

LEONETTE OPENS IN BOLTON

Nadia Abouzeid and her son Mohamed Mansi were cutting the ribbon recently to officially open Leonette. Located at the southwest corner of Queen and King Streets in Bolton, the store carries women's casual and evening wear, including a European summer collection. "It's unique," she said. "It's not something that you can find anywhere in Canada." Abouzeid said she's been in this line about 25 years, getting her start in Egypt. She chose Bolton to open her business because she has a lot of friends in the community. "We love Bolton," she said. "We feel comfortable." Photo by Bill Rea
