

Earth Hour marked in Caledon

There were a few events held in Caledon Saturday night to help mark the annual Earth Hour. People gathered at the Albion Hills Field Centre for an evening of activities that included a nocturnal nature walk and activities around the bonfire.

People gathered at Palgrave United Church for activities that included some time star gazing, with the surrounding lights darkened. Photos by Bill Rea