

Need for speed puts car in impound

A black Pontiac was pulled off the road for a week and the driver charged after a Caledon OPP officer spotted a case of excessive speeding.

Police report the officer was conducting traffic enforcement July 17 on Olde Base Line Road and noticed the car travelling at 141 km-h in a posted 80 zone.

A 67-year-old man from Vaughan was charged with racing a motor vehicle.