

Lots of crafts at Knox Church

A wide variety of crafts were on display recently at the annual Craft and Bake Sale at Knox United Church in Caledon village. Karen Skimeart of Etobicoke and Michelle Windross of Caledon village are Two Friends with a Hook (and a needle). They were showing a collection of crocheted and felted handmade items.

Mackenzie Cartwright, 10, of Mono was browsing through some of the doll's fashions made by Mae Desrocher of Inglewood.

Linda Gilbert of Mississauga was flanked by her sister Lucie and her daughter Justine Feltham as they were selling a selection of knitted and crocheted items. All proceeds from their sales were to go to ALS Ontario. Photos by Bill Rea
