

Man dies after crash on Highway 9

A Caledon man has died after a July 20 crash on Highway 9.

Caledon OPP reports Thomas Edward Simpson, 88, died Sunday of injuries he received in the mishap, which police are still investigating.

They report they were called to the scene, between Airport Road and Humber Station Road at about 5:30 last Monday. The preliminary investigation has revealed that the driver of a westbound Chevrolet crossed the centre line and struck an eastbound Pontiac, driven by Simpson.

The investigation is still on-going.
