent MPP Sylvia Jones was acclaimed Jan. 5 to carry the party’s colours in the next campaign.

“I am honored to be chosen to represent the PC Party in Dufferin-Caledon in the 2018 election,” Jones said.

Jones has held the office since 2007. She is currently Deputy-Leader of the PC Party said she looks forward to continuing to represent Dufferin-Caledon at Queen’s Park.

“In the past year, some of the highlights of my work for the people of Dufferin-Caledon include convincing the Liberal government to reverse their cut to IBI therapy for children with Autism over the age of five; pushing for the Niagara Escarpment Commission to stop its proposed expansion at a cost to landowners and municipalities and without effective consultation or a complete plan; and ensuring that local communities continue to be represented at the Ontario Trillium Foundation on local Grant Review Teams,” she observed.

“After 13 years of waste and mismanagement by this tired Liberal government, the 2018 election represents a chance to make Ontario better for all of us,” Jones said. “I will continue to work for the people of Dufferin-Caledon and secure their support for a more prosperous Ontario.”

“I congratulate Sylvia Jones on her nomination as the Ontario PC candidate for Dufferin-Caledon,” party Leader Patrick Brown said in a statement. “I have had the privilege of working closely with Sylvia through her work as Deputy Leader, where she has proven herself to be a hardworking and integral member of the Ontario PC Caucus.”

Pool needs to be reconsidered

This decision was approved by the Mayor and Councillors Downey, Innis and deBoer, less than half of council. Area Councillor Gord McClure did not support the pool, as it was fiscally irresponsible. Don’t you think a $27 million investment should have more than 44 per cent of council support?

Residents need to ask the Mayor and those Councillors why they ignored staff and consultant recommendations. This decision needs to be reconsidered.

Plans to divert drivers from Belfountain on weekends were shelved

She won the crown at the annual Peel-Dufferin Plowing Match, hosted by the Dixon family in Caledon.

Students having to walk to St. Nicholas Catholic Elementary School in Bolton had been a concern for sometime, and it was still on the minds of plenty of parents.

Parents and students from St. Nicholas Catholic Elementary School in Bolton were at the intersection of Coleraine Drive and Harvest Moon Drive the first morning of the new school year, protesting the reduction in busing of students to the school.

Using the old Alton Public School as a museum was discussed

October

After a lengthy and sometimes heated debate, Town council decided not to seek an amendment to the Ministerial Zoning Order (MZO) to halt the production of hydrogen at the new Canadian Tire facility in Bolton.

Councillor Groves, backed by Councillor Barb Shaughnessy, made the effort, but they were not able to sway any of their colleagues.

The Cedar Mills area resident Ken Weber unveiled his stone on Caledon's Walk of Fame.

Caledon's Deputy Fire Chief, Operations, Darryl Bailey was named acting Fire Chief. This appointment followed the retirement announcement of Fire Chief David Forfar.

Could the Caledon area use a museum, and is the old Alton Public School the place for it?

That's one of the issues that was discussed at a community meeting hosted by Councillor Shaughnessy.

The old building has not seen much use since January 2014, when the new school opened just to the north.

"To me, empty buildings mean death," Shaughnessy told the roughly 25 people at the meeting. "They need to have life."

October saw another idea for dealing with the Bolton Residential Expansion Study (BRES), and it came from former the new school year to protest the fact that Student Transportation of Peel Region (STOPR) had elected not to bus students living east of Coleraine and Emil Kolb to St. Nicholas.

Trustees came close to debating a call to restore busing, but the motion never made it to the table.

Board Chair Mario Pascucci ruled the motion out of order, arguing the Board didn't have the authority to get involved in the operations of STOPR.

The Bolton Braves major rookies entered a tournament in Chatham Labour Day weekend and emerged as provincial champions.

The Town had plans to discourage traffic from clogging the roads in Belfountain, but business operators in the hamlet weren't too pleased.

Garth Turner, owner of Belfountain General Store, was concerned that would impact on business in the area, especially over Thanksgiving, which is one of the busiest times of the year for their business, as well as the last holiday weekend before the snow flies.

