

Miracle Treat Day coming to Orangeville Dairy Queen

By Brian Lockhart

Miracle Treat Day is returning to Orangeville today to continue the 21-year tradition of helping make miracles happen for children and their families.

When you buy a Blizzard Treat sold on Miracle Treat Day, the net proceeds of every Blizzard sold will go directly to the local children's hospital foundation. DQ will donate the funds raised at participating locations, including Orangeville, to the SickKids Foundation ? one of 12 Children's Miracle Network hospital foundations across Canada.

In 2022, local children's hospitals across Canada delivered care to children through more than three million in-person and virtual visits.

DQ employees, franchisees, volunteers and stakeholders come together throughout the year to help raise funds that allow children's hospitals to provide the best care possible.

Since the partnership began 39 years ago in 1984, DQ has become a top contributor to Children's Miracle Network, with over $48 million raised to date in Canada.

Miracle Treat Day takes place today ? Thursday, August. 10.

Visit the local DQ to enjoy a Blizzard Treat and know the purchase will go toward the SickKids Foundation.