But things seemed to settle down after about a week, as the pilot project was put off for this year after a meeting with business operators and Town officials.

No, these members of Caledon OPP were not lying down on the job. They had been nominated by their fellows at Nottawasaga OPP to do 22 pushups in support of efforts to raise awareness of Post Traumatic Stress Disorder among combat veterans, first responders, etc. Constable Stephanie Hammond said the number 22 is symbolic of the frequently repeated claim that 22 military veterans take their lives every day in the United States.

gion ponied up the needed funds for road repairs.

King Mayor Steve Pellegrini discussed the matter with Mayor Thompson, who was shocked that there was no formal agreement between the two municipalities over this stretch of road.

"Our staff is going to be working with their staff to see what can be done," Thompson commented.

There was a large crowd out at Devil's Pulpit Golf Club for the Bethell Hospice Foundation Giving Thanks event. The evening included reflections offered by some of the people who have been touched by the facility, as well as the presentation of awards.

The Elizabeth Birnie Leadership Award was presented to Chris Merkley.

"Common sense prevailed," Turner declared.

Little was resolved, but much was said as Peel Region hosted the formal public information meeting into the Bolton Residential Expansion Study (BRES).

Mississauga councillors made another try to cut Caledon's representation at the Region later in the month, but it didn't get very far.

Aurora resident Nicole Walker was Caledon Cup champion after the Canadian Show Jumping Tournament Caledon at Caledon Equestrian Park in Palgrave.

And Anne Livingston was presented with the Lorna Bethell Legacy Award.

It had been talked about for a number of years, but the community hall in Belfountain got back up and operating.

The renovation work has included replacement of the roof, windows and wiring, as well as work on the furnace and washrooms.

A large crowd was out to mark the 40th anniversary of Heritage Caledon and the 10th anniversary of the Caledon Heritage Foundation.

One of the high points of the evening was a presentation of an Award of Excellence to Heather Broadbent, who has made major contributions to the preservation of heritage in Caledon over the years.

Author and historian Ken Weber was surrounded by family, friends and Town councillors as his stone on Caledon's Walk of Fame was unveiled.

MP Tilson willing to wait and see how Donald Trump does as President

November

Hydrogen production was approved for the Canadian Tire distribution centre under construction in Bolton.

The Town announced the Technical Standards and Safety Authority (TSSA) had reviewed the hydrogen system that's been proposed for the facility and had accepted the design.

Mayor Thompson was pleased with the ruling, commenting it will benefit the local economy, facilitating a new business coming into the area, providing jobs and spin-off benefits.

But Councillor Groves was less than pleased with the news. She has been calling for some time to have a public process on the proposal.

The Peel District School Board was ready to conduct a Pupil Accommodation Review (PAR) for several schools on the west side of Caledon, with the future of Credit View Public School in the balance.

Caledon Trustee Stan Cameron said one of the problems facing the Credit View community is the price of homes and land in the area is out of the reach of many young families, and there are no new subdivisions in the works for the vicinity.

The community came out to reflect upon those who served and fell in wars and military actions at Remembrance Day observances throughout Caledon.

The Town started its deliberations for the 2017 budget, looking at an overall tax increase of 2.7 per cent.

Meanwhile, it looked like Peel Region was going to keep its tax increase for 2017 in the area of two per cent.

The election of Donald Trump as the next President of the United States had many people concerned, but MP David Tilson was willing to see how events play out.

"Mr. Trump said some very strong things in the campaign that could affect Canada," Tilson said, adding Democratic candidate Hillary Clinton did too, pointing out a lot of things are said in the heat of a campaign. "I'm reluctant to diss him."

There was mixed reaction locally to plans to have Peel Region's Chair elected at large.

New legislation was introduced at Queen's Park that would see regional chairs directly elected for the next term, due to start late in 2018.

"I accept that's the way things are going to be," Mayor Thompson remarked. "We're now going to have a super mayor of the Region of Peel."

Thompson saw good and bad points in the legislation.

Councillor Groves expressed disappointment that the three municipalities in Peel weren't consulted first.

"I'm not in favour of general election of Chairs at large," Councillor Innis remarked, adding it would create a super mayor.

Paul, Marion and Robert Kolb were named Farm Family of the Year by the Peel Federation of Agriculture (PFA).

The end of November brought good news for Mayor Thompson.

He was cleared him of charges he was facing. The allegations had been brought by Kelly Darnley and later by Charles Bristoll. The ruling was decisive.

Mr. Justice Peter Daley of the Superior Court of Justice came down with his 15-page ruling that threw out the allegations, and awarded costs.

December

Crowds were out in Bolton and Caledon village to welcome Santa Claus back to town in parades.

The community gathered at the Albi-on-Bolton branch of Caledon Public Library to mark 27 years since 14 women were shot and killed at École Polytechnique in Montreal.

"They died because they were women," Library CEO and Chief Librarian Colleen Lipp observed.

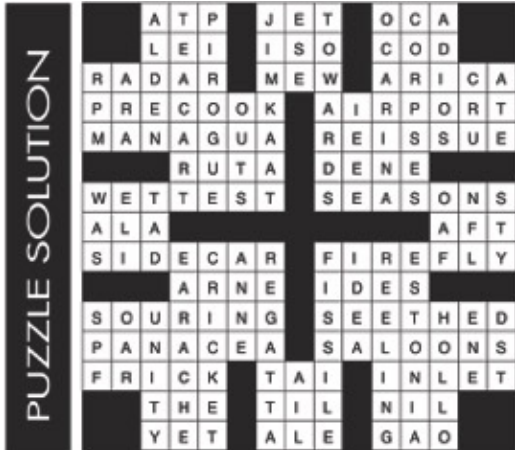

The vote was close in the end, but Peel Regional councillors stuck by their previous position and picked the southern most option from the Bolton Residential Expansion Study (BRES), also known as Option 6, or the Solmar Development lands.

This decision went against the advice of Regional staff, who had favoured a hybrid of Options 4 and 5 to the north of Option 6. The Town had been promoting the Golden Hawks’ regulation unbeaten streak reaches six games since start of December

By Jake Courtepatte

The Caledon Golden Hawks seem to have hit their stride since the beginning of December, but it may be too late to make an impact in the Provincial Junior Hockey League playoff race.

A pair of overtime losses and a win since returning from the holiday break has brought the junior C club to a record of 3-0-3 in their last six games, a stretch since Dec. 19 in which the team has not lost in regulation time.

In what was almost a complete upset, the Hawks took the league-leading Stayner Siskins to the limit in their first game of January, notching two goals in the final 10 minutes of play to send the game to overtime. Though Stayner earned the extra point, Caledon’s Christian Cipironi was dynamite in his first game between the pipes for the Golden Hawks as the team begins the rebuild for next season.

Friday’s game visiting the Penetang Kings once again saw the Hawks make a third period comeback, with Matt Magliozzi scoring twice in the third to send the game to overtime, though Penetang won it 5-4 a little more than three minutes into extra time.

Sunday’s weekly home game was the rubber match in the season series between the Hawks and the Schomberg Cougars, with the teams splitting two wins each and a tie until that point.

Magliozzi had another multi-goal night, scoring twice in the first period, as the Hawks jumped out to a 3-0 lead. Another new face for the Hawks, Anton Trublin, scored the other first period marker, before completing a hat trick by the third period. Caledon took it 6-3 on 28 shots.

Trublin, sent to the Hawks after three successful seasons in the Greater Ontario Junior Hockey League, has notched seven goals and six assists in just five games played so far.

The Hawks’ hot streak is just the latest in a season that seems to have taken a turn for the better after winning just one of their first 15 games. Thirteen of the team’s 17 points have come since the start of December, having played on par with, or better than, the majority of the other club’s within the OJHL’s Caruthers division.

Despite the team’s current string of success, the Hawks are on the very brink of locking up last place in the Caruthers division. With five games left on the schedule, they sit eight points back of the seventh place Orillia Terriers, with the Terriers needing only one win to ensure they do not finish at the bottom of the table.

The team that is really worth catching, however, is the Schomberg Cougars, currently nine points up on the Hawks in sixth place. The bottom two teams in the division will draw either the Alliston Hornets or the Stayner Siskins, who have made the division a two-team race this year by utter domination.

As the only two teams with records above .500, the Hornets and Siskins have combined for a total of seven losses. In comparison, the third place Midland Flyers head into the final two weeks of play with 20.

If standings remain as is, Caledon will draw the 31-3-0 Siskins in the first round of the PJHL playoffs, while the Terriers will have to deal with the 28-

4-1 Hornets.

The Hawks return home this Sunday to host the Huntsville Otters (14-21-0) at Caledon East. Puck drop is set for 6:30 p.m.

They will have to contend with the Hornets twice more in the final four games of the season, set to wrap up Jan. 29.

Staff said pool should wait

The staff report to committee indicated that Caledon would be ready to support a third aquatic facility when the population reaches 100,000, which is anticipated around 2025, although they said it could grow into that third pool.

Staff also pointed to recent and ongoing capital investments at Mayfield, meaning it has a substantial life ahead of it.

The report favoured a strategy to develop a pool as part of a community centre in the second phase of Mayfield West. Staff said there had been strong community feedback from across town for the need of a certain size of aquatic facility. There are calls for a 25-metre rectangular pool with six lanes, as well as a separate tank for warmer water programs. There are plans to locate such a facility in a future secondary school. Assessing the options, staff said putting a new pool close to the largest one in town would be “both operationally and financially challenging.”

They added there would be limits to the size of facility that could be built there.

Staff opted that the pool should wait for the second phase of Mayfield West.

In supporting the pool option, councillor Nick deBoer said it’s good to listen to consultant, but they also have to keep in mind what the community has asked for.

Proud Great-Nanny of Toby, Anna, and Clara. Beloved sister of Margaret, Larry, and Katy (deceased). Maureen was born November 3rd, 1932, in Toronto, and maintained a strong faith with the Roman Catholic Church, and was a member for more than 50 years with Catholic Women's League. Maureen was a very creative soul, with a passion for fashion, sewing, and art. She would never be seen without a project in progress, whether it be needlepoint or quilt, and was a lifelong member of The Canadian Quilt Guild. Maureen never missed the annual Quilt Canada Conferences, and travelled across Canada to participate. Maureen also pursued her interest in history and urban planning. When her children were in high school, she attended Humber College, and landed a career with Region of Peel Planning, where she worked for several years. Maureen was a giver, and always put others first. She attended nursing in 1953 at St. Michael's, but a young handsome man from Weston named Gordon swept her off her feet. In September 1954 Maureen and Gordon married. They settled in Toronto Gore and raised a family of five children. After 27 years, they relocated to Woodbridge. Maureen brought joy to every life she touched. Her warm smile, caring nature, unwavering love for her family, sense of humour and laughter will be remembered by all who knew her. The family would like to thank the staff of Hawthorn Woods Community Care and CCU staff at Brampton Civic Hospital for their compassion and care. Maureen, you are loved and we miss you. JOHN DEREK PUGSLEY P.Eng.

Raconteur, Polymath, Early Adopter, World Traveller

It is with great sadness that the family of J. Derek Pugsley announce his death in his 87th year at Orangeville on January 5th, 2017 after a very brief illness. Born in Montreal in 1930, Derek grew up in the Town of Mount Royal and North Toronto, graduating with an electrical engineering degree from the University of Toronto in 1952. Recruited by Canadian and US firms, he decided to remain in his beloved Canada and worked for over thirty five years at Canadian General Electric in management in the broadcast, mobile radio, central air-conditioning, information services, and corporate planning fields before becoming Vice President of Chubb Security Systems in Toronto. After retirement he formed Inquix, an information services consulting company, and became a well-known independent information professional. Derek's interests were extremely wide ranging and embraced all aspects of knowledge, including humour, music, medicine, science, history and above all technology. He was famous for his wit, and infamous for his puns.

In Montreal in 1955 Derek married the true love of his life, Anne Corbett. They became devoted spouses, parents, grandparents and great grandparents, and were inseparable until Anne's death in January of 2014. Together they raised five strong and independent minded children in Baie d'Urfe, Quebec, and Port Credit and Caledon, Ontario. Anne and Derek travelled the world together, embracing every continent and returning with endless wide eyed observations, stories and photographs.

Derek was predeceased by his parents, Edmund Lee Pugsley and Annie Margaret Griffin, and by his sister Joan Pugsley Mann. He is survived by his sister Linda Heron, and by many nieces, nephews and cousins.

Derek was the amazing father of five children - Bruce (Karen 2010), Susan Boon (Paul), Judith Phillips (Bruce), Carol (Rose Marie MacLennan) and Joanne â€• and the doting grandfather of fifteen: Sarah, Colin and Rachel Pugsley; Alexandra and Victoria Boon; Ian, Andrea, Hannah and Isaac Phillips; Elizabeth, Amanda (Chris Legault) and Jessica Pinhey; and Joshua, Emma and Tessa Pugsley. Derek was the great-grandfather of Eliot (Ellie) Legault and (soon to be) Mason Legault, and their half-sister Kerri Madden. Derek is also fondly remembered by his step-grandchildren Jarrod (Lisa), Craig (Stephanie) and Adam (Laura) Boon.

Derek will be greatly missed by his sister in law Barbara Prinn and family, by close friends Claire and Graham Watts, by Bruce's companion Deborah McLean, and by an incredibly wide circle of friends gathered over his entire lifetime.

Visitation will take place at Dods and McNair Funeral Home and Chapel, 21 First Street, Orangeville, Ontario, on Thursday, January 12th from 2 to 4 pm and 7 to 9 pm. A Celebration of Derek's amazing life will be held on Friday, January 13th, 2017, at 11 am at the Dods and McNair chapel and will be available live streamed on video.

In lieu of flowers donations to Headwaters Health Care Foundation in Orangeville, to Westminster United Church of Orangeville, or to a charity of choice, would be much appreciated by Derek's family.

A tree will be planted in memory of Derek in the Dods and McNair Memorial Forest at Island Lake Conservation Area, Orangeville. A dedication ceremony will be held on Sunday, September 10, 2017 at 2:30 pm.

Condolences may be offered to the family at www.dodsandmcnair.com

Minister said word coming on GTA West Corridor 'in the relatively near future' lands known as Option 3, also known as the Go Station Focus option.

In the end, Groves was the only Caledon councillor supporting Option 6.

Mayor Thompson was disappointed, but not surprised with the way things went, but he said the matter is not finished, as the Town can still appeal to the Ontario Municipal Board (OMB).

"That's where it's going," he said. "That's where we're going to have the battle."

It was announced that news on the GTA West Corridor and the proposed highway running along it was coming, and soon, but there was no word on exactly when.

That word came from Transportation Minister Steven Del Duca, who addressed a gathering of the Dufferin-Caledon Provincial Liberal Association.

"I don't have any update act this point of time," the Minister was quick to state when the issue was mentioned to him.

"I expect to have an update from them in the relatively near future," he said, adding he had no further time frame to offer

"I understand the concern and impatience," he added, pointing out residents, affected municipalities and other stakeholders are anxious to know what's coming.

Caledon council ended the year by ratifying the 2017 budget that called for a 4.67 per cent increase in the Town's share of the municipal tax bill. But when those figures were combined with the tax increase approved by Peel Regional council two weeks ago, Caledon residents are going to pay 2.45 per cent more. Assuming there will be no increase in the taxes collected by the local school boards (that won't be known until the spring), acting treasurer Heather Haire said the total bill will be going up by $112.87 for the average Caledon home assessed at $522,000.

Joe Roberts brought his Push for Change campaign to Caledon.

He was greeted at Town Hall by Mayor Allan Thompson and Town staff, representatives of Caledon OPP and students from Robert F. Hall Catholic Secondary School.

The campaign is aimed at increasing awareness of youth homelessness, which he experienced in his younger days.

"I was kind of unlucky that homelessness ever needed to happen in Canada," he said. "Homelessness is a big problem because we don't engage in prevention."
